

A Triumph for Value

IN the past two months Firestone has built and marketed more tires than in any similar period in its history.

This steadily increasing public preference is proof of the recognition by car owners of the greater values offered by Firestone. It is a tribute to Firestone men—all stockholders in the company—all actuated by the operating principle of Most Miles per Dollar.

The high average performance of Firestone Cords is without equal in the annals of tire making and is reflected by the general tendency to specify Firestone for hard service. Taxicab and bus lines, buying tires by the mile, are universally equipping with Firestone Cords.

There are many reasons for the high quality of Firestone tires but chief among the special manufacturing processes are double gum-dipping, thus eliminating internal friction by insulating each cord strand, and air-bag cure, insuring a well-balanced and perfectly shaped product.

Don't speculate in tires—you will find the right combination of price and quality in Firestone. Come in and let us tell you about the service these Cords are giving other car-owners whom you know.

key wrench into the machinery of state.—Salem Capital Journal.

WHEN THE PUBLIC ARISES

President Harding has sent a letter to the president of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, commending the efforts of that organization to forward the Herrin investigation by raising funds to finance it. People generally will be glad to know that the matter is going ahead with public support, though it seems a little strange that in any state private financing should be necessary in such a case.

Whatever forced the issue, it is significant that the law-abiding element among the private citizens of the state has evidenced its determination that justice shall be done. When the public arises to demand its rights generally something moves.

The example of the Illinois citizenry may well be needed by the country at large as a hint to arise and demand that the great industrial disputes now menacing the life of the nation be settled without further delay.

The president has spoken to congress for the nation. Cannot the nation speak to congress for itself, backing the president in his demands for clean, fearless legislation to clear the situation? And can it not speak with an equally authoritative voice to the employers and the employees locked in the disputes which darken the national outlook? Financial contributions will not be necessary in this matter, but the force of public opinion should be brought to bear. It is relegating great public questions to the status of a private fight and keeping hands off accordingly that the peace-loving majority loses out.—Grants Pass Courier.

THE LADY SMOKER AGAIN

The right of women to smoke in public, particularly upon the streets, has been challenged again, in New York city. The progress of the case will be interesting.

Reports of the New York incident are to the effect that a woman, accompanied by her husband, lit a cigarette as they emerged from a store. Thereupon a policeman rushed up and struck the "fag" from the woman's hand with his club, declaring vigorously that no woman would smoke cigarettes on the street on his beat if he could help it. The woman and her husband repaired promptly to the station, entered a complaint against the officer, and asked that he be removed from the force.

Unless there is a definite local statute which prohibits women from smoking in public in any community, it is tempting to restrain a woman smoker. Women are citizens, and if the law permits one class of citizens to smoke unchallenged, it is doubtful if the right can lawfully be denied another class simply on account of sex.—Albany Democrat.

SPECIAL SERMON SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

The world is in a flux. Society is in upheaval. Presidents are sitting gingerly on their chairs as if there was a bomb under them. Age-old systems are being cast aside. Customs, ideas, dress and modes of living are thrown aside like the ox-cart and the reaping sickle.

"The fashion of this world changeth." Revered theories and opinions are dumped in the scrap-heap. This is not all a calamity, but it is an outstanding fact of our times.

Many are flippantly admitting they are tired of God, and Truth itself is called in question. A moral earthquake has struck the world. The sand is slipping beneath the feet of thousands. They are like a man stepping for the first time upon an escalator. He's afraid to stay on, and hasn't time to get off. Is there no rock on which we can stand? Is there nothing to which we can tie our hopes? Is there anything which abides?

These startling questions will be discussed at the First Methodist church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This will close the conference year, and may possibly be the farewell sermon of the Rev. W. S. Gordon in Roseburg, an unexpected change sometimes occurs.

The church is closing a good year. There has been a substantial increase in membership, about $1500 has been paid on the debt incurred when the building was erected, and the fund for missions and other benevolences is somewhat larger than in previous years.

The only reason that you might have to go to Paris after viewing our line is because you need the ocean voyage. The Hat Shop, Saturday.

News-Review Writer Sees Lower Umpqua

Charles V. Stanton, of the Roseburg News-Review staff, left this morning with County Surveyor Frazier, County Judge Quine and Commissioners Weaver and Long for the lower Umpqua country. The party will view the road down the Umpqua and remain in Reedsport to meet with the Roseburg caravan, leaving here Friday morning. Mr. Stanton will write several feature stories for the News-Review concerning the wonderful highway down the river and the lower Umpqua country.

"Whoopie" Celebration "Rarin' to Go"

With a "Whoopie" joy-giving yell the big Labor day celebration will start next Monday morning with a monster parade at 10:30 o'clock. Plans for the parade are practically complete and the committee in charge of that event state that many entries are listed and the spectacle should be over a mile in length. The Douglas County Concert band will head the procession, and furnish enough zip and pep to last throughout the day.

Following the parade, the crowds will gather at Laurelwood park and enjoy field meets, speaking, games, etc. At noon barbecued venison and beef with bread and coffee will be served free to everyone.

Then comes the big baseball game in the afternoon between Roseburg and Grants Pass. This will be a hard-fought game, as both teams have the strongest line-up of the season. Following the ball game, dancing in the big open-air pavilion in the park will start and continue until the early hours of the next morning.

Concessions of every sort and description will be crowded into the park, and not a dull moment of the day will be allowed.

In all, the celebration will be the biggest ever, and Roseburg folk should turn-out in force to welcome the outsiders and show them the city.

WHEN THE DEER SEASON

In the great mountains of Colorado the deer season is restricted to four days, the hunter to one buck. The moot question as to when becomes a buck is settled in Colorado. The deer killed have horns of two or more at a contrast with Colorado's deer season. Our deer season opened August 20. It will be until October 31. Each hunter is allowed to kill two bucks. It is the first season permitted by any state in the Union. It is the first season permitted by any state in the Union. It is the first season permitted by any state in the Union.
