ROSEBURG, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1923.

THE ROOT OF THE WORLD'S TROUBLES

Most of the troubles from which America and the world are suffering can be traced to the spirit of narrow self-seeking. You can get instances of it in the life of any community. The majority of people in forming opinions on public policy, are inclined to consider their own wants alone. They brood over troubles and wrongs, real or fancied, and decide that this or that must be done for their special benefit. They do not consider what the community or country needs as a whole, and whether their line of policy will be generally beneficial to the people or not. No class of people can be happy and prosperous unless the whole country is doing well. If a line of policy is adopted which may seem beneficial to one element, but which is harmful to the whole country, the element supposed to benefit from such measures will lose more from the harm done to this country as a whole than it can gain through the special favor it has received. This spirit has raised the mischief with Europe. At bottom it was the cause of the great war. For many years the nations had been scheming and striving, each for their own advantage. Each one of them laid plans for their own aggrandizement, but there was little disposition to plan for the general welfare. No people was able to see any country's point of view but their own, consequently there was no effort to make a general adjustment that would be fair all around and keep everybody reasonably satisfied. The atrocious act of the German empire in invading peaceful countries was the immediate cause of the war. But back of that was the general grabbing spirit. The nations, including the United States, must stop grabbing for selfish advantage, and try to plan out projects for the benefit of the whole world.

The Oregon legislature has "stood pat" for over a week without accomplishing very much in the way of constructive legislation. The procedure can be applied to both the upper and lower house. This in no way proclaims a bad omen. The members seem to want to get their balance before proceeding and to avoid any haphazard work. If there is anything this state needs at the present time that need is cautious deliberation, and a scarcity of measures in either house is a very good foundation for a successful legislative program. If the entire session gives way to those important matters affecting curtailment of financing state government and brushes aside the usual avalanche of worthless measures, it will have accomplished much toward getting away from the break-neck speed we have been traveling in the way of creating burdensome taxation. It is not a case of more laws, but a summing up of present conditions and the introduction of a construction program that will put the state's machinery in operation in the most efficient manner at the lowest minimum cost. We cannot afford to stifle industries of any kind, neither can we anticipate a prosperous and growing state by perverted and narrow legislation. We must be economical, conservative and constructive in order to reach those attainments that bespeak intelligent government. It is well that we proceed slowly and cautiously. It is a very hopeful condition and one that should be maintained throughout the entire session of the legislature.

Human nature is supposed to be a weak and selfish thing in this age when people are all grabbing selfishly for themselves. But often some one in a moment of emergency shows ability to perform a noble act of courage and devotion. Often it is some quite young person, and it may be some slight woman or girl as often as any strong or powerful man who might seem more capable of such acts. So it happened one day last summer, when a young New York city miss of 15 years of age, Cressa Anderson, while wearing only a bathing suit, ran into burning bungalows at Arverne and saved six children and one woman. Her deed is now recognized by a medal from the Safety Institute of America. The world is still full of latent heroism, and those who live unselfishly in daily life are likely to rise to the occasion if some fearful emergency comes.

When "civics" is mentioned as a school study, some people think it sounds highbrow and unpractical. One reason why government is often unsatisfactory, is that a vast number of people have no conception of their civic duties, and no idea of the practical steps necessary to secure good government. Every boy and girl ought to learn something in school about their prospective duties as citizens. They should find out how they will suffer from bad or inefficient government or high taxes. They should be given some idea of how people can improve governing conditions. They should be warned against the fakes of politics. Lessons of this kind, if taught in a spirit of non-partisanship, ought to be just as useful to a coming citizen as anything found in any lesson book.

Without any frills, paint, powder, picked eye lashes, or eye brows, or huge circles of pale blue around a set of "beautiful" eyes, devoid of rosy, carmine-painted cheeks, and knees covered with silk and wool hose—no extreme below or above the waist line—Maggie and Jiggs jigged into our community and gave a performance at the opera house last evening. We must confess, from this date henceforth no reflection will ever be cast on the paint and powder industry. It certainly covers up a multitude of homely mugs.

Did you notice that beautiful and steady downpour we had last evening? Wonderful, wasn't it?

It never rains but it pours.

PRUNE PICKIN'S

BY BERT G BATES

GOOD EVENING, FOLKS—
The drys are holding
A celebration today,
But they sure picked
A wet day for it.

We wish ol' Jupe Pluvius would turn prohibitionist for a while.

George McManus, the creator of Maggie and Jiggs, would have spent a nervous night if he'd seen the "Bringing Up Father" show last eve.

Incoming and outgoing hobos were treated with a spectacular sight about two a. m. today when a house burned down in Alex. addition, just across the river from the railroad yards.

Rody Valentino is going to appear in our village purty soon in his new dramy entitled "Gore and Blackmud," or something like that.

We can't help but spring that ol' gag about this being a fine day for geese.

If that was a BEAUTY chorus in the show last night we're the Queen of Sheba.

"Let us raise lettuce" should be the slogan for Douglas county's new industry.

Our Inquisitive Reporter reports that galoshes aren't being worn this season in these parts.

The Elks herd will gallop around the dance floor tomorrow evening for no reason that we can think of.

As we skipped along Cass st. towards the p. o. today we met a local feller who insisted on stopping us under an eave trough while he told us a gag which we had read in last year's Whiz Bang.

'S TUFF LUCK

Today's the first day Ye ed. hasn't rec'd a letter from our constituents. Mebbe nobody read our colyum yistiddy.

Outside of two or three runners in the chorus girl's sox last eve the bunch looked like reg'lar actors.

Why is it the telephone girl pronounces "R" like this: "r-r-r-r-r"?

The state legislature is still, very still, in session.

The boss just dropped in and asked us if we thot he was printing a monthly almanac. So we'll have to hurry up and get thru with this game of typewriter golf.

The French are shoving the huns back a few kilometers these days and we hope that they crowd 'em to the corner and knock 'em for a goal.

Again the street cleaning dept. gets a lay-off on acct. of the heavy rains.

We are advised that the English rhetoric and grammar teachers of the Rsbg. public schools are planning to form an association which will have as its prime object the elimination of Prune Pickin's from the grade schools of the village and we hope that such a move gains widespread recognition for then we can shout to the world that fame is ours. 'Cause you know the Bible is barred from the schools.

Gosh dern it, folks, we hate to be continually finding fault with the cty. council but have you noticed lately how they've ignored all our suggestions?

M. Fickle bounced into our sanctum yistiddy morn with the announcement that the Lilac Circle had bought him an umbrella and later in the day a woman called up the lost and found dept. and inserted an ad which read: "The person who took my umbrella from my porch had better return as he was seen." Mebbe there's no connection.

If it is true that there are no cuss words in the Japanese language, how do the Japs start a Lizzie on a cold morning?

When you get the blues turn to the obituary column and thank the Lord you're alive.

It has just about gotten so in this country that mother has to hustle to get in at night before daughter goes out.

Nine-tenths of the secrets ought to have been choked to death when they were born.

If some birds were as good at doing things as they are at suggesting what others should do and knocking and yammering about conditions as they exist this would be a fine city to live in.

We noticed an article today written by a farmer on the topic "The Scrub Bull" and when we saw the headlines we thot someone was trying to roast this colyum.

Didja ever get a shine and then have some feller step on your dogs and spoil the luster and then hire him gink and mutter "stepped on yer foot, didn't I?"

SEVERE GALES LASHING COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—A severe wind storm, lashing the Pacific coast and moving southward was reported by the United States weather bureau and ships at sea tonight. The Matsonia en route from Honolulu to San Francisco wirelessed its owners here today that great seas were breaking over its pilot house, and its passengers were suffering in the throes of an ailment often associated with sea voyages. The Matsonia's progress has been materially retarded, the message said, and the vessel will be one or two days overdue.

Reports from the weather bureau indicate the storm which first centered itself off Vancouver Island, is working south and southeast into the nothern Pacific coast states. The storm, it is thought will blow itself out in Northern California.

Wireless communication between the United States and the far east as well as communication from ship to ship has been partly disrupted by the storm.

Steamer Reports 48-Mile Gale

The steamer President Lincoln, due here Monday from Honolulu, reported a 48-mile gale. The President Harrison, on the way to Honolulu from San Pedro, was in a 30-mile gale at the southerly apex of the storm circle, while the Niagara, bound from Honolulu to Seattle, was bucking a 31-mile head wind.

The Matsonia reported a succession of head winds and high seas since leaving Honolulu and was making her way at reduced speed through a 34-mile gale. She is already 24 hours late.

The navy radio reported that it could not raise Honolulu.

The weather bureau put out storm warnings from Point Reyes, Cal., to Tatoosh, Wash., today. A 50-mile gale struck Point Reyes and the wind was said to be raising there.

The wind is coming from all directions in the storm area, the southeasterly and northeasterly winds predominating.

Merciless Neuritis

Legs of Hades armed with red-hot pitch-forks could scarcely inflict more cruel, agonizing torture than that endured by many sufferers from neuritis.

The sharp, stabbing pains caused by this disease are usually centered about the shoulder, neck, forearm, small of the back or along the thigh and leg in the region of the sciatic nerve. Sometimes they move from one part to another, sending out lightning jabs which produce untold misery.

If you want relief, apply Tyzmol over the part that hurts, and the pain should disappear.

Tyzmol is absorbed through the pores of the skin and has a soothing, healing effect upon the inflamed diseased nerves. Contains no "dope." Guaranteed harmless. Price at W. F. Chapman druggist. Tyzmol Company, Mfg. Chemists, 400 Sutter St. San Francisco.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Myrtle Creek, Jan. 1[illegible]

Editor News-Review:

Dear Sir: I notice in a recent [illegible] you say something about putting shade trees along the [illegible] maples, for instance. Now I [illegible] that you do not make the mistake many towns by planting maples if you do plant, why not have greens—firs, cedars, laurels, [illegible] etc.? But would it not be better substitute nut-bearing trees [illegible] pecans, almonds, English [illegible] etc. Something both useful and [illegible] mental. What say?
