JIMMY MURPHY LOOKS FORWARD TO RACES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—"There ought to be much more speed at the next race," Jimmy Murphy, smiling king of the auto racetrack said in an interview today. Far from contemplating quitting the racing game, Murphy said that he was enthusiastic about the coming race at Minneapolis, when "the boys" will all drive new specification automobiles, with 122 cubic inches displacement, he said. Murphy recently gave the speed bugs the thrill of their lives by breaking his own world's record for 250 miles, averaging 114.6 miles per hour for the distance at the Beverly Hills speedway. "Whenever a fellow wins a race, someone always starts a rumor that he's going to quit" he said. "But when the bug once bites you, you suffer from it for the rest of your life."

GREEN AND WINSTON NEWS

The P. T. A. at Green has been serving hot lunches to the children this week. The children have enjoyed them very much, and if the parents will cooperate the lunches will be continued during the next three months, or as long as the weather is cold and disagreeable. The seventh and eighth grades have been assisting Mrs. Howard this week.

The cold weather this week has made it possible for a number of the neighbors to do their butchering.

Rev. Gordon was present at Green for church services Sunday, and his message was much appreciated by those present.

Mrs. L. C. Davis spent several days this week in Roseburg, visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moffitt, who recently moved to town from this section.

The Green S. S. will hold their Christmas exercises on Sunday afternoon Dec. 24th at 2 o'clock. A splendid program is being arranged with plenty of music. Marion Weatherford was elected Corresponding secretary, and Floyd Groves assistant librarian. Next Sunday the election of teachers will complete the annual election.

Ivan Lander returned to school Monday after a couple days absence last week on account of a bad cold. So much needed road work has been done on the country road leveling and filling holes with gravel.

BANDIT WOLF AT LAST PAYS PRICE

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Dec. 15. (United Press)—The giant gray wolf that for years roamed Mesa County and caused hundreds of dollars in losses to stockmen, has made its last kill.

Luke Hummel of the Dolores section is financially much better off as the slayer of the great wolf for he collected a score of rewards. The wolf leader of a bold pack measured seven and one-half feet from tip to tip and weighed 150 pounds. Veteran trappers and hunters say it is one of the largest ever killed on the western slope of Colorado. Scores of hunters have tried vainly for years to run down the giant lobo, but he always avoided their baited traps and kept out of range of their rifles.

Hummel set a large trap and attached a heavy log to it. The next morning the trap and log were gone and a trail led through the forest. Hummel started in pursuit. For three days he followed the windings of the furrowed path left by the log as the wolf sought to escape. At the end of the third day, fifty miles from the place where he set the trap, Hummel came upon the animal, exhausted but showing fight. A shot from his 30-30 ended the wolf's long career.

Diphtheria Cases Reported in Salem

SALEM, Dec. 16.—Although one school boy, Jack Barker, six years old died of diphtheria this morning, and there are approximately seven other cases of diphtheria affecting Salem school children, school officials, at a conference held this afternoon, reached the conclusion that it would be best not to close any of the local institutions. Every precaution will be taken to curb the spread of the disease and another nurse, to assist Miss Grace Taylor, will be employed if one is available. City Superintendent George Hug stated.

According to Dr. J. O. Mathis, school physician, the state board of health advises that the schools be kept open. The theory is that the children, if in school, will be in better care than if they were allowed to go where they choose. Children, if they wish, may be immunized by their physicians, Dr. Mathis said. That, he said, is the only guarantee against the disease. The lad who died this morning is the son of John Barker, Jr., who is employed by a local florist.

Dr. Price Closes Albany Meetings

Dr. Price, the evangelist whose stirring revival meetings have aroused intense interest throughout the entire state has completed his meeting in Albany and is now at Corvallis for a short time. He will go into California and will come to Roseburg on Feb. 4 to start a series of meetings lasting until February 22.

Eight ministers, pastors of the co-operating churches in the great revival at Albany, spoke at the closing service last Sunday night. Dr. T. J. McCrossen of the United Presbyterian, Rev. A. D. Thompson of the Grace Presbyterian, Rev. H. E. Parrot of the First Baptist church and the latter was in Eugene making arrangements for the services in that city, also Rev. Pratt of the Church of the Brothers, Rev. Rudenbacher of the Evangelical Church, Rev. C. H. Baker of the Nazarene Church, Rev. Oliver of the Free Methodist Church, and Rev. Wilson an evangelist; the testimony of these men was an inspiration to all that heard them and the co-operating churches gave Dr. Price a unanimous invitation to return to Albany for another series of meetings; the pastors were unanimous in their commendation of Dr. Price's sound scriptural presentation of Bible messages, and also of his sane, able, logical presentation of the doctrine of physical healing. At the close of the preaching services so many came forward seeking the Lord as their
