TAKING THE RIGHT ATTITUDE.

Portland is taking the right attitude toward the army of I. W.W. which has been making that city its headquarters and were just about ready to stage a demonstration. This bunch of arrespansibles, parading about the country creating dissatisfaction ationg workingmen and endeavoring in every possible manner to derupt not only private enterprises but our government as well, should be given no consideration and their Russian-like propaganda used to further their cause should receive a determined setback before a foothold is secured in this state. Mayor Baker acted promptly and with good judgment in rounding up the wob-blies and he should have the support of every loyal American citizen in the state for his efforts directed at a class of men whose sole duty and uppermost thought is sowing seeds of dissention throughout the nation in an effort to discourage honest working men who are alert to the country's needs and responsibility. There is sufficient lack of stability in many lines of tradesmen that calls for more same encouragement than I. W. W. principles supply. There is a tendency among many people to do just as little manual labor as possible to eke out an existence-service having long ago fallen into disrepute. This state of affairs must be equitably adjusted if the country is ever to return to a staple and sane government. Men who have no better aim in life than banding themsolves together under the I. W. W. banner are a menace to good government and good citizenship. They have no place in this country and drastic action should be taken to clean up the bunch of trouble-makers.

Some people seem to lack any sense about the obligations that go with money. They may occupy good positions in business and social life. Yet they never seem to worry a particle about paying their debts. They borrow money from friends, and will pay only if persistently dunned. They run up long accounts with marchants, and requests for cash leave them wholly untroubled out in the field and he run into the fence, then he stumbled over a great hig rock and then he run plumb into pay only if persistently dunned. They run up long accounts with with such men as that. They look at their standing in the community and see them living in a comfortable way and think they hopest. They mean to pay and fully believe they will pay, and they can't see why a creditor should get huffy about it. They will be settled, should be constituted in the fact that they have given their world about it. They will be settled, should be sufficient, and that no one has any reason to worry about. It is a kind of irresponsibility that is born in some folks, a failure to grasp the rules of the game and understand the feelings of other people. Such persons ought to realize better the amount of annoyance and real harm that their good natured indifference causes. It takes time and expense to do business with such people and those who let them run up accounts are paying interest on the amount that they tie up in their unpaid bills. Cash in advance is a good rule for such folks and it is no kindness to lend them money or let them run up bills. The business of the country could be done on a smaller amount of capital if all these debts could be promptly cleaned up and business done on a basis of cash and very short time credits.

The autumn season is a favorite time for weddings and it witnesses some splendiferous displays in the form of nuptial ceremionies. A typical fine wedding with charming attendants, harmonious costumes, romantic music, and floral leveliness, is about the acme of human spectacles, and anyone should be glad to be asked to witness so lovely a picture. But many young couples feel they would do better to make a simple start, and not tax the old folks for fine effects. Every girl would like to idealize her wedding and make it a beautiful spectacle and ask in all her friends, but the majority of brides deny themselves this satisfaction in these times. The quiet home marriage suggests domestic tastes, a love of simplicity and a deep affection for family and intimate friends. Father and the bridegroom have little use well, after waiting for years for the city to take some step toward a children's play ground and recreation spot for adults, the local Order of Elks went on record has evening favoring the purchase of the island in the South Umpqua river, below the Oak street bridge, to be used as a park and children's play ground. This stroke of progressiveness on the part of the local lodge is the best thing that has happened to Roseburg for a long time—und when the Elks start anything they usually are there to the ipish.

GOOD EVENING FOLKS-

If a man thinks every one is against him, he will soon begin to treat them so they will be. If he thinks every one is his friend, he will treat them right, unconsciously, and they will soon be his friends. The man who lives his daily life according to this formula has in ha make up a spark of sound and true philosophy that will make his life brighter-if we put into all the relations with our fellowe a full measure of friendliness and good will, we are pretty our fellows a full measure of friend-liness and good will, we are pretty sure to get it back, full and over-flowing. On the other hand, if a man is suspicious of everybody, everyone will be suspicious of him. The man who goes about tooking for a fight is sure to get licked some day, good and plenty.

True friendliness is founded on sin-cerity. And sincerity is about the only thing in this world that can't be counterfeited. The impulse toward friendliness springs from the very soul of a man.

The world needs friendliness, and kindness, and good will. Not Sundays only, but every day in the week, and every hour of the day. Think friendly thoughts. If you've get a friendly thoughts. If you've get a friendly thoughts. If you've get a friendly the sparce and fountainhead of every good and worthy impulse, only the source and fountainhead of every good and worthy impulse, only the serious friends, and they will be.
