SÓLONS FLOCKING

PORTLAND, Jan. 2.—Senator Jay Upton, pilot goose of the state senate at its coming session, honked down from his home at Princville last night from his home at Prineville last night and is neating at the Benson for the remainder of the week. Tomorrow the rest of the flock from the outside counties will begin to wing in and by Saturday the Imperial hotel lobby will surge and Jam with its biennial pre-sension crowd of legislators, job hunters, lobbyists and hobbyists with pet bills in their pockets awaiting adoption.

CORE THROAT

ELKS OFFICER VISITS

Frank D. Cohan, of Marshfield, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the B. P. O. E.
Elks, will pay his official visit to the Roseburg ledge tonight.
Mr. Cohan should be greeted by a large attendance of the Elks.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"Is the World Getting Better?" Hear this subject discussed from ◆ a scriptural and historical point ◆ of view next Sunday night, at ◆ 7:30, by H. L. Caldwell. Good ◆

Senator Upton says he is not looking for publicity nor expecting trouble just at this stage of the game. He has come down to Portland because he had put his business in shape to leave for the session and because he wanted to talk things over with some of the boys. He says that his 15 votes for president of the senate are still cemented to him and that he has a hunch he will pick up one or two more before the Sabbath passes and the scenes shift to Salem.

No intimation comes from Upton, or from Kubli over in the house, regarding committee assignments or chairmanships. Senator Upton just smiles his urbane smile at the suggestion that he tell about that before Monday next. "Kap" Kubli chuckles. "Not on your life." he says. "I want to be elected speaker, don't I."

But between now and Monday the question of committee assignments will be a live one in Portland, and about the Marion hotel at Salem on Sunday night. There are a lot of senators and representatives who would like to know where they are to be detend the presentatives who would like to know where they are to be lessed as on mistage and representatives who would like to know where they are to be detend of second hand goods. # LANGENBERG GETS

Changes Plea To Gullty and Admits That He Is Guilty of Both Manufacture and Sale

George Laugenberg, who was ar-rested a few days ago charged with the possession of intoxicating liquor, followed the confiscation of almost 80 followed the confiscation of almost 50 sallons of wine from his home, today entered a piea of gullty to the charge and was fined $250 and sentenced to 30 days in jall. Twenty days of the jall sentence was suspended by Justice of the Peace George Jone, who insisted that he spend ten days in confinement. Langenberg in appearing before Judge Jones admitted that he notonly made the wine and had it in his possession but that he has been selling the liquor and has had several customers. He put up a plea of destitute circumstances and asked for leniency. The defense is endeavoring this afternoon to procure a doctor's certificate that his health is such that he not only made the wine and had it ment so that he will not be imprisoned.
