MAGICIANS DEFY DOYLE'S CLAIMS

(International News Service.) LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Los Angeles psychologists promise to make Dr. Herwood Carrington, Arthur Conan Doyle and other magicians who enthusiastically purport to see spirits with the camera, but with the gun, look like a bunch of amateur parlor entertainers.

Local psychics modestly assert they can see as much as Sir Arthur. They claim that they can equal the stunt of Carrington, of the American Mental Institute, who is engaged in making a camera study of the soul.

It is likely that the challenge, extended to Sir Arthur by the Los Angeles Society of Magicians, to the effect that the slight-of-hand men duplicate anything the British psychic will show them, will be taken by a prophet in our own land.

The question was asked today: here but in Los Angeles is there any equipment to satisfy the most skeptical skeptic who ever clamored for a close-up?

In discussing his experiments in motion photography, Dr. Guyart today explained to a dazed throng the principles underlying "astral bodies," began Dr. Boyle, "vibrate at a wave length which ordinary eye and ear cannot see. Physical matter will catch or reflect light rays so that the camera records it. The psychic may be considered as a receiving instrument, tuned to catch the greater wave length of vibration. That is, the medium has the power of furnishing the distance known as ectoplasm, from which the ethereal body can be built so that it may be seen by the ordinary eye or recorded by an ordinary photographic plate. The same principle governs astral motion photography.

The reason Dr. Carrington, of the American Psychological Institute in New York, is conducting his photographic experiments with a cat is because cats possess astral vision and see things humans can't. Hence the expression, 'cat-fit.' Hence the photograph is produced by a simple 'double exposure' process, with which all picture fans are familiar.

ARCHDEACON BLACK, WHO WAS EXPECTED TO HOLD SERVICES AT THE ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH SUNDAY, WILL BE UNABLE TO DO SO.

"I used to prepare a negative with caustic potassium which caused the plate to become porous and retain part of the first picture on it, even though the plate was rubbed. Then I'd take a second picture on top of the first one. Result: Spooks!"

MAKE CORRECTION—

In last evening's article of the Rebekah installation, it states that Mrs. Tillie J. Johnson is vice-president of the Rebekah assembly, while this office is held by Mrs. Edythe Kelley. Mrs. Johnson acted as district deputy grand marshal.

Masonic Picnic to Be Tomorrow

The first annual picnic given by Laurel Lodge and Roseburg chapter of the Eastern Star will be celebrated tomorrow afternoon and evening at Hilton's grove.

The chairman of the committees have reported that everything will be in readiness as originally planned. Free Johnson and W. F. Harris have been gathering material for an abundance of good ice cream. Dean Lubar will wear the chef's cap, and his able assistants report that the coffee will be steaming hot and will be served in a cafeteria, and all that those attending will have to do is to walk up to his stand and take it away.

The woodyard committee consisting of Wallace, Roser, Lubar and Wood are now busy gathering sufficient fuel for the chef and bonfire committee. Chief master-mechanic Ryan promises to have a couple of tables and Morris chairs for the chairman and committee members so that they can work faster and not keep the people waiting for service.

Joe Dean, head of the truck brigade, says that he wants everything ready to put on the truck at 5 o'clock sharp, and those having equipment to take out, had better see that their material is loaded on time.

Yard-masters Giles and Judd will look after the parking of the cars so that no one will have difficulty in getting out.

Mr. Peterson and his assistants will have several sets of horseshoes ready for the ambitious members in order to work off their surplus energy and win a prize.

Charles McElhinny will be there with his song sheets and a 2x4 for a baton, and any of those attending, and not singing, will not receive an ice cream or coffee check.

Mrs. Runyan, worthy matron of the Eastern Star, is getting up a good program and Hon. O. P. Co-show will take part in this, together with several others. Myrtle Creek will be represented by its banker, Guy R. Bates.

Everybody having an automobile or a Ford is urged to carry as many as they possibly can, and not leave any of those desiring to go, at home. This is their part of making the event a success, as the committee has found it impossible to arrange transportation in any other way.

VISITORS AT THE AUTO CAMP GROUNDS

Short Stories of the Strangers Who Stop in Their Journey Along the Highway.

The tent-houses which Mr. Young has erected at the local camp grounds are being looked at, enviously by a number of local people, who have been securing the city in vain for a vacant house. Mr. Young has been approached by a number of people who desire to rent these tents by the month or longer, and he says he would probably have no trouble in renting twenty or more of these tents to local people. One man who has his family here while he is employed as a truck driver on the Roseburg-Willbur contract, is erecting a tent-house for himself, as he expects to be here for about three months.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Campbell and family, of Seattle, who spent last night here, are enroute to Cuba and points along the Atlantic seaboard.

MONKEYS IN THE SENATE AND OUT OF IT

By KENNETH W. CLARK, (United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, July 13.—The senate has entered the show business. "Smiling Jim" Watson, of Indiana, assisted by Senator McCumber, North Dakota, and members of the finance committee, is chief "barker" and exhibitor.

During the long, tedious debates on the tariff Watson and McCumber originated the idea of illustrating the effect of tariff rates by bringing articles into the senate for exhibition. The "Senate Sideshow" includes everything from a toy monkey to the latest design in foreign made shot-guns.

Other exhibits consists of cuckoo clocks, watches, padlocks, bird cages, electric hair dryers, cabbage seeds, beads, towels, handkerchiefs, knives, canes, carving sets, thermos bottles, pearl necklaces, straw hats, curling irons, pipes, suit cases, plates and blankets.

The toy monkey exhibit drew unusual attention, both from the republican and democratic sides, and afforded a packed gallery with considerable amusement.

After telling the senate of the wide difference in American and foreign prices on a long list of articles, Watson picked up the stuffed monkey and looking straight at Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, declared:

"Now I come to something which will excite the risibilities of my good friend from Mississippi. He has examined it carefully and I thought he might be interested in the address that William Jennings Bryan has been making in which Bryan is attempting to convince the American people that there is nothing to the theory of evolution and that neither he nor his ancestors descended from the monkey in accordance with the Darwinian theory of evolution."

"I will say to my friend from Mississippi," Watson continued, "that I have a very intention at all of saying anything about the ancestry of the democratic party and that he need not have given himself such great concern by coming over to my desk and examining this article; but had our mutual friend, William Jennings Bryan any idea of the vast profit made out of the stuffed imitation of a monkey, I do not think he would have taken such great umbrage at the thought of our descent from the real simian article."

"The foreign cost was 19 cents;

the landed cost was 31 cents; the retail cost was $2; the spread between the foreign cost and the retail price was 92 per cent; the spread between the landed cost and the retail price was 545 per cent."

"I think if facts can prove anything," Watson continued, "I have shown, first, with respect to the cost of production abroad, that its very cheapness is something with which we cannot compete, and in the absence of a protective tariff American industry would be undermined and destroyed."

Watson has stage managed three "tariff productions." In the next show he plans to train a number of additional "senator-actors" for a pageant, with each senator carrying some foreign-made article around the chamber.

Rebekahs to Motor to Kelley's Korner

Several auto loads of members of the Rebekah lodge of this city will motor out to Kelley's Korner this evening where they will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Edythe Kelley, vice-president of the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon. The occasion is Mrs. Kelley's birthday anniversary, and to commemorate the day, she invited the local lodge to motor out and enjoy a pleasant evening on the beautiful lawn surrounding the Kelley home. The evening will be informal and a dainty luncheon will be served.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Directors of Consolidated School District No. 12, Glade, Oregon, 2 p. m., July 23, 1934, for the erection and completion of a Public School Building, according to plans and specifications prepared by Chas. H. Jorgensen, architect, Albany, Oregon. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check, payable to "Consolidated School District No. 12, Glade, Oregon," for the sum of $200, as a guarantee that the contractor will furnish an approval bond equal to 50 per cent of the contract within ten days after the awarding of the contract. Contractors are required to deposit $25 as a guarantee to return plans at time agreed upon, and the lowest bidder will be required to furnish references satisfactory to the board.

All bids must be made out on blank proposals for this sum. Blanket furnished upon application by the architect. Plans and specifications may be seen at County School Superintendent's office, Roseburg, Record Abstract Office, Portland, Oregon, or at Architect's office.

The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. By order of School Board No. 12, Glade, Oregon.
