

FOURTH OF JULY

CELEBRATE IN ROSEBURG

AS YOU'VE NEVER CELEBRATED BEFORE

SEE the romantic story of THE REVOLUTION and the causes which led up to AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE.

"CARDIGAN" tells the most thrilling tale of the most wonderful thing that ever happened in American history. It shows the great American patriots, JOHN HANCOCK, signing the Declaration of Independence; PAUL REVERE, whose call to arms stirred the countryside; PATRICK HENRY uttering the words that made American History.

Every parent should allow their children the privilege of seeing this great 100 per cent American showing on Independence Day. In one sweep it will teach more about American history than many of your text books could.

GETS TWO HOMERS

(By Associated Press.) PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—Babe Ruth slammed out two home-runs today, making 10 for the season.

The Weatherford Apartments are close in and are considered among the best in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Murray expect to improve the building and put the rooms in first class shape. They will then furnish two apartments upstairs and offer them for rent. Mr. and Mrs. Murray were former residents here but have been away from Roseburg for a number of years.

AROUND THE TOWN.

All kinds of cement work. Basements, floors and walks. Tom Morris, Tel. 444-L.

Returned From Conventions

Mrs. J. B. Needham, who has been attending a missionary convention for the past week at Stevensville, Montana, has returned to her home in this city.

Mrs. S. O. Russell, chief operator of the local exchange, left here today for Eugene where she will spend the Fourth of July. Miss Mattie Perry will leave here tomorrow to join Mrs. Russell. They expect to return here on Wednesday morning.

Leave For Eastern Visit

H. B. Church, one of Roseburg's city letter carriers, left today for a visit at his old home in Ohio. His three sons will accompany him. It will be his first trip there for twenty years. He plans to be absent about six weeks.

In Serious Condition

Virgil Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clayton, of Tyeo, who was hit by a piece of flying stump while blasting, a few days ago, is in a serious condition at the Mercy hospital. The accident occurred Tuesday and Mr. Clayton's condition is still very serious. He received a bad fracture of the skull.

Moving To Roseburg

Mrs. Fred Strang and two children, William Charles and Mary Lee, will arrive here tomorrow from Medford to join Mr. Strang. They will locate here permanently and are moving their household goods to this city. Mrs. Strang's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Small, will also make their home in this city. Mrs. Small last year completed 35 years service with the U. S. government in Washington, D. C. They will make their home in one of the Lester Bell houses on South Main street.

Beautiful Beach Cape

The charge that Fashion seeks her effects through the odd, the bizarre or grotesque, can hardly be sustained when one considers the alluring costumes with which she dots the present day beach scenes. Here, Fashion's effects are secured through the dictates of common sense and utility. And this has become possible not only since woman's emancipation from senseless restrictions in dress, but because of the rapid strides that have recently been made in the perfection of knitted outerwear. The art of knitting, which has made deep inroads into the woven field, has shown than in its beach garments, its bathing suits and capes.

Freedom in swimming, combined with a grace of form, has been made possible by the new and winning styles in bathing suits. Then there is beauty of line and color, especially color, in the new beach capes. For those intervals between dips, when one enjoys the welcome warmth of the sun while lounging on the sand, or during the passage to and from the bathing house, what could be more alluring than the colorful capes that are being worn these days by women who know! Pretty, practical and graceful, the beach cape is a notable addition to the modern beach scene.

Open Air Dance Tonight

The block on Oak street between Jackson and Main streets was roped off this afternoon and the baseball field dance committee started the work of decorating for the big open air dance to be staged there tonight. Paraffine was placed on the pavement to fit for dancing and the orchestra platform was arranged. A large number of electric lights have been strung across the street and chairs will be provided for the dancers and spectators. A fine orchestra has been secured for the dance and the baseball team should realize a neat sum from the affair.

AIRPLANES LEAVE

The airplane piloted by Captain Lowell H. Smith, and which made a forced landing a few days ago, and the other plane which brought repair parts from San Francisco, took off this morning. They circled the city for a short time while climbing to a good altitude, and then went on for San Francisco.

STUDENTS PLIED WITH RUM.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 30.—Laxity in the enforcement of the federal prohibition law and the sale of intoxicating liquor to children of school age is open defiance of law by resort owners at Placerville, a beach town in San Luis Obispo county, have created a condition that is proving "ruinous" to the boys and girls attending the Arroyo Grande Union high school, according to complaints lodged with the state board of education here today by officials of the school.

W. C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction also announced today that a number of complaints have been received by him lately regarding the illicit sale of liquor to state.

Are You Wasting Good Seed?

HAPHAZARD seeding is both wasteful and expensive. Merely dropping the grain into the ground does not assure a full crop—it requires even distribution at a uniform depth. The Amsco Tractor Drill distributes the grain evenly at the bottom of the drill furrow where quick germination is assured. The Amsco is built for work and long, hard service. Constructed with steel frame and axle and extra strong steel or wood wheels. Made in plain grain and combined grain and fertilizer styles. You will find it the drill you need on your farm. Manufactured exclusively for use with the Fordson Tractor by The American Seeding Machine Company, Springfield, Ohio.

Moon Cake Day Chinese Festival.

September 11 is a great day for all good Chinamen, for then occurs the feast of the Moon Cakes. The festival lasts all day and all night, and is celebrated by the eating of cakes made in the shape of the moon and liberally sprinkled with all sorts of seeds. All the Chinese grocers in the United States sell packages of these cakes, and the very poorest resident of Chinatown considers himself bound by the faith of his fathers to purchase at least one package.

The greater number of cakes purchased the greater is considered the purchaser's respect for the night's chief luminary, and some very black fate is believed to be reserved for the Chinaman who fails to eat a cake before the festival is over. This doom is expected to fall upon him before next Moon Cake.

Kipling as a Stret Musician.

Kipling's verse, even where it is not slang, is rarely poetry, but it is, for the most part, clean and neat in its rhythmic swing, well adapted for the purpose of the music halls, easy to remember, even without tune, praise-worthy in its control of the means of clarity, and, in short, a genuine article of its kind. Kipling is like a practiced musician in that strange orchestra which we sometimes see in the street, clinging around one performer; he nods his head, and the bells tinkle about his pagoda-shaped hat; he stamps his foot, and the drumstick bumps the drum and sets the cymbals clapping on his back, and all the while he is playing the concertina with both his hands and perhaps blowing into a panpipe with his mouth. —Arthur Symonds, in London Quarterly Review.

Quaint Custom.

A quaint custom is still maintained in one of the old streets of the Strand, the London Times reports. This is the burning of a light in the hall of one of the houses all through the night when everybody is abed. This light has a history, and marks an ancient privilege and bygone right-of-way. The light is maintained by the Westminster council and not by the tenants of the house. The lamp-lighter enters at twilight and kindles the light, and on his round in the early morning he re-enters with a latchkey and extinguishes it. The light is the remaining symbol of a right-of-way formerly enjoyed by residents in the street to proceed to a spring of water in the basement, which was once their sole water supply.

One Hundred and Fifty Workers Quit Their Job

although not a wheel turned. His position is not included in those of the strikers, and he will remain on duty.

Charles Harpeter, assistant general foreman, will remain in charge of the shops. He belongs to the foremen's organization which has not been called out. E. S. Deardorff, the general foreman, is in California, but will return Monday.

The next move will probably be in the form of an ultimatum issued by the railroad company calling upon the men to return to work, and citing penalties in the result of failure to do so. When this ultimatum is ignored an attempt to break the strike will probably be undertaken.

The shopmen out today include mechanics and their helpers, carmen and helpers, pipemen, electricians and other branches of shop labor. The maintenance of way men are expected to be called out later, their organization meeting Monday for the purpose of deciding the action to be taken.

Strike Will Not Delay Trains

tribute your share towards the necessary return to normal conditions. Let me assure you that employees who remain loyally at work if the strike is called and the new men who come in to help will be fully protected in their work and rights.

Those who quit should have the full knowledge that they have nothing to gain and everything to lose because the actions of the labor body will be upheld by public opinion and there are many good men among the ranks of the unemployed who are ready to take their privileges and most cases their families will be forced to suffer with them. Let me suggest that you now give very serious consideration as to the action you should take as an independent individual and its probable effect upon the future of yourself and family after which I am of the firm belief that you will decide that it is to your best interests to remain in the service of the company.

The Millinery department of the Bellows store will be closed until the middle of August. Mrs. W. W. Gray.

AUTHOR OF "SOUTH OF SUVA" HAS REALLY LIVED THERE

Ewart Adamson, author of "South of Suva," the latest release of Mary Miles Minter, the Redart star, knows the atmosphere and traditions of the South Sea Islands from having worked for five years as assistant general manager of a twelve thousand-acre coconut plantation. His story, therefore, filmed under his constant supervision, is full of authentic details, which have never been seen in any other South Sea drama.

"South of Suva" will open at the Antlers Saturday.
