A HOPEFUL OUTLOOK

So much has been said in regard to the difficulties that Europe has encountered in recovering from the war, that our people do not realize what those countries have accomplished. The more they do to get back to peace time conditions, the more their improved condition will react favorably in America. Secretary Hoover says that the industrial and commercial progress of Europe is astounding and it has been accomplished during the past four years in spite of great unsettlement in financial and political matters. Europe has wasted about four years in futile controversies, largely over the matter of reparations to be paid by Germany. It apparently is dawning on those people that they must agree on some policy and work harmoniously with each other. If Europe can once be persuaded to settle down on a sound basis, it ought to produce a tremendous demand for American goods. Their equipment for all kinds of industry, must need a great deal of renewal, since it has been deteriorating for more than eight years. They have learned the value of American machinery, and ought to buy a lot of it as soon as their credit is established. If they can only get readjusted to a peace basis, it should be possible to sell them more foodstuffs and manufactured goods than ever before and the result, if such a hope could be realized, should be a big boom for this country. It is reassuring to note that the United States Chamber of Commerce finds that business in this country got up to a normal point last November. Agriculture is one big exception to the good conditions prevailing in most industries, but the improving conditions in other lines ought to spread to agriculture soon, and already it has felt the stimulus of better times.

In many places people are not of their own initiative putting up enough dwellings to provide for all the families that desire homes. In such places some kind of a public movement to secure more construction seems to be called for. The Aurora, Illinois, Chamber of Commerce recently did unusually good work in organizing such a plan. It was not the easiest kind of a project, as in some places movements to form housing corporations have proved failures. The Aurora people succeeded better, and they secured subscriptions of $1,500 to a building and loan association, which means that over 100 homes will be put up. One-third of this amount was secured from factory employees. Such a record is a revelation of what can be achieved by a systematic campaign for home building, and a great deal of money can be had from people of moderate and small incomes. Such a movement not merely booms a city, but it promotes home owning and thus leads to permanent prosperity.

A splendid example of what can be done to win the favor of out-of-town visitors has been given in Canton, Illinois, where a rest room has been established in the business center. This room entertains each day an average of 750 people. A postal station, employment bureau, and information desk are maintained.

Such a public facility must be a tremendous factor in giving visitors a favorable impression. They will get the idea that such a city has the glad hand always extended and that it expects to give service as well as make money out of its guests.

KNOW YOUR OWN TOWN

In many cities and towns the people who live in the pretty residence neighborhoods often have little conception of the other portions of the same place where living is not so pleasant. It would do them good once in a while to pass through the localities where people live in a more struggling way, and have to put up with things they don't like. In many towns there is carelessness in tolerating poorly constructed streets and walks in sections of the town where the people are not prosperous. Nuisances may be permitted there that would cause protest if they occurred in the more attractive neighborhoods. Fastidious people sometimes are repelled from the less attractive portions of their own community, and if they drive or walk, prefer to keep to the pleasanter localities. But if one is to do his part toward the improvement of his home town, he should be thoroughly familiar with conditions in all its neighborhoods. His influence should be cast for a policy that would distribute favors and advantages fairly through all portions of the community. Public feeling controls living conditions a good deal, and the sentiment of the community should work for good sanitary and housing and other conditions in all neighborhoods. Landlords and other owners should be urged to keep up their property and should realize that run down real estate is apt to be a poor investment. The real test of civic conditions is not in the appearance of the more handsome homes. These add their own fine and artistic touch, and give the community dignity and beauty. But the real question is as to what is being done for the neighborhood where the most struggling people live, and whether such localities are wholesome and reasonably well kept up, so that young people feel respect and are incited to cherish standards of order and care.

A baby doesn't know much but it knows enough to get what it wants, and many adults know less than that.

The city beautiful campaign starts this evening at the Armory, at eight o'clock. Be on the job.

Don't fail to attend the big band concert at the Armory this evening. It will be some show.

The Oregon legislature is on the job again today.

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—

Gosh, wasn't the weather great yesterday and Aintcha glad you live in the good ol' Umpqua Valley where Ol' Sol smiles the loudest?

OUR OWN CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL COURSE

Here's your chance to learn something useful every day. Take 'em one at a time:

Monday—Ten cents make one cent.
Tuesday—Ten cents make one dime.
Wednesday—Ten cents make one dollar.

Thursday—Ten dollars make one eagle.
Friday—Ten eagles make $100.
Saturday—Ten $100 make $1000.
Sunday—Ten $1000 make $10,000.

Mister Jiggs and Maggie will arrive in our midst tomorrow with a bevy of chorus girls which should delight the tired business men.

It's an age of small and compact things—even the milk of kindness now comes condensed.

OH, POP!

Dear Dad: I am asking you for some cash sooner than I had hoped, but you see several things have come up—books, dues, laboratory fees, room rent, etc. Please send me a check for eighty dollars.

Respectfully,

YOUR SON.

My Dear Son: I received your special today and am enclosing the amount you asked for. I was in college once myself, you know. With love,

DAD.

P. S. Is she good looking?

Walter—I say, sir, you need not dust off the plate with the napkin here.

Luncher—Beg pardon! Just force of habit, you know. I've been a baseball umpire.

FATHER BREAKS IT GENTLY

"That young man of yours," said father, as daughter came down for breakfast, "should be in a museum for living freaks."

"Why, father!" exclaimed the young lady, in tones of indignation, "what do you mean?"

"I noticed when I passed through the hall late last night," answered the parent, "that he had two heads upon his shoulder."

The new piece, which is in three acts, is based on the ever-popular and ever-green cartoons of George McManus, "Bringing Up Father." Here we are to have Jiggs Mahoney, Father, solving the greatest and most important problem of his career. If you recall, that is if you have been a faithful and consistent devotee of the other "Father" plays, Jiggs is at the beck and call and money of Maggie, his terminant wife. Maggie still hearkens Jiggs as of yore and like the proverbial worm Jiggs has decided to turn. Therefore, whatever he does to upset all Maggie's plans and calculations must needs help to supply one of the most diverting and withal most original entertainments seen hereabouts in seasons. In addition to a large and well-selected company other features will be in evidence such as special musical numbers; a bevy of pretty women; unique costumes and other intangible ingredients. The new play bears the title of "Father On His Vacation."

We've often wondered why they don't christen babies like they do ships but we guess it hurt a little to break a bottle of milk over a poor kid's dome.

One thing about a correspondence school is that the freshmen don't have to stand for being paddled, wear dunce caps, and put up with a lot of tommyrot that goes with college. A college education is a fine thing after you get it, but this idea of having to go to school a whole year with a bunch of geeks that think every night is Hal- loween makes life strenuous for the poor freshman.

THE PRESS FEEDER

Cute hick squab in Hollywood Tried—but little—to be good; Slipped and tripped, with an awful bang; A little more copy for the newspaper gang.

Curious granger from Kankakee Went to city the sights to see; Got rolled flat like a smashed tomatoe Another short take for the operator.

Now the deadly triangle in fam'ly life The fast man fools with the slow man's wife; Now he's gone for a nice, long rest; A little "night press" for proofreader's desk.

Let come good news or let it come ill, It's all good grief for the newspaper mill; If you make a wad, or blow up in a mess, It's all good feed for the big web press.

Sam Gompers is making a canvass aiming towards the return of light wines and beer. Sam's fingerin' on a hot summer.

Prophet Bell tripped lightly into yed-yo sanctum today with that "I told you so" smile of high and we thanked him profusely for the sunshine.

The "city beautiful" got together meetin' will be held tonight and the town band will test a bit and the village orators will spill a few adjectives and it looks like a good time from where we're seated.

To make headway, improve your head.

GOVERNOR PIERCE
LAUDED FOR STAND

Committee of Methodist Church Members Commend Governor for Stand Taken Relative to law Enforcement.

At the last regular church night service of the Methodist Church a committee was appointed to express the sentiment of the congregation regarding the stand on the prohibition question as voiced in his inaugural address. The committee sent the following letter the last of the week:

Roseburg, Oregon, Jan. 13, 1922
Hon. Walter M. Pierce,
Salem, Oregon.

Dear Governor Pierce:
At the regular church night service of the First Methodist Church of this city, the undersigned were named as a committee to express to you our sincere and hearty appreciation of the fearless and determined position you have expressed in your inaugural address, relative to the enforcement of the prohibition laws, and in this effort, we pledge to you our unqualified support.

We feel that the money sentence imposed upon the bootlegger and moonshiner is not sufficient, and the only means of breaking up this lawless gang is to impose the jail sentence, and instead of remitting the jail sentence, where both money and jail sentences are imposed, the sensible thing would be for the Court to remit the money, and enforce the prison penalty.

We also wish to assure you that Douglas county has officers who are enforcing all laws, without fear or favor.

With best wishes for you, during your administration as Governor of this great State, we are:

Yours Very Truly,
Mrs. A. C. MARSTERS
Mrs. A. J. GEDDES
Mrs. W. M. AUSTIN

JIGGS AND MAGGIE
COMING TO ANTLETS

If one is looking for the unconventional and the unusual in musical comedy special reference should be made anent the new and triumphant offering underlined to hold the boards at Antlets Theatre tomorrow night.

The new piece, which is in three acts, is based on the ever-popular and ever-green cartoons of George McManus, "Bringing Up Father." Here we are to have Jiggs Mahoney, Father, solving the greatest and most important problem of his career. If you recall, that is if you have been a faithful and consistent devotee of the other "Father" plays, Jiggs is at the beck and call and money of Maggie, his terminant wife. STEEL CARS ARE
TO BE INSTALLED

(By United Press) — East Bay cities patrons of the Key Route lines are patrolling in the announcement of the company that it has ordered fifty of the very latest type steel street cars for delivery in April and May.

The new cars, designed by the company's engineers are of a new type known as "one-man, two-man double-deck safety cars." They are so-called because they will be operated by one man during the hours of light traffic, while there will be a crew of two for the hours of peak load morning and night. The cars can be run separately or coupled into trains. The very latest automatic safety devices, pneumatic controls, and other improvements have been specified. The cars will be, according to General Manager W. R. Alberger, the first of their kind to be built anywhere.

The new equipment, costing $800,000, will be built by the American Car Company of St. Louis.

"YOU'LL BE SURPRISED"
WILL SUPPLY THRILLS

When describing "You'll Be Surprised" one becomes "just naturally stumped for words." It has everything. It goes the gamut of emotions to offer good things in entertainment.

How romance, sentimentally fragrant, is admirably fused with blithe buoyant dancing and music alternately biting and languorous. It has everything. The gamut of clothes and scenery and accessories in themselves constitute a pageant at once climatic and iridescent. Presented as a picture of gaiety, a range of color, a beauty of music, light and dancing far in excess of the custom-

TAKES HOLD AND HELPS

Colds that "hang on" should be gotten rid of, for no one can stand the strain of racking cough, disturbed sleep and irritation of throat and lungs. Marie Heiler, Freeport, Ill., writes: "I had more or less of a cough for years and I have taken quite a number of medicines. None of them takes hold and helps like Foley's Honey and Tar." This old, reliable cough syrup promptly helps coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Contains no opiates. Children like it.
