INCOME TAX DUE BEFORE MARCH 15

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 23.—Blanks for the use of individual taxpayers in making out their income tax returns for the year 1922 have been mailed by Clyde G. Huntley, collector of internal revenue, to every taxpayer who filed a return for the year 1921. These returns must be made out and filed in the collector's office not later than March 15. Each return must be accompanied by a payment of at least one-fourth of the amount of the tax, or, in the option of the taxpayer, the entire amount may be paid at the time of filing, although the government urges payment of the tax in full on or before March 15. Where the taxpayer pays only one-fourth of his tax when he files his return, he has the privilege of paying the balance in three equal installments on June 15, September 15 and December 15, respectively.

"The law requiring the filing of federal income tax returns for the year 1922 is substantially the same as that governing similar filings for the preceding year," said Collector Huntley today. "Returns must be filed by the following persons:

"Every individual who has a net income of $1000 or more, if single, or if married and not living with wife or husband;

"Every individual who had a net income of $2000 or more, if married and living with husband or wife;

"Every individual who had a gross income of $5000 or more, regardless of whether or not that sum netted him a cent of profit.

"The exemptions are the same as those allowed last year: Single person, $1000; head of a family, or married person living with husband or wife $2500, unless the net income is in excess of $5000 in which case the exemption is only $2000; for each dependent under 18 years of age or incapable of self support, $400.

"Do not confuse these exemptions with the necessity of filing returns if the net income of a married person is $2000 or the head of a family (not married) is $1000.

"In other words, a single person claiming exemption as the head of a family must file a return if his net income is $1000 or more, notwithstanding the fact that as head of a family he is entitled to an exemption of $2500 as well as $400 for each dependent.

"Likewise every married person, living with husband or wife, in order to claim the exemption of $2500 and $400 for each dependent must make a return although his actual net income for 1922 may have been only $2000.

"In both cases cited, the taxpayer must make a return in order to claim the exemption to which he is entitled under the law, although the application of those deductions may exempt him from the payment of any income tax."

It is not necessary for any taxpayer who filed a return last year to apply to the collector's office for the necessary blank upon which to make the 1922 return. He will receive the required blank through the mail within the next few days.

Collector Huntley announces that blanks for the use of corporations and partnerships will be mailed to interested taxpayers as soon as received from Washington.

SEVERAL FAMILIES COMING TO DOUGLAS

Writing from Bozeman, Montana, a resident of that state informs the News-Review that he is leaving there this week for Oregon, and that he will probably reach Roseburg in a short time. The gentleman has been a reader of this paper for several weeks, and when the New Year edition was issued had several copies sent him for distribution among friends there. He also states that several families are joining him in the exodus from Montana to Douglas county, and still others are considering the advisability of moving from the northern state to this section. Extreme cold in winter, heat and drought in summer coupled with scant crops there, have been the contributing causes which have led these people to turn their faces toward the Umpqua Valley, and the News-Review has been the medium which has so faithfully carried news of happier conditions obtainable here, leading them to look in this direction for future homes.

STATEWIDE CAMPAIGN ON MARKETING PLAN

Farmers of this and every other district of Oregon will be given a chance to learn about cooperative marketing if the plan adopted by the Oregon Cooperative council at Salem Jan. 17 is carried out. A state-wide educational campaign was agreed on by the 12 associations composing the council, to be conducted by specialists of the state college extension service.

What the new system is, how it works and some things it has already accomplished in Oregon, will be told in this campaign. Already wheat prices have been raised from 88 per cent of Kansas prices to 102 per cent, making Portland the best as well as one of the largest wheat markets in the United States. The 23 million bushels of wheat handled by the Northwest Grain growers netted growers 10 to 12 cents a bushel more than ruling prices, said George G. Jewett, manager.

We handled one-third of our 60 million pounds of prunes this year," said Robert C. Paulis, manager of the Oregon Growers. "We have opened new markets in every European country but Ireland—and hope we can get them to eat Mistland prunes. The price was more than a cent a pound better than going prices."

So with hay—80,000 tons which brought $180,000 more for farmers than if it had been sold individually; and wool, half a million pounds at 2 cents a pound gain; and eggs, 3-4 million dozen for 1200 members at an advance of 1.2 cents over ruling market prices.

The state bankers association, state grange, farm bureau, farmers union, agricultural committee of the Portland chamber of commerce Governor Pierce, William Hanley, president of the state chamber of commerce—all are back of the movement. College extension specialists will carry the message in the campaign, and the cooperating associations will make local arrangements and assist in other ways to make farmers acquainted with the system.

PROBE TO BE MADE OF PARDON ACTIVITY

PORTLAND, Jan. 22.—That Roy Ritner, acting governor during the last days of the old year, started something when he took his pardoning pen in hand and wrote out with a flourish an order setting free numbers of convicts, many of them murderers serving life terms and men convicted of crimes gainst women, became apparent Saturday when a committee from the state bar association began an inquiry into the circumstance of such wholesale executive clemency.

So extraordinary were the circumstances that the association decided it called for more than mere casual passing comment and that an investigation should be had. Joseph N. Teal and Richard W. Montague were named on the committee to probe the freeing of such numbers of prisoners during the dying days of the old year.

The committeemen were seen in Salem Saturday, where it is understood they took up the subject of the pardons and paroles and, when their inquiry shall have been completed, they will make a report to the bar association. They would say nothing of their mission at Salem. Just how soon a report may be looked for is not yet known.

The official records show that during the orgy of prisoner liberation just before the holidays, 30 prisoners were paroled and conditional pardons were granted to 33 more. This amounted to setting free about 14 per cent of the population of the state penitentiary.

Of the number conditionally pardoned, 12 were convicted of murder and four of crimes against women. Of the group paroled, five were serving sentences for attacks on women.

In each case, however, approval of the state parole board was given to the action of Acting Governor Ritner. This board consisted of Ira Martin of Portland and D. H. Upjohn and Louis Lachmund of Salem.

SURPRISE PARTY ENJOYED

The young people of the Christian church last night took Monroe Hilton by surprise, on the anniversary of his birthday. Monroe had gone to scout meeting, and some of the boys had to go for him. A large number were present. After giving Monroe a spanking to start him right on his new year, the evening was spent in playing games. Ice cream and cake had been prepared and at a very late hour the young people wishing the boy many happy returns reluctantly left for their homes.
