TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

It is apparent that unfounded propaganda is being circulated relative to status of striking shopmen.

To obviate any possible misunderstanding it is not the intention, nor has it been, to restate any shop employees to his previous status prior to July 1st, although they will be given consideration as new employees, along with other numerous applicants.

public works, which is to hold a hearing September 5 to decide whether the affair must be abandoned. In the meantime 629 Everett residents have signed applications for new telephones to be installed if the machine is given up.

Friends of the telechromometer say that some of the opposition was caused by the fact that it made "listening-in" on party lines cost just so much for every minute the telephone receiver is off the hook.

Phones to be Made Radio Receivers

EVERETT, Wash., Aug. 29.—Telephones in Everett, already equipped with a device which measures conversation, are to be made into wireless receiving stations through the use of an attachment supplied by the Puget Sound Telephone Co., an independent corporation which serves this city.

To hear concerts, news bulletins and other features thrown onto the air by broadcasting stations of Seattle, 30 miles from here, Everett radio fans, who also are telephone subscribers, will simply hook their radio receiving sets onto the attachment, which is known as the radio adapter, and which will fit into the telephone bell box. Expensive aeriads and wiring will not be needed.

In addition to supplying the adapter, the telephone company, working with the Seattle Radio association, will mail to its radio subscribers weekly programs of the broadcasting stations and will collect $5 a year from each fan to defray the cost. The Seattle association hopes to have telephones in all other cities within a radius of 100 miles, equipped with the adapter.

The conversation-measuring device, which, it is said, is not used anywhere else in the world, has been operated here for eight months, and enables the company to charge for the telephone service according to the length of the conversations.

When many residents found that the device, called the telechromometer, increased their monthly bills, they protested to the state department of

HOME BREW HAD WALLOP; FURNITURE BILL WAS $750

LA GRANDE, Ore. Aug. 28.—(United Press)—Here is a pretty good drink with a kick like Baileys' ass: take one zinc bathtub of any size one fancies, place therein cherries, raisins, lemons, and juices of first one fruit after another, and anything that comes to mind with an inclination for fermentation.

Let the stuff play around for awhile. It will ferment, of course, and after awhile the chemical reaction of the fermenting juices on the zinc sides of the bathtub will cause the mess to boil. Don't mind that, for it's mentioned in the receipt. When the boiling has reached a satisfactory point, turn the tub and its contents upside down, and order a nut sundae at the nearest drug store.

George Ruple, a La Grande citizen, failed to carry out the last part of the instructions and took a good swig of the stuff just after it started to boil. His furniture bill was $750, and several officers had considerable trouble subduing him. He was finally able to stand trial.

OREGON GRANGE MEASURE IS ATTACKED IN PETITION

SALEM, Aug. 28.—The grange income tax bill will be attacked as to sufficiency of signatures upon the initiative petition submitting it, in a complaint to be filed in the circuit court of Marion county this afternoon.

McCamant and Thompson are the attorneys who have prepared the complaint and will conduct the investigation into the sufficiency of the petition.

Under the law it is required that the grange petition have 13,261 valid signatures to entitle the income tax bill to a place upon the November ballot. Secretary of State Kozser accepted 13,756 signatures as prima facie valid, or 495 more than the number required.

W. Lair Thompson has conducted the investigation which preceded the suit. Disputation of a large number of the signatures is the basis of the suit. Secretary of State Kozser is named defendant.
