Mysterious Illness Causes Death

He broke down under the strain and was forced to curtail his tour. On his return to Europe the doctors took him in charge again. But he refused once more to listen to them.

He became very erratic. He went to Germany, disguised, to study conditions there. He severely criticized in public the action of his subordinates on the Daily Mail, in agreeing with other publishers to reduce wages. Two of the members of the board of directors of the Daily Mail started libel suits against him. His condition alarmed his relatives and he was finally persuaded to give up all work and submit to medical treatment. But he refused to do so. His heart became affected and the end soon. He died practically as he had lived, at his desk. Northcliffe is survived by his wife, to whom he was married in 1888. He had no children. His principal heir is expected to be his nephew, Honorable Edmund Harmsworth, son of Lord Rothermere.

Prune Growers Fix Wage Rates

Wages of 6 cents a bushel will be paid prune pickers, and a bonus of 2 cents will be paid those who remain through the season, prune growers decided Saturday evening in their annual meeting for fixing uniform wage rates.

Loyal Emery was made chairman of the meeting, and M. B. Green was selected for secretary. After considerable discussion it was decided that 6 cents a bushel would be a fair price, while the bonus will insure pickers staying throughout the season. The prune growers were not represented, but as the crop is light, the matter was left to the individual growers as to the price to be paid. Trayer men will be paid $4 a day, and dealer men $5 a day. In each case the workmen will board themselves. Tree shakers will be paid $3.50 a day with a bonus of 50 cents a day if they remain through the season. The matter of pooling the crop was discussed and a committee was appointed to confer and work out a suitable plan. This committee is composed of John Thorne, A. P. Stearns, L. B. Skinner, H. A. Winston, R. R. Clarke and J. L. Shumbrook.

The growers are greatly concerned by the heavy drop now taking place in prices. In some sections the drop is as high as 20 percent, and the indications are that the drop is apt to result in a heavy loss.

Back From Trip To Diamond Lake

Fred A. Goff and wife, and J. A. Peterson and wife returned last night from a trip to Crater Lake National Park and to Diamond Lake. The roads are good and travel is heavy. Mr. Goff reports. The forest service road from Diamond Lake to the rim of the Crater is in fine shape and over 1000 visitors have been registered up to Aug. 10.

"Diamond Lake is Douglas county's playground," Mr. Goff says, "and should never be allowed to go into Crater Lake Park. If it should be made a part of the park restrictions will be so great that all value to the people of Douglas county and the state at large will be eliminated. It would also eliminate grazing opportunities which are now being used by many stockmen. Fishing is excellent and work on the permanent hatchery is progressing rapidly."

Another production record. All previous production records of the Ford Motor Company were ordered smashed during the month of May when a 120,000 car schedule was called for. This means a new car turned out every six and one-half hours for twenty-seven and one-half working days. The highest previous record was 109,000 cars in one month. Republicans Hold Meeting Today

A thorough organization of the republican party and an active campaign in the interests of the party and its candidates for various offices is demanded by Walter L. Tooez, Jr., chairman of the state republican central committee, who spoke this afternoon at a gathering of republican workers at the court house. The attendance at the meeting was not as large as desired because of the inability of many of the precinct committeemen to attend, owing to the pressure of their work on their farms and business places. There was, however, a representative gathering, and much interest was shown in the plans as outlined by the state chairman.

The party, Mr. Tooez says, must show a loyalty to its candidates and must put forth a real effort to carry through a straight ticket. There is a great necessity, he says, for a strong republican platform on which all candidates can stand and which can receive the endorsement and support of the republican workers everywhere.

There is no room in the party this year for drones, Mr. Tooez says. It is a year when all must work and members of the organization who are not willing to work should get out of the harness and let live-wire men and women take their places. There must be no sidestepping of issues but the entire program must go forward on a clear-cut and clean platform.

Mr. Tooez charges the democratic candidate, Walter Pierce, with being a professional "straddler," and says that the democratic candidate is quite adept at handling both sides of an issue with equal ease.

Tonight a banquet is to be given at the Umpqua hotel and from indications it will be a very successful affair. C. S. Hehlne has charge of this event, and states that a large number of tickets have been spoken for. Mr. Tooez will speak in more detail this evening, and will give further plans for the campaign.

Roseburg Defeats Yoncalla Team

The "unbeatable" Yoncalla baseball team yesterday suffered defeat at the hands of the Roseburg boys in a fast ten-inning game by a score of 6 to 5.

The grandstand and the sidelines at the Laurelwood ball park were crowded to capacity, and the home team was cheered to an echo when the winning run was scored in the last half of the tenth inning.

Taggart and Devine formed the Roseburg battery, both playing wonderful baseball with 100 percent support. Taggart retired after eight innings of real pitching, and Irvin Street took his place in the pitcher's box with the score tied 5 to 5.

Street pitched first-class baseball and was credited with the victory. He also pitched a clean hit during the game.

Turpin, the youthful Yoncalla pitcher, was no slouch, and he had the Roseburg bats breaking their backs at his speedy curves.

Roseburg was in the lead for the first few innings and scored five runs, but the Yoncalla boys put forth almost superhuman efforts and squeezed enough runs across the plate to tie the score. The fight was then on, and it looked at times as though both sides would score. Finally, in the last half of the tenth, through overthrows by Yoncalla, a Roseburg man scored for home and secured, and the crowds leaped into the air and yelled like a tribe of Indians.

It was a fast game, and Roseburg was entitled to their victory.

The comedy of the game took place when a scratch hit landed in some trees and was apparently lost. The base runner saw a chance to score and started home, but before he reached the plate the fielder slammed the ball to the catcher, and the runner was called out. The Yoncalla players protested, stating that the ball was substituted, but a search for the "lost" ball brought no results and the victors were awarded the "razzberry" by the fans.

RAINS IMPROVE ROADS

George Bryant, of the Coast Auto Lines, says that the recent rains have greatly improved the Roseburg-Coos Bay road. The deep dust has been settled and the road generally made better. The stakes are making the trip in much better time and a great deal of the discomforts of the trip have been removed.

RAILROAD WORKER KILLED AT RICE HILL

Jackson Carter of Merlin Is Instantly Killed When Struck By Engine.

HEAD CUT FROM BODY

Engineer Reports That Engine Was
Backing Around Curve at a Slow Rate of Speed When the Accident Happened.

Jackson Carter, aged 29 years, an S. P. bridge worker, was instantly killed at about 11:10 this morning when he was struck by a light engine and his head severed from his body.

The engine which struck Carter was a helper which had just been disconnected from the train and was on the way back to Drain. L. L. Covert was engineer, and Dan Morgan was fireman. The engine was backing around a curve when Carter was seen standing near the track. He was struck by the tender and rolled under the engine, the wheels passing over his neck and severing his head. The decapitated body was covered, and Coroner Ritter was notified. The coroner left shortly after noon for an investigation.

According to the report filed by the engineer with Dispatcher J. I. Love, the engine had helped an extra over Rice Hill and had been uncoupled and was starting back to Drain. The train was standing on the main line and the engine was backing over a sidetrack. There is a slight grade and curve and as the engine backed, the track was hidden. Covert says he sounded the whistle before backing around the curve, the whistle being sounded about 200 or 250 feet from the place where the accident occurred. As he went on around, he says, he suddenly noticed Carter standing beside the track. The engine was almost upon him and there was no time for a warning. The brakes were applied, but Carter was struck by the tender and was rolled under the wheels. The engine was traveling at the rate of speed of about 8 or 10 miles an hour, and was quickly stopped. Carter, however, had been instantly killed and all that could be done was to cover the body until permission for its removal could be obtained. A report was sent in immediately, and Coroner Ritter left at once.

Little is known here of the dead man. He is thought to be about 29 years of age, and has a wife residing at Merlin. He was employed as a bridge worker, and has been with a gang doing repair work at Rice Hill. His father, J. W. Carter, resides at Coquille.

No Settlement is Expected.
