CHINESE FLAPPER RETURNS HOME

Girl Who Protested Customs of Race and Fled From Marriage Has Returned After Long Absence

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Mildred Wen, 17-year-old Chinese girl of this city who has twice thwarted family plans for her marriage to George Nun Lee, New York university student, by disappearing from her home here, returned again last night after an absence of a week. She told reporters the wedding "probably will take place in the spring."

LEGISLATURE TO MEET ON MONDAY

large number of boards and commissions now existing have come into existence in a gradual way from time to time and they are so related to and dovetailed with the general state administration, that any radical application of the knife is likely to disrupt state affairs. No doubt the only logical way to proceed is to revise the whole system of state administration, and whether or not the legislature will be able and willing to deal with a large proposition of this kind remains to be seen. In this connection it should be noted that many of the state commissions draw no salaries from the state, and while the number of commissions is large, the cutting off of the bulk of them in number would save practically no money to the state. It is also to be borne in mind that the new democratic administration will have many friends to reward, and when it comes to actually cutting down offices the pie-counter crowd will make themselves heard, or at least felt.

The organization of the House is supposed to be settled by the choice of K. K. Kubli as speaker. The organization of the Senate is not generally conceded to be settled and there may be yet some interesting developments in that connection. Our Douglas County Senator has fourteen votes pledged for the office of president of the Senate, while sixteen are necessary to a choice. His supporters are standing loyally by him, and it is noticed that the opposite crowd consists of discordant elements who may have difficulty in holding together. Governor-elect Pierce is now an important factor in the organization of the Senate, as he is using such power as he has to defeat Senator Eddy for the presidency, because the latter took the stump for Governor Olcott and made a war against Pierce. Other strange under-currents exist in connection with the organization of the Senate. If Eddy can be defeated for the presidency, both houses of the legislature and the governorship will be practically under one control, unless of course the Pierce organization in the Senate should fall in pieces which it is very likely to do, even if it should prevail at the outset.

Governor-elect Pierce seems to be approaching the legislative session with the fear that the strong republican majority will seek to "play politics" and defeat meritorious measures which he may propose. Those who are acquainted with the sentiments of the leading members of the legislature know that this fear is without foundation. The disposition of leading republicans will be to consider each measure on its merits and if Governor Pierce has anything to offer which is practical and of use to the State he will find plenty of assistance in securing its adoption. Of course it goes without saying that the republican majority will not expect Governor Pierce to "play politics" by way of building up a Democratic machine. Any ambitions which he may have along this line may strike hard stalling in the legislature.

UMPQUA ONLY IS OPEN TO FISHING

Many Violations of Fishing Law Are Due to Lack of Knowledge of Law According to Game Warden.

Many violations of the fishing laws are being found, but in practically every case the violation is caused by ignorance of the present laws rather than a malicious intent to violate, and consequently there have been few cases prosecuted, according to District Game Warden Ed Walker.

CONTRACT IS LET ON YOKUM BRIDGE

Bids Received By County Court For Structure On New Road Out of Riddle Are Considered Very Satisfactory

The contract on the Yokum bridge, to be built on the Riddle-Pacific Highway road, was let today to Catching and Ryan, whose proposal was very satisfactory, being below the estimate of the state engineers. The contract was let for $11,419.48. The next highest bid was submitted by E. R. Metzger who offered to construct the bridge for only $80 more than the successful bidders. Bids were also submitted by the Union Bridge company, J. Elmer Nelson and Metzger and Johnson.

The bridge will be located on the road to be built from Riddle to the Pacific highway. A large amount of bond money has been appropriated for this project which is also being aided by other funds. This will shorten the distance from Riddle to the highway and will give a direct road which will be called upon to bear heavy traffic. Because of the low bid received at this time the county is anxious to start the Umpqua Park bridge project immediately. It is believed that a better bid can be obtained now than at any other time and it is desired to get immediate action on this project in order that advantage may be taken of the existing conditions.

TWO HUNDRED CARS BROCCOLI EXPECTED

Oregon Growers Association Making Plans to Handle Large Broccoli Crop of the Willamette Valley

SALEM, Jan. 6.—Plans for the handling of more than 200 cars of broccoli the coming season are now about completed by the Oregon Growers Cooperative association. The broccoli district in this part of the valley is confined mostly to country surrounding Salem and Independence, and it is estimated that 1,000 acres in this district are now planted to broccoli. Conditions up to date are very favorable for a good crop this year, and the only thing that could prevent a satisfactory harvest would be freezing weather, similar to that experienced in this section last year, when almost the entire broccoli crop was ruined.

OREGON HIGHWAY WORK TO CONTINUE

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 5.—The probable income of the state highway department during the biennium of 1923 and 1924 will be approximately $21,250,000.

Of this estimated income all but $7,000,000 is obligated in connection with fixed expenses, such as maintenance, payment of interest and maturation of bonds, operating expenses and other items. Of the $7,000,000 unobligated $750,000 must go to the federal government for forest road work; $500,000 must be used in letting contracts to complete road projects agreed upon before November 30, 1922; $3,500,000 must be used in letting contracts for road projects not yet agreed upon, and $2,250,000 will be available on contracts upon work over which the federal bureau of public roads will have no authority.

Work to Go On. These figures, taken from the records of the state highway department, mean that the state may go ahead with its highway building program during the next biennium without interruption, regardless of what the legislative session opening next Monday may do in the way of road legislation. The session of this winter may not, after all, be regarded on the subject of appropriating money for highway work. In brief, the state highway department is well satisfied with its financial condition and with the prospect ahead for the next two years, for it is apparent that projects contemplated can be completed.
