BAPTIST TEAM DEFEATED

The Roseburg-Legion ball team at night defeated the Baptist team at the Twilight League grounds, the score being 9 to 3. The team was hitting the ball hard, and Hewitt, pitching for the Legion, was pounded heavily. Booth, playing the mound for the Legion, pitched a good game, and few were gathered off his delivery.

WILL WOMEN CREATE
NEW DIPLOMACY?Anyway This Modern
International Doctor Would Put Up Attractive Doses.

When Dorothy Terriss, American girl, one lucky day fished the words of "Three O'Clock in the Morning" right out of the soda as she washed the supper dishes, she never expected it to rank her among international diplomats.

But just the same, a few weeks later, a statesman attending an important international conference labelled the little song, for which Julian Robledo, Englishman, wrote the melody, "a link in international friendship forging."

"International songs would be a woman's way of practicing diplomacy every time," Miss Terriss declares. "English young people singing American popular songs and American young people dancing to English music can't help making for British-American friendship, now can it?"

"And while we're about it, wouldn't it be interesting if The Hague conference would get up some nice German tunes with French lyrics or Russian words to Japanese music, just by way of providing for the general understanding and promoting the common peace?"

ANNUAL MEETING
LOAN ASSOCIATION

Report of Secretary Shows
Very Healthy Condition and Substantial Growth.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Earnings Nearly Nine Per Cent for Past Year--Value of Each Share of Stock $74.13 at Close of Five Year Period.

The fifth annual meeting of the Umpqua Savings & Loan Association was held at the office of the secretary, H. O. Pargeter, last evening, a goodly number of stockholders being present to hear the annual report for the year just closed, also to take part in naming three directors to serve the association, the terms of B. W. Bates, Guy Cordon and E. N. Ewart having expired, as well as to elect an auditing committee for the coming year. The old directors were unanimously re-elected to serve the association for another term, as was also the auditing committee consisting of Henry Harth, James Ewart and S. D. Evans.

Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Umpqua Savings & Loan Association held this morning the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: E. N. Ewart, president; B. W. Bates, vice president; H. O. Pargeter, secretary; Joseph Micell, treasurer. Attorney Geo. Neuner was again appointed by the directors to act as attorney for the association. M. E. Ritter, Guy Cordon and W. F. Harris were chosen to continue in their official capacity as appraisers.

The annual report of the secretary shows the affairs of the association to be in a very healthy condition. Not a single loan issued during the past five years has gone by default and all stock in the association earned eight and two-thirds per cent interest for the year just closed. The value of each share of stock, figured from the date of the formation of the association is valued at $74.13 at the close of the five year period.

The association has been responsible for financing many new homes in Roseburg as well as a number of business structures. People of moderate means who could not otherwise make advantage of the association's liberal policy of dealing with its stockholders and in a few years will have their places completely free from all incumbrances. Loans are made on monthly payments, the loan value of each share of stock held by stockholders is $200.

Following is the full report of the secretary submitted to the stockholders last evening and approved by the auditing committee.

BIRD'S "NEST" REALLY RAFT

Water-Hen Prefers Floating Home--Classed by Some Naturalists as a Land Creature.

You know the green weed that grows in great patches on any rocky shore. We call it seaweed, but really it is a land plant which for some strange reason has taken to the sea.

The water-hen is one of the most interesting examples of such curious transfers. Everyone knows this bird, with its red beak, its long dangling legs, and its white tail. As you walk along the bank of a stream, it starts up suddenly with a fearful fuss, flapping its wings and beating the water with its feet. Finally it manages to rise into the air, and moves off with a lumbering flight.

Though it is more at home on the water than in the air, or on dry land, the water-hen is really a land bird. Apparently it discovered centuries ago that food was easier to obtain in ponds and streams, and decided to adopt an aquatic life. Its feet are not webbed, but it has learned to swim and dive as well as duck.

The water-hen's nest consists of a raft as big as the top of a barrel, and is made of rushes and twigs anchored to the stems of water plants. Sometimes it is not moored at all, and the parents follow it about as it drifts over the surface of a pond. London Tit-Bits.

Peace Convention of 1861.

The peace convention is the name given to a convention held in Washington on the invitation of Virginia in February, 1861, just before the outbreak of the Civil war, for the purpose of arranging a peaceful settlement of the difficulties between the North and South. Fourteen free states and seven slave states were represented and each state was allowed only a single vote. Ex-President Tyler presided over the convention. A committee upon which each of the 21 states was represented submitted a report recommending the adoption of certain specified amendments to the federal Constitution. The amendments urged generally favored the South, but were not wholly satisfactory to either section and were not favorably received by either house of congress.

Cooking for a King.

Next to Yellowstone lake the highest navigable body of water in North America is Lake Patzcuaro, in the Mexican state of Michoacan, which has been called "a crystal goblet held high in the cool grip of the Sierras." The town of Patzcuaro was the seat of the old Tarascan kings, and in its plaza women and boys still sit beside their fires at night, selling vegetables in sacks, says the New York Evening Post. Fishermen from the lures that cling to the steep sides of the lake islands are picturesque figures in the streets. Once when a great king moved from Patzcuaro across the lake to Iguaquillo--where now are pyramids and a ruined amphitheater--he left his royal kitchen behind, but not wishing to change his diet, he had a train of very fat slaves carry his meals 18 miles around the lake shore from the ovens at the court.

Alligators and Crocodiles.

Alligators differ from crocodiles mainly in having relatively broad snouts and by the circumstance that as a rule the first and fourth tooth on each side of the lower jaw enter into pits in the upper jaw, whereas those of crocodiles slide outside of the jaw and are visible.

GOOD RESULTS

PORTLAND WOMAN TELLS OF REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE WITH TANLAC, SAYING IT BROUGHT HER COMPLETE RELIEF ON TWO SEPARATE OCCASIONS.

"I have taken Tanlac on two occasions and I got complete relief each time," declared Mrs. E. C. Emerick, 1484 Boston Ave., Portland, Ore. "I suffered with stomach trouble four years, with sour stomach and sick, nervous headaches. Often I got so dizzy I could hardly stand up. I seldom ate as much all day as one of my children did at a meal. I always felt awfully tired out and my nerves were so upset I couldn't even stand the noise of the children playing."

"But I finally took Tanlac and it gave me back my appetite, corrected the sour stomach, stopped the nervous headaches and dizzy spells, and I also gained eleven pounds in weight. 'Well, I just felt fine after that until I had the flu' which left me run down and very weak and nervous. So I just got Tanlac again. Now I have regained all my lost weight and feel just fine. I simply can't praise Tanlac too highly."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

To "Educate" Wine Drinkers.

English palates, long noted for their appreciation of fine old wines, are in danger of deterioration because of the lower price of vintages, according to a group of prominent wine merchants who propose an English "wine week," in emulation of the French custom. Wine, they declare, is no longer a luxury, as the lower price has brought it within reach of all.

The purposes of wine week, it is said, will be to educate the English taste for wines and also to instruct diners in the elementary rules and traditional usages of beverage selections. It is planned to gather a representative group of speakers and writers to sing the praises of wine and to tell those who would learn how to drink it. The merchants expect substantial assistance from the governments of wine-producing countries, such as France, Italy, Spain and Australia.
