ROSEBURG, OREGON, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1922

POLITICAL PROMISES ARE THE BUNK

The name of Judge John S. Coke, of Coos county, has been recommended to the senate for appointment to the office of United States district attorney for Oregon, which means in fact, that Mr. Coke is to be selected to fill this very important office. It has been known for some time that Mr. Coke was a very likely candidate for the federal plum, and his appointment is no surprise to those who have been in touch with political affairs in Oregon for the past several months.

Judge Coke is a man of excellent standing and has made a very efficient and popular circuit judge. He has a faculty of gaining friends and is well known throughout the southern part of the state.

But as United States district attorney, compared to District Attorney George Neuner, who long ago was slated for the federal appointment, Mr. Cele is in no way a contender. Mr. Neuner has more real ability and is more aptly fit to fill this important office than any man that has so far been mentioned in connection with the federal appointment.

Another thing in Mr. Neuner's favor is the fact that he is as straight "shooter" in politics as he is in his every day professional life. He is, and always has been, as sincere and truthful in politics as an honest man would enter into an honest business transaction with his fellow men. If Senators Stanfield and Me-Nary had been half as sincere in their statements and promises as their loyal supporters throughout this section of the state there would have been no question upon whose shoulders the appointment would fall.

But the two senators listened to the pleadings of wily politicians and their minds become perverted-reversed over night, and a hurried appointment was the result. Something had to be done at once. They had double-crossed Mr. Neuner. Absolutely denied and refuted previous promises they had made and now go on record as peers in the senatorial arena as a couple of fine example of misrepresentation-two political acrobats-the equal of which this state has never before produced, probably never will again, thank God.

However, the treatment accorded him at the hands of Oregon's two senators places him on a higher plane than ever before, now that the true character of both these representatives has been made known. With the facts at hand no credit would rebound to any good citizen to accept favors from the two senators who have displayed such wilful disregard for truth and veracity.

No wender the republican party has fallen into disrepute in this state. The worthy are shunted aside for others of less ability to keep party ties intact, but in reality means the weakening of the entire structure and has honoycombed the republican party in the past, as it is doing today, with men wholly incompetent to carry out the duties assigned them.

Just so long as the republicans of this state put more energy into building up a state machine composed almost wholly of incompetents and office-grabbing politicians of little worth it will be held in disrepute by the great majority of thinking people.

As above stated Mr. Coke is a good and sincere official, but as a state prosecutor George Neuner can throw rings all around the Coos county judge.

It is a difficult matter to draw the golden mean between conservatism and radicalism. Many people begin to hurran for every new idea suggested for political and economic reform. The theoretical arguments for such innovation look plausible to them, and they never think of possible objections. They agitate violently for such ideas, and condemn politicians and parties if their proposals are not promptly accepted. Other people go to the opposite extreme. They regard the world as a pretty comfortable place as it is, and view new ideas with hostility. Both attitudes pince as it is, and vice new ideas with nosting. For attributes are wrong. The country is full of evils that need reform. Peopeople must examine suggestions with a hopeful and open mind. ask how they have worked in practice, and how they fit in with ordinary human nature.

As a sample of what moonshine boose can accomplish, we call your attention to the Coos county tragedy where a man, 60 years of age and filled with the stuff, choked his wife to death, then filling up with more of the poison, took his rifle and shot to death a neighbor, and would probably have gone on with his slaughtering of human life had it not been for the fact that he was overpowered and tied by superior strength. There is no other excuse for the horrible crime other than the over indulgence in moonshine whiskey.

Attorney James Brand, of Marchfield, a brother of How. Chas, A. Brand of this city, has been supposted as the probable successor to Circuit Judge Coke, appointed teleral district afterney. This would certainly be excellent recognition of the worthiness of a mighty fine young lawyer. He would be a credit to the judicial beach : " the southern part of the state and well qualiffed for this important office. Here's hoping "Jimmy" will get the appointment.

It will soon be time for making your New Year resolutions. And you had better make them short and snappy, for they are hard to losep, usually,

We think this is about the finest weather going for the New Year period. Just maist enough to make sledding easy.

Quite a few alleged popular politicians have dog their own graves during the past Iew months.
