ENGLAND MUST DEMAND OF KEMAL OR FIGHT WAR WITH TURKS

Turks Are Bringing Up More Cavalry and Artillery and Kemal Announces a Determination of Going Through the Allied Zone.

(By Associated Press.)
ATHENS, Sept. 21.—According to information in official circles, the British naval units have occupied the Dardanelles and insisted upon the surrender of several regiments of Greek troops who were seeking to reach the coast and embark homeward. The result has caused great excitement in London.

With thousands of refugees arriving daily from Asia Minor and an inefficient wheat supply, Greece is confronted with a food problem so acute that international help may be needed to avert a famine.

Grave Warning of Disaster.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(A. P.)—A grave warning of disaster to come from Great Britain and France is being issued in the Near East.

Viscount Grey, former secretary of state for foreign affairs, in a letter to the British cabinet denounces the British government's attitude regarding the Dardanelles as a "terrible mistake," the result of which has been the withdrawal of the French from Chanak.

Places Responsibility.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 21.—(A. P.)—General Harrington, of the British army, in chief command of the allied forces, has issued a communique in which he declares the responsibility for the consequences of violations of the neutral zone will fall upon the shoulders of the violators.

Great Britain Must Accede.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—Great Britain must accede to the demand that, pending the settlement of the Turkish Near East conference, there be given over to the British the Turkish zone of the Dardanelles and the Turkish zone of the Bosphorus.

On the other hand, late tonight in reply to a question, it was authoritatively stated in British quarters that the British troops were not in danger at Chanak, which corresponds to the report that they might remain there with the tacit approval of the Turks.

No War, Says Conference.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Sept. 20.—Definite assurance that there will be no war in the Near East and the calling of a peace conference for the settlement of the Turkish problem were the chief results of the allied meeting this afternoon.

The eight interested powers, including the Angora government, will gather around the peace table within a few weeks, probably at Rome, or Venice, and make a new treaty with Turkey to take the place of the treaty of Sevres.

The eight nations called together in London, Sept. 20.—Beyond the fact that the result of Lord Curzon's conference at Paris with Premier Poincaré was an agreement among the three allied powers, Great Britain, France, and Italy, on the advisability of convening a peace conference, little has become known of today's developments in the Near East crisis.

Autumn Styles to Comply With Nature's Fall Tints

By ETHEL MARSHALL, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Autumnal fashions will harmonize with the autumnal decorations of nature. This is the edict of England's fashionable dressmakers, who are just unveiling their fall fashion shows.

The leading colors for the autumn are all the shades of nature at this season," said Reville, the court dressmaker.

A handful of autumn leaves will be most of the new tones—deep russet, copper beech, flame color, orange, and a new shade of ochre that looks like plain leaves in the September sunshine will be most prominent. There is also a quite new shade of blue that is something like an Indian cornflower—a very rich color blending between pansy shades of blue and purple.

The new line of fashion follows the line of the figure and is, in my opinion, much more feminine than the recent fashions. There is nothing grotesque about it.

are Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Turkey, Greece, Rumania, and Jugo-Slavia.

Japan's Inclusion Surprise.

Japan's inclusion at the last minute came as a surprise. It was due to Lord Curzon's insistence. The British foreign secretary told Premier Poincaré that his government frankly feared the close association it had reason to believe existed between Moscow and Angora, and Japan's presence was desired to offset this bolshevik influence.

It is remarked in French circles that the participation of Japan insures another vote for British policy in any issue which may arise in the conference. M. Poincaré in consenting to the presence of Japan, demanded also the presence of Rumania and Jugo-Slavia.

While the United States was not included among the eight countries to participate, it is regarded as certain that a mere intimation from the American government that it desires to attend, even as an observer, will be followed by an instant invitation from the allies.

Ministers in Accord.

Lord Curzon, M. Poincaré and Count Storza were in complete accord that there should be no war in the Near East, but Lord Curzon asserted that Great Britain felt that the presence of a strong fleet in the straits was necessary to maintain freedom of passage.

While insisting on what they claim their legitimate claims to Eastern Thrace, Adrianople, Constantinople, the Turks were understood to have informed M. Poincaré that they would consent to remain masters of Asia Minor until the conference had given consideration to these other claims. The French officials are confident tonight of a complete agreement with Great Britain when the allied meeting resumes on Friday and it is freely predicted that the British troops will retire.

On the other hand, late tonight in reply to a question, it was authoritatively stated in British quarters that the British troops were not in danger at Chanak, which corresponds to the report that they might remain there with the tacit approval of the Turks.

Council Held in London.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Sept. 20.—Beyond the fact that the result of Lord Curzon's conference at Paris with Premier Poincaré was an agreement among the three allied powers, Great Britain, France, and Italy, on the advisability of convening a peace conference, little has become known of today's developments in the Near East crisis.

The sudden and unexpected call for a ministerial conference in London this afternoon which led to a formal council, caused renewed alarm concerning possible critical developments, but these were allayed later when, although no official communique was issued.

PRETTY MODEL FIGHTS ANNULMENT SUIT.

Madeline G. Pollock

MAGAZINE GIRL FIGHTS SUIT OF FRIEND HUSBAND

Leonard W. Pollock Would Annul Marriage to Blue-Eyed Maid of Twenty.

AGE MISREPRESENTED

Seventeen When Wed, Not 19 Is His Ground—He Knew It Then, She Says.

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Madeline Gildersleeve, 20, blue-eyed and beautiful, upon whose pretty features James Montgomery Flagg, Howard Chandler Christy and other famous designers of magazine covers looked with open admiration, before her marriage in 1919 to Leonard W. Pollock, declares she will not be cast aside like a plaything by her rich young husband, who is suing for annulment.

He charges she was only 17 at the time of their marriage. "He knew that at the time," she counters, in her demand for $100 a week alimony. Madeline is destitute now, she says, and refuses to be relegated back into near-poverty after having lived for two years in the boundless luxury which Pollock, who is only a few years her senior, provided for her.

Mrs. Pollock, who lives in Westport, Conn., with her mother, Mrs. Amelia Gildersleeve, is 20, tall, slender, with much chestnut hair and big blue eyes.

Says Parents Object.

Her husband, a few years her senior, is an officer of the Atlantic Can company, of No. 463 Greenwich street, of which his father, William, is the head. It is to the objections of his parents that Mrs. Pollock attributes his suit.

Pollock's complaint alleges that when they were married in this city on October 6, 1919, the girl pretended she was 19, when actually only 17. He gives this as a reason for seeking a severance. He adds, too, that she was a wife in name only.

Lieutenant J. M. Goddard, of No. 799 Broadway, her attorney, described her plight thus: "It is the case of a millionaire's son who had gone on a lark and thought the lark would be over when he paid for it."

Mrs. Pollock said: "I was introduced to Leonard at a New Year's Eve party the last day of 1918. He was a persistent wooer and held forth his wealth as an attraction. He was a lavish spender and extremely attentive. I told him I was too young—that I was only 17. He sought my mother's consent. She protested I was too young. But his persistence finally overcame our objections, and mother consented to our marriage. He is not telling the truth when he says I concealed my age from him.

"For two years we lived in bliss. We swept through life on clouds of happiness. Whatever I desired was mine. An automobile was at my disposal. He spent $2,000 a year on my clothes. He gave me $50 a week for pin money. "But all this time his parents were protesting to him against his marriage. Finally, on August 19, 1921, he suddenly told me he was through. Grew Tired of Her. "He said he was tired of me, that he would no longer support me, that I would have to provide for myself. "I pleaded and wept and argued. It was to no avail. For ten weeks he sent me $10 a week. Then this allowance ceased. I had gone back to live with my mother. She is a widow and in poor circumstances. I was in destitution when he filed suit for annulment. "I am going to fight that action. I am asking $100 a week alimony. I do not want his money. But he cannot cast me aside as though I were a plaything that had gotten on his nerves."

Refuses to be cast aside like "plaything," she avers. Says rich husband grew tired of her. Were happy for two years.

BODY OF ONE MINER HAS NOT BEEN FOUND

(By United Press.)
JACKSON, Sept. 21.—Forty-six of the miner victims of the Argonaut tragedy have been identified but the 47th cannot be found. It is that of William Fessel, who left death notes in the shaft where the bodies were found. It is a mystery how the man's name was inside the bulkhead as the miners believe Fessel heroically attempted to discover the entrance to the abandoned Muldoon shaft and so let air into the mine. They are searching for the body, which is possibly covered by a cavein. Jackson is agog over the announcement. Fessel's name is accorded praise of the highest heroism. He may have given his life to save his comrades.

WIFE OF SLAIN MAN BELIEVES ROBBERY MOTIVE

(By United Press.)
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 21.—Mrs. Edward Hall, wife of the slain Rev. Edward Hall, who with his choir leader, Mrs. James Mills, was found dead under a tree on an abandoned farm, declared today that it was her belief that robbery was the motive for the crime. He had a large sum of money to pay a doctor bill for Mrs. Mills' operation. Another theory is that the dead couple discovered bootleggers in the abandoned farmhouse and threatened to report and were slain. The latter theory explains the speeding automobile, shots and screams heard by a person near the farm on the fatal night.

KEEP INCOME TAX BILL OFF BALLOT

Court Enjoins Secretary of State—Fraud, Forgery Is Recognized.

MAY PROSECUTE FEW

Fifty Forgeries Found on Petitions Circulated by Newman, the Decision of the Court Shows—To Revoke Commissions.

PORTLAND, Sept. 21.—Wholesale forgeries and fraud in connection with the circulation of initiative petitions were recognized judicially in a decision handed down by George G. Bingham and Percy R. Kelly, Marion county circuit judges, yesterday, enjoining Secretary of State Koser from giving a place on the November ballot to the Grange graduated income tax measure.

Neither will the so-called salmon fishing and fish propagation amendment initiated by G. G. Green of West Linn, Clackamas county, go on the ballot unless a decree also handed down yesterday by the same judges, according to word received here, is reversed by the supreme court. An order restraining the secretary of state from certifying the measure to the county clerks was made a part of the decree.

The decision in the income tax case was reached after a hearing in Multnomah county during which 365 witnesses testified to the reprehensible conduct of petition circulators in this district. A transcript of all testimony pertaining to the frauds has been ordered by Stanley Myers, district attorney, and law violations will be placed before the grand jury.

Commissions to Be Revoked.

"Governor O'Leary undoubtedly will revoke the notarial commissions of these men," declared Mr. Myers last night, "and vigorous prosecutions will follow any indictments. Unfortunately, the initiative law is rather vague in providing means for punishing such offenders, but the legislature furnished a new line of approach by means of which I hope to put some of these notaries behind the bars."

Of the 14,369 signatures on the petitions filed with the secretary of state, 1108 in excess of the number of names required by law to place it on the ballot, 3,837 were certified to by notaries in public who declared they knew of their own knowledge that the signers were legal voters, points out the decision of Judges Bingham and Kelly. These notaries were Otto Newman, Paul Turner, W. N. Carter, Charles Lorati, George Bylander, Caroline Herman and B. L. Carter.

Newman "certified of his own personal knowledge that he knew 1,193 persons, their places of residence and voting qualifications when in fact he did not know an average of two in 100 of the persons whose names were attached to his petitions," points out the court. Turner certified to 906 and actually knew "not more than half a dozen." W. N. Carter, to 544 and knew "few, if any." Lorati, to 509 and knew "none." Bylander, to 316 and knew "four or five." Mrs. Herman to 249 and knew "two or three." B. L. Carter to 126 and "knew a very limited number." The vast majority were persons the notaries had never met before.

Fifty Forgeries Found.

Fifty forgeries were found on the petitions circulated by Newman, pointed out the decision; 13 on those circulated by W. N. Carter; 16 on those of Turner; four on those of Mrs. Herman; five on those of Bylander; eight on those of Lorati; three on those of Mrs. Carter, and five on those of one S. E. Lewis. Witnesses to the numbers quoted testified on the stand that the signatures attributed to them were not theirs and that they had never signed such a petition.

The findings of fact submitted by the judges show further that the names of 56 aliens were on the petitions, that 15 minors had signed, that six who were not voters for other reasons signed, that 14 whose names were attached advised the circulator before signing that they were not voters, that three signers lived outside Multnomah county, though certified to as voters in this county; that 22 names appeared more than once on the petitions, that 151 addresses given do not exist and that 52 wrong addresses were given under names appearing.

Thomas J. Buck today brought suit in the circuit court for divorce from Bertha Buck. He alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and charges that his wife associated with another man, Bill Confield. He asks for the custody of the three minor children. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Guy Gordon.

R. A. Murray, of this city, returned last night from Ontario, Canada. Mr. Murray has made a trip through Canada and reported a fine time.

FEDERATION ENDEAVORING TO SECURE CONFERENCE FOR PURPOSE OF ENDING STRIKE

Local Strike Headquarters Notified That Negotiations Are Now Under Way for Conference Between S. P. Strikers and Management at San Francisco.

According to word received at the local strike headquarters today steps are now underway to secure a conference between the representatives of the unions and the management of the Southern Pacific company to reach an agreement for the return of the striking shopmen and the ending of the present strike. L. S. Gordon, secretary of the Southern Pacific Federation, with headquarters at San Francisco, wires that a conference is expected soon and that agreements will reach taking care of all of the strikers alike and ending the strike in the best possible manner.

The federation executive board is now endeavoring to arrange a conference with the management, relative to the signing of a statement in accordance with the plan adopted by the policy committee at Chicago. Mr. Gordon states in his telegram, "Full details are now being mailed in a circular letter. By all means hold the ranks solid. Plan being followed will take care of all men alike. The results will be reported promptly."

If the board is successful in arranging a conference and suitable agreements can be reached, such as will mean the immediate ending of the railroad strike and the return of the majority of the men to their former positions. The plan has been working out very successfully on some of the larger roads in the east and thousands of men are returning to work daily. The Southern Pacific company is still endeavoring to secure men to return to work and for this reason it is believed that the company will be willing to enter into an agreement with the men providing it is along the same lines as the agreements adopted on other roads of the country.

He is suspected of being the fiend who attacked the Bonjoni family on Wilson Creek Tuesday night. Mob violence in Grant county may prevent bringing the suspect to Wilson Creek for a time. Senator Eddy of Roseburg will also speak.

FRENCHMEN GO TO MUCH TROUBLE TO "KID" THE ROAD DEPARTMENT

(International News Service.)
PARIS, Sept. 21.—A Frenchman will do almost anything to dramatize a joke. Paris streets are being badly torn up this summer. Among other excavations is one exceptionally deep on the Boulevard Haussmann, at the corner of the Rue Capmartin.

Two French Alpinists, who are incidentally newspaper writers, conceived the idea of going mountain climbing in this deep cleft, which they picturesquely dubbed "the gorges of Capmartin."

To conceive was to do. They obtained Alpine costumes, including the inevitable feather, bound themselves together with a thick rope, seized Alpine stocks, and proceeded to climb down into the "gorges."

Amazed crowds gathered and, when they understood, hooted good-naturedly. Nothing daunted, the "Alpinists" continued to the very bottom, walked on the floor of the pit, and ascended triumphantly.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The president today signed the tariff bill, making it effective at midnight. He also signed the Capper-Tincher bill, providing regulation for trading in the future on the grain market.
