SUCCESSFUL MOONSHINE WAR IS BEING CONDUCTED

SALEM, Aug. 21. (United Press.)—This pre-national-prohibition state is now conducting the most successful moonshine war in its history, according to Dr. J. A. Linville, state prohibition director. United States army planes flying daily from Eugene and patrolling forests of the state to prevent destruction by fire, are serving a two-fold purpose.

They detect forest fires; and they locate moonshiners' cabins. Smoke does the trick in both cases.

Moonshiners, who are of a retiring and modest disposition, ex-officio, so to speak, seek the most isolated and inaccessible spots in the state to pursue their nefarious and law-breaking work. Heretofore, stills so located have been difficult to locate. They simmered and smoked, merrily condensing, far from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife, and turned out mule-taming stuff by the hog-head.

But with the planes sputtering overhead, things are not what they have been. The observer sees smoke. It may be just a curling wisp, or it may be a funnel denoting a fire of considerable size. The former may be a still, and the latter is certainly burning timber. Both are reported, the location and the size of the fire estimated by the airman. Officers, either peace, prohibition, state, county, or what-not, or forest rangers, immediately investigate. If the smoke comes from a forest blaze it is put out; if the smoke comes from a still, said still is kicked down the mountainside and its tenders are put in.

"It's a merry game, with the bootleggers playing the losing end.

The corps commanders were instructed to report how many men have had experience in railroad work. So far no request has been made for men in connection with either strike, but Secretary Weeks wished to be prepared for an emergency.

DEMOCRAT CAUSES DELAY BY A DETERMINED FILIBUSTER

(By United Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Representative Huddleston of Alabama, democrat, today launched a determined filibuster to prevent the legislation Harding asked in last week's message, when he demanded a roll call and disclosed the lack of a quorum. The republicans later mustered sufficient strength for a quorum, the filibustering only causing a delay and not preventing the consideration of the legislation requested.

Sutherland yesterday defeated Yoncalla by a score of 2 to 1. The game was a 10-inning affair. The score was tied 1 to 1 in the ninth, and Sutherland succeeded in scoring one in the tenth. The game was a good one and was witnessed by a large crowd.

Drivers Fail to Report Accidents

Failure to report auto accidents as required by law will result in arrests, according to Chief of Police Matthews, who states that only about one out of ten accidents are reported. The law provides that all auto accidents must be reported to a police officer within 24 hours from the time they occur. Local motorists are not reporting, the chief says, and he claims to be getting tired of looking up those who have had such accidents and obtaining their reports. Future delinquencies in this matter will probably result in arrests, he says.
