wifehood and motherhood is shown in compelling fashion in "The Glory of Clementina," starring Pauline Frederick and scheduled for screening at the Liberty theater on Sunday and Monday. It's an R. C. picture.

As Clementina Wing, a dowdy and temperamental genius, Pauline Frederick achieves another marvelous characterization, probably matched only by her own interpretation of the mother in "Mildred X." As the heroine of the memorable novel by Wm. J. Locke, from which the screen version was adapted, Miss Frederick and her great art dominate all the big scenes of this unusual production.

The regeneration of the woman, the revelation of a scintillating intellect and a nobility of character that had long been obscured by the dowdiness of eccentric genius forms the foundation of this highly dramatic story which has been moulded into a photoplay of striking appeal by Emile Chautard, the director.

VISITORS AT THE AUTO CAMP GROUNDS

Short Stories of the Strangers Who Stop in Their Journey Along the Highway.

Auto tourists continue to come in groups and singly each day, and sometimes Manager Young is kept up until nearly 11 o'clock at night by late arrivals at the camp ground. The ordinary day will bring between 50 and 60 cars to the camp.

Among those camping here last night were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson, of Tillamook, who have leased their farm in that county and are en route to California. They will spend the winter somewhere in the south, and expect to have an enjoyable time in a dryer climate than their home county. In speaking of crops and soil conditions in Tillamook, Mr. Johnson said that it had been unusually dry there this summer, and vegetation had suffered from drought, despite the 100 or more inches of rain that country gets annually.

O. D. Drain and wife and little daughter, Mary, of Portland, were camped here yesterday, but late in the afternoon broke camp and continued on their way north. They have been touring the country for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sport, of Eugene, Kansas, stopped here last night on a whirl around the circle which has taken them to Yellowstone park, Washington state, Portland and down through the Willamette valley. They will go on to California, expecting to stop at Los Angeles for the winter. The only thing they miss is the Kansas winds, but Mrs. Sport insisted those zephyrs came over from Oklahoma, and did not really belong to Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bowers, of Montrose, Colorado, were among the auto tourist campers last night. They have visited Utah, Idaho, and the Spokane country, and will winter in Long Beach, California.

A. W. Harman and wife and their three children, of Elkhart, are camped at the auto tourist grounds, and will remain over Sunday.

R. A. Parks and wife, of Portland, accompanied by an aunt, Mrs. Hill, of Minnesota, en route to California, stopped here last night. They will return home via the east-side route.

Dr. W. A. Preston, accompanied by his son, of Los Angeles, are on their way south following a tour of

Ford Car Stolen At Edenbower

The Ford automobile belonging to A. E. Bell, of Edenbower, was stolen last night. Although the officers were notified of the theft shortly after it occurred the owners of the car were unable to give the license number and it was necessary to telegraph to the secretary of state in order to determine the license number so that the car might be traced. There are a great many auto owners who do not know their license numbers and the great majority do not know their engine number, Sheriff Starmer says. These two numbers are the most important clues to be followed in tracing auto thieves and all owners should have their license and motor numbers either memorized or written down where they can be quickly located in the event of theft. Otherwise much valuable time is lost and the auto thief is given a good opportunity to escape.

Merchants to Decide on Holiday Closing

A meeting of all merchants of the city will be held Monday evening at 7:20 at the Chamber of Commerce office, to determine the action to be taken regarding closing the stores during the celebration on Labor day. The committee in charge of the celebration has requested the merchants to keep their stores open during the morning, but the merchants apparently desire to close all day. Nearly all were interviewed yesterday by the president and the secretary of the Merchants' association, and the majority were in favor of closing all day. A few agreed to remain open if desired, but there was no unanimous opinion in regard to either remaining open or closing. At the meeting on Monday evening the celebration committee will meet with the merchants and some definite plan decided upon.

NOTICE TO STRIKERS

Roseburg, Ore., Aug. 25, 1922
We have received information that the company is going to give all men that are out on strike (that they want) a chance to go back to work with their seniority unimpaired. We sincerely hope we have no weak-kneed brothers in our ranks who will fall for this chance to scab. The company is only acknowledging their defeat and it is only a matter of time until this trouble will be settled and all of us will be back on the job, and we won't have to work along with scabs either.
The miners won, why can't we?
Anyone who needs financial aid, do not hesitate to inform the Relief Committee.
DON'T BE A SCAB!

Roseburg, Oregon, Aug. 29, 1922

Mr. J. W. Hamilton, Roseburg, Ore.

Dear Sir:

The next time you need a tire for your car—will you buy a tire with the same old feeling that it is a gamble and that it is a matter of luck as to the amount of mileage and service the tire gives you, or—

Would you prefer to invest in a tire that you definitely know will give you satisfactory mileage and service?

As a business man you will prefer to do the latter, and for this reason when you are in the market for a new tire we want you to consider the economy of investing in a Thermoid Crolide Compound Tire.

As tire specialists and experienced automobile men, who want your trade in the future, we can advise you, knowing that the Thermoid Tire is a good investment.

The Crolide, which is an exclusive feature of Thermoid Crolide Compound Tires, adds to rubber tires a degree of endurance such as never has been given to them before.

It has not every test for toughness, resiliency, resistance to oil and heat, and it possesses every quality vital to a perfect tire rubber.

When you need tires, bear us in mind and in the meantime if your car needs any equipment of any kind, we shall be pleased to serve you to the best of our ability. We are making a two per cent reduction from list prices on tire prices for a short time.

Very truly yours,

UNIVERSAL SERVICE STATION.
