INMATES ENJOY FEASTS

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 30.—According to a long standing custom, prisoners at the state penitentiary and inmates at the state hospital for the insane enjoyed elaborate Thanksgiving dinners today. At the hospital the menu included 2000 pounds of chicken, and at the prison the menu was: 350 pounds of chicken, 80 pounds of dressing, 300 pounds of mashed potatoes, 200 pounds of sweet potatoes, 80 pounds of cranberries, 100 bunches of celery, 60 gallons of soup, 100 pounds of cake, 125 pumpkin pies, 125 gallons of sweet corn, 10 gallons of pickles, 25 gallons of peach sauce, 45 gallons of coffee and 20 pounds of bread.

A theatrical company now playing here gave a performance at the prison in the forenoon and a musical entertainment was given at the hospital tonight.

DRY LAW SENDS U. S. SHIPS TO FOREIGN REGISTRY

Because the dry law forbids the sale of liquor on American ships and because prospective passengers were cancelling passage, the United American Lines has transferred the Resolute to and the Reliance to Panama registry. They were the third and fourth largest vessels flying the American flag. The photograph of the Resolute was taken when the vessel was at anchorage off Quarantine, New York Harbor, listing heavily because of a sudden shift in her cargo.

MOVIES

BLACK BAT CAFE IN NOVEL MELODRAMA

Greenwich Village has been painted in such glamorous terms in news and fiction stories that a love story with the "Village" as a setting is bound to pique the interest. Many of the incidents of Charles A. Logue's story, "The Amazing Lover," which has been made into a picture for distribution by American Releasing corporation, under this same title, occur and were filmed in "The Black Bat," a noted cafe in the famous Bohemian quarter, and there one may see several notable figures, writers, artists, poets, explorers and actors, who foregather after the day's toil to exchange gossip or discuss weighty topics of art, religion, of politics and what not. At Liberty theater, tonight only.

CHARLES JONES NEW FILM CALLED WINNER

The new Fox production, "West of Chicago," starring Charles Jones, has according to advance reports, several outstanding features which are sure to make this photoplay a big success. One of these is Charles Jones' leap from a horse to the platform of an observation car while the train is in motion, a feat requiring a great deal of daring and agility, and which is certain to cause a thrill to the most blasé audience.

In another there is a no less exciting scene, but with a comic turn to it. Jones, troubled by some men who are up to sundry crooked acts, determines to put the fear of God into their souls. To accomplish this he dresses the part of a ghost, and waylaying the lawbreakers on a lonely road at night, causes them to do a marathon that would put the world's best runners to shame. The Mexican border, with all its romantic surroundings, furnishes the background for the story. "West of Chicago" will show at the Antlers theater tonight only.

"THE LANE THAT HAD NO TURNING"

A hidden will, a wild chase after a villain by the heroine, in an old-fashioned carriage, a duel between the two principal male characters, a villain who could hardly be excelled in villainy—these are a few of the features of Sir Gilbert Parker's Paramount picture, "The Lane That Had No Turning," which is the attraction tonight at the Majestic theater.

Much favorable comment for the new Marx, Ames Ayres, is heard on "The Lane That Had No Turning." The role she plays is a heavy and emotional one. Theodore Kosloff, Mahlon Hamilton, Frank Campana and others have the leading male roles.

The story concerns the marriage of Madeline to Louis, and his supposed inheritance of an old estate in French Canadian precincts. He is injured and develops a lumbago, but his wife sticks by him until he himself ends it and she marries Fournel, the rightful owner of the Seigneurie. Victor Fleming directed the picture, which offers every opportunity to the star and the others in the cast. It is admirably produced.

PROSECUTORS MEET IN EUGENE

EUGENE, Dec. 1.—District attorneys representing the 35 counties of Oregon will be in Eugene Friday and Saturday, December 15 and 16, to attend the annual meeting of the association, at which time officers for the coming year will be elected. The state session of the district attorneys has generally been held at Portland, but an exception has been made this year in order to give the University of Oregon law school students an opportunity of attending some of the sessions and the meetings here are also expected to prove of interest to the visiting members of the state bar who may desire to inspect the law school.

Clyde N. Johnston, district attorney of Lane, is secretary-treasurer of the state association, and Stanley Myers, district attorney of Multnomah, is president. The program for the two-day session includes meetings both morning and afternoon, a luncheon each day at noon, and a banquet to be held one of the evenings.

The sessions of the association of district attorneys held previous to the meeting of the state legislature have generally proved to be of much interest, as during the conference matters are discussed concerning legislation that the county officials believe should be presented to the state law makers for action. It is expected that at the Eugene meeting much suggested legislation will be taken up and that efforts will be made to interest the legislature in the program.
