Forget-Me-Not Day

Saturday Nov. 4

CINNATI, September 21.—The school children are to enter the plans for National Forget-Me-Not day, Saturday, November 4, for the disabled and wounded American veterans of the World war, according to announcement by C. Milton Cook, national commander of Disabled American Veterans of World War.

Captain Cook, who has just arrived at national headquarters of the disabled American veterans after a tour of the eastern states, reports keen interest in the Forget-Me-Not day movement on the part of hundreds of schools in many cities and towns. School principals and teachers have obtained the co-operation of the children in the great national activity of making the forget-me-not from paper and other materials; and turning over the results of their efforts to the local committees arranging for the November 4 day. One-half hour, or an hour each week is devoted by the children to the making of the little artificial flowers that are to be sold as "Forget-Me-Not Day," favors throughout the United States, on Saturday, November 4.

New schools are taking up the practice, reported Captain Cook, who predicted that during the coming fortnight the greater number of schools in the United States, public, private, and parochial, will have joined in the national offensive of flower-making that is to result in splendid assistance and relief for the many thousands of America's wounded and disabled heroes of the great war.

National headquarters of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War announced that mayors of cities and towns throughout the United States are naming Citizens' committees to take an active part in the "Forget-Me-Not Day" movement.

ROSEBURG LOSES GAME

The Roseburg baseball team yesterday suffered defeat at the mighty wallop of the Grants Pass nine in Grants Pass by a score of 15 to 1. Taggart was pitching for Roseburg, and Pruitt for Grants Pass. Neither side scored any runs for the first six innings, but following that, Roseburg took an airplane ride and allowed the Grants Pass sluggers to clout the ball all over the county. Twice the "Climate" boys filled the bases and smacked-out homers, scoring four at each clip. Roseburg is expected to win today. Manager Hills having strengthened his line-up considerably.

DECISION IS DEFERRED

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Associated Press.—Judge Wilkerson today deferred his decision on the government's bill for an injunction against the striking railroad shompen until Saturday and continued the restraining order until that time. He wished time to study the evidence.

The deceased was 65 years of age, and was a native of Finland, coming to this country when 22 years of age. She and her husband made their home at Whitefish, Montana, until about three years ago, when they moved to Roseburg for the benefit of Mrs. Capron's health. She leaves no relatives besides her husband. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the undertaking parlors, with Rev. C. H. Hilton, pastor of the Christian church officiating.

GIRLS POSED NUDE; JAIL DANCE MASTER

(International News Service.) VIENNA, Sept. 21.—Professor Heinrich Heber, who had assumed the title of a director of a "dancing class," an "academy of beauty," and a "gymnasium," was arrested here on the charge of making girls from two to 20 years old pose in the nude before audiences of alleged members of the club of "hygiene culture," under the pretext of training them to become famous dancers.

The performance took place "for the sake of art" under the survey of allegedly well-known artists and sculptors, but the police identified these proteges as private persons of all sorts of profession who were charged high admission fees by Heber.

The "professor" personally directed the dances, dressed with the very minimum of a bathing suit and sometimes corrected the pose of his pupils very drastically. Ambitious mothers were persuaded to lend their support "for art's sake."

It was ascertained that they not even sent their children there but witnessed the performances in the course of which Heber often whipped his victims for their "indolence" or "stupidity."

COURT UPHOLDS EXPULSION OF GIRL SMOKER

(International News Service.) DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 19.—Miss Alice Tanton, pretty, bobbed-haired co-ed, who was expelled from Ypsilanti Normal college, along with 19 other normal students, for alleged "social indiscretions," will carry her fight for reinstatement to the supreme court, her attorneys intimated, after reading a decision handed down by Judge George Sample, Wastawaw county, compelling the college authorities to show cause why she should not be reinstated. The Detroit girl was the only student to start legal action against the college.

Judge Sample, in the decision denying her a writ, held the college authorities were within their rights in dismissing her.

School Supported.

"It seems to the court," the decision read, "beyond cavil or argument that the faculty of the State Normal college, having been given authority to conduct a school, has undoubtedly the right to make all reasonable rules and regulations concerning the conduct of those who are invited to attend the institution."

The charge against Miss Tanton, made in the report of Dean Friday to President McKinney, together with the statement that she had requested that the father withdraw the daughter from college, was that she smoked cigarettes. There had been a mention of the fact that Miss Tanton had bobbed hair, but that part of the report had been laboriously erased. The tell-tale marks of the typewriter, however, showed plainly the original complaint.

"Sought Publicity."

The court found that after Miss Tanton had been denied re-admission to the college she and her relatives had "sought publicity through the newspapers of Detroit and elsewhere."

At another place in the decision this statement is made: "The court finds by preponderance of evidence that Miss Tanton was a girl addicted to smoking before she entered the Normal college and finds that there were other acts of indiscretion involving breaches of propriety, such as trips in closed automobiles, where she admitted that she was sitting on the lap of a young man for many hours, riding in and around Ypsilanti, and she was unable to tell how late she arrived at the rooming house. The court further finds that she was guilty of smoking in the public streets of Ypsilanti and that the automobile in which she was sitting while smoking was driven to a place where she would be partly secluded and unobserved, but that in this case she was discovered smoking cigarettes."

Expulsion Endorsed.

"The court finds by preponderance of evidence that there was no arbitrary, capricious, dishonest or unfair motive found in the conduct of respondents in arriving at the conclusion that it was best for Alice Tanton to be denied re-admission to the Michigan State Normal college," reads Judge Sample's decision. "It may have been that at the time of denial of re-admission the college authorities were not in possession of all the facts concerning Miss Tanton's conduct. It may be that they did not know that she came to the Michigan Union dances at Ann Arbor without authority and unchaperoned and that she remained until past the hours of regulation at the Normal college. It may be that they did not know of her riding for hours at a time in enclosed cars on the laps of young men whom she had not known any considerable length of time. But the authorities did know by her admissions that she was an occasional smoker; that she had cigarettes in her room; that she secluded herself when smoking cigarettes; that she had smoked cigarettes on the public streets of the city of Ypsilanti, in company with young men, and, knowing these things, they had a reasonable cause to believe that other matters of indiscretion and improper conduct might and would be the result of such a beginning. Those who have control over the training of the young and discipline of the young know well that those charged with improprieties and misconduct seldom, if ever, admit all of the offenses and improprieties which have taken place."

Roseburg Badly In Need of Library

(By C. H. HILTON.)

One of the first questions asked by the stranger coming to the community is, "Where can I find the public library?" People who are about to settle in the community want to find such a place.

One of the first things that occurred to the mind of this writer five years ago in becoming a resident here was, "Why does not a town of this size have a library?" It seemed then as if there were a library, but it was hard to locate.

There is nothing that adds to the development of a community more than a good, up-to-date, library. Are we going to have one? We certainly are! Some good, interested folks have set their hearts on it, and are going to work until it is accomplished. There is a lot, in a central location, all paid for, and when that lot has on it a beautiful building that will add to the beauty of our town, every one will be proud of it. If you do not have a share now in helping to put that building across, you are going to be sorry, later. Every wide-awake citizen sees the advantage of it, and it is only a matter of a little push, and all of us working together, and the thing is done.

Plans are being well laid for some live times in the very near future to raise money for the building. A good architect will be obtained, and with the money raised, the building will be completed. Roseburg will be brought more up-to-date, and everybody will be happy. A library is of use to everyone. It will contain the latest and best fiction; it will have the best books for boys and girls; it will contain the higher-class literature; it will have books for students, and, sooner or later, books of reference for the searcher after knowledge; it will be a help to our public schools, and it will be useful to every lover of books of whatever kind.

Why should YOU not be interested? Watch for a later story on the things which are going to happen. Workers are already busy, and we are going to tell you the whole story in a day or two of the well-laid plans for this new Roseburg institution. Get ready to help and have a big part in a great public work!

American Editor Arrested for Lottery

SHANGHAI, Aug. 21.—What is said to be the first effort to apply to Americans in China the American law prohibiting lotteries is being put forth in the case of B. F. Brown, who was held for trial in the United States Court for China, on a charge of violating this particular statute.

The defendant formerly published The Far Eastern Times at Harbin. In connection with a scheme to increase the circulation of this publication it was alleged that Brown supplied numbered coupons with each copy distributed and then held drawings in which certain numbers won prizes of ten yen each.

Acting on a complaint, Brown was arrested by an American consular official at Harbin. When he was brought to Shanghai he was held for trial at a hearing before U. S. Commissioner N. E. Lurton, who was permitted to sign his own bail bond in the sum of $500 and was released.
