NOTICE O. E. S. MEETING.

Regular meeting of O. E. S. Thursday, Oct. 5, 1922. All members are urged to be present. The Past Matrons and Past Patrons of the Chapter will be special guests of the evening. The regular cards will not be issued. ELIZABETH RUNYAN, Worthy Matron.

may be reasonably expected of the crop as a whole. One packing house operator stated that approximately 25 per cent of the fruit from his orchard was not suitable for packing. He had already packed four carloads, and he had the largest orchard and the cleanest fruit in his district.

In the Willamette and Umpqua districts there was a rather light bloom and a consequent light setting of fruit with most varieties. This was followed by an extremely dry season. In the Rogue River district this was the "off year," following a heavy production last year. Hood River estimates vary from 75 per cent to 100 per cent of last year. We have adopted 90 per cent. Reduction of the Wasco county crop is mainly attributed to the dry hot season. Umatilla county had a severe spring freeze which is held mainly responsible for the small crop of that section. Malheur county is expected to have rather more commercial apples than last year. Union county will probably produce a smaller crop than last year.

The Oregon pear crop considerably exceeded the early estimates. The heavy spring drop did not prove to be as serious as anticipated. Indications are that the total 1922 pear shipments will amount to about 1650 car loads. The Rogue River district had shipped 780 cars to September 10th, and the season's crop is now estimated at a total of 1250 to 1300 cars. The Umpqua and Willamette districts will produce about 200 carloads, and the Hood River crop is expected to amount to about 200 cars. Bartlett, which make up the bulk of the early shipments were mostly handled by Oregon and California canneries, except the Hood River production and a small part of the Rogue River crop, which went to eastern markets.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McElroy and their famous jazz orchestra left this morning for the south. They will play an engagement in Medford this evening, afterward leaving for Klamath Falls where they will give dances during the fair and rodeo. Mr. and Mrs. McElroy are former residents of Roseburg, and greeted many old friends yesterday. They regretted their stay could not be longer. They played to a large number last evening, and their dance numbers were well received.

The Rungs of Progress Form Ladders of Success

Picture a ladder with its stolid footing, carefully constructed rungs, soaring to unlimited heights and you have a fair likeness of the J. C. Penney Co. of just 20 years ago, the J. C. Penney Company set footing in the land of merchants and with its steady growth, founded on principles of upright-ness, squareness and fair-ness. It has steadily built the rungs of rewarded ef-forts until 1922 finds it at the height of success. It does not cease to soar, for once attaining a fixed goal, 'tis time to fix a higher.

Our progress is measured by your patronage and your continued patronage proves our progress.

Advertised Goods Are Good Goods

That is why we carry them. You can afford to advertise poor quality goods all the time, because there are no repeat orders on poor goods. Also there is no free advertising by satisfied users. Here are a few comments we have heard on goods purchased from us: "Best running plow I ever used." "Please ship me a harrow just like the one my neighbor bought from you." "Am very much pleased with the bath tub and other supplies. You saved me over $70." "My wife she says that good flour, I take ten sacks now." "That paint covers more surface and gives better finish than any other paint I ever used." "What's the answer? Advertisized goods, Good goods." "The kind you read about"—in all the best advertising mediums, including your county paper. When anyone tells you our prices are low because our goods are poor quality, that bird has been eating pie and sleeping on his back. Tell him to roll over and wake up.

We Guarantee the Goods We Sell. So Does the Manufacturer.

What came near being a very serious accident occurred today near Canyonville when the heavy touring car driven by Harry Hildeburn of this city collided with the light Ford car driven by S. E. Wilder of Canyonville. The Ford was occupied by five people but fortunately no one was injured. The wet pavement was responsible for the accident as the machine skidded and could not be handled accurately. The Ford was badly wrecked, possibly beyond repair. Mr. Hildeburn's car was only slightly damaged.

J. O. Newland to Attend Conference

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Newland will leave here tomorrow in a Dodge Brothers Sedan car for Portland, where they will attend a meeting of Dodge Brothers car dealers. They will be gone until Friday or Saturday. Dealers from Oregon and Washington will attend this conference, which will be presided over by officials of the Dodge Brothers corporation, who have come west for the purpose of personally meeting their dealers on this coast. Four of these conferences will be held in the northwest during the next few weeks, and in addition to the Portland meeting another will be convened a little later at Seattle, and a third at Spokane. Mr. Newland, however, expects to attend only the Portland conference.

ATH AND MISERY IN WAKE OF WINDS ON CHINESE COAST

SHANGHAI, Oct. 3.—Sharp on the terrible typhoon which struck Swatow came a second such ferocity that all ocean and coastwise vessels in the area were held up and the Emperor Russia, bringing Dr. Sun Yat-sen from Canton to Shanghai, stayed more than thirty hours here.

EDNA LEE HOOKER, National News Service Staff Correspondent. SHANGHAI, Oct. 3.—Typhoons of such ferocity are sweeping the coast during the typhoon or typhoon season this year, leaving destruction, starvation and death in their wake.

Thousands Perish. Little city, like a great savager of inhuman cruelty, the typhoon carried all before it. Reports of casualties have grown, in-fact decreased, until the total toll of lives lost ranges from 50 to 50,000, while a conservative estimate of the damage is $35,000,000. Suddenly, with little warning, typhoon struck Swatow. In a few hours, as one traveler reports, it "looked as if it had been lifted up in a heap," while another compared the devastation to that in Flanders battlefields.

There is a great race on! The merchant who is without big advertising plans, adequate to his growth, is handicapped and almost foredoomed to failure or at best he can only hope for a place at the end of the line of winners. Advertising sufficiently will put a business in the lead.

APPLE CROP SHOWS DECLINE IN STATE

All Fruit Districts Show Decrease In Amount of Apples For Shipment.

WORMS CAUSE DAMAGE

Warm Weather and Lack of Moisture Result in Unusual Activity on Part of Codling Moth and Fruit Loss is to be Expected.

An unusual amount of worm damage, together with small sizes and more or less "brown spot," have materially reduced the prospective 1922 commercial apple crop of the state of Oregon, as compared with the indications earlier in the season is the opinion of F. L. Kent, Agricultural Statistician, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, who has very recently visited the principal apple growing districts of the state.

The abundance of "worm stings" this season is attributed largely to the character of the growing season. The long season of comparatively warm nights allowed practically uninterrupted activity of the codling moth particularly hatching of the eggs. Careful observations as reported, indicate that the female moths have been two or three times as active as usual this season in the matter of egg deposits, which combined with unusually favorable hatching conditions, largely accounts for the abundance of "apple worms." Furthermore, in certain districts, where the early indications were for a light crop, due to frost, "off year," etc., spraying was not thoroughly done, in many orchards.

Apple scab and other fungus has caused very little trouble this season. Properly sprayed orchards generally report the crop as practically free from fungus of all sort. But the so called "brown spot" affecting the inside of the fruit, is more abundant than usual, particularly on some of the earlier varieties.

Table showing apple production statistics for 1921 and 1922 across various districts: Willamette Valley, Umpqua Valley, Rogue River Valley, Hood River Valley, Wasco County, Umatilla County, Union, Baker, Malheur.
