PRICE MEETINGS TO START NEXT SUNDAY

Preparations Are Made for the Handling of the Large Crowds Which Are Expected to Attend Revival Services.

The Free Methodist and Presbyterian churches together with members from most of the other congregations in this city are co-operating in the Revival Campaign which will be held in the Armory from February 4th to 25th inclusive. The services will begin next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and the committee on arrangements are doing everything possible for the convenience and comfort of those who will attend the services; they expect to have the armory ready for the opening service on Sunday morning. The seats are now being made and there will probably be accommodations for about 2000 people. The committee has engaged a nurse who will be on duty every afternoon and evening during the campaign, to care for small children in the room set apart for a nursery. Any persons bringing small children into the main hall will be required to sit in a section that will be assigned for this purpose at the rear of the hall on the left hand side of the entrance. This is done so that the child may be taken out if it becomes restless, and the audience need not be disturbed. Space will be reserved at the front of the hall, on the right hand side of the platform for invalids who may bring their own chairs or seeding accommodations.

"Tarrying Meetings" will be held each night of the Campaign, in the Parlors of the Presbyterian church, at the close of the evening services at the Armory; these services will be devotional in character, those attending will spend the time in prayer. For further information phone 443.

ONE-FOURTH LIQUOR FINES GO TO STATE

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 29.—One-fourth of the fines and forfeitures derived from liquor cases, up to the amount of $25,000, will go into a special fund to be used by the governor in enforcing the prohibition laws of the state, under an agreement reached in the senate today. The remaining 75 per cent of such fines and forfeitures, up to the amount of $2,000, will go into special funds to be used by the district attorneys of the various counties for a similar purpose.

The bill, providing for placing the enforcement of the prohibition laws squarely up to the governor, was introduced by Senator Eddy and came up for third reading today. Senator Eddy explained that he did not prepare the measure, but that it was drafted at the request of Governor Pierce and placed in his hands for introduction.

Central Authority Urged.

The bill, as introduced, provides that 50 per cent of the fines and forfeitures in liquor cases, up to the amount of $25,000, should go into the governor's special fund.

"I do not think that this amount is excessive," said Senator Eddy. "Despite the fact that a number of district attorneys of the state have complained that the law will deprive their counties of money which should be used locally for criminal prosecutions. "Prohibition is not a local issue, but is of state-wide importance. There are counties in Oregon where the prohibition law is promiscuously violated, and because of this there should be some centralized authority for enforcement of the liquor statutes. Under this bill, if approved, the governor will have the power to send special officers into counties where the local officers are unable or unwilling to enforce the prohibition laws."

Aid Available for Counties.

Senator Dennis declared that in many remote counties the funds to prosecute bootleggers and moonshiners were lacking and the Eddy bill would create needed means for meeting the situation.

"Under the Eddy bill," said Senator Dennis, "a county without sufficient funds could ask for state aid, and officers would be made available to cope with the situation. Under the present arrangement many moonshiners and other liquor law violators go unpunished."

Other senators who spoke on the bill included Tooze, Joseph and Brown. These said they favored the principle, but thought the bill might be improved by amendments.

A motion offered by Senator Joseph that the bill should be referred to the committee on alcoholic traffic for the purpose of reducing the state's proportionment of the fines and forfeitures from 50 to 25 per cent was approved.

What does the cup supply for you?

Many people find harm to health in the seeming friendliness of coffee and tea. They first notice the unfriendly side of their table drink in sleeplessness and nerve-irritation—signs that health is being disturbed by the drug, caffeine, which these beverages contain.

It pays to face the facts when health is involved. It's a good plan to look for the cause of restless nights and nerve-fagged days.

Postum is a safe and satisfying mealtime drink for everybody. It meets every demand of taste, and it contains nothing which can disturb health. The children may safely share it with you—as many cups as desired, without risk of disagreeable after-effects.

There's charm without harm in Postum—the famous cereal beverage.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN GOLDENDALE

The following account of the death of a former Roseburg resident and brother of Mrs. Wm. Allen of this city, is taken from the Goldendale, Washington paper:

James Adney Gilmore was born in Douglas county, Oregon, June 15th, 1860. He resided in Roseburg, Oregon until early manhood, when he moved with his parents to Goldendale, Washington.

When thirty four years of age he was united in marriage with Nora Ellen Green of Blockhouse, Washington. In 1900 his wife passed away leaving him with three small children. In 1901 his infant daughter, Clara Bell, died.

Mr. Gilmore died at his home in Goldendale, December 12th, 1922, after a long illness, and leaves to mourn his loss two daughters, Mrs. Loris Yeackel of Toppenish, Wash., and Mrs. Louis Ritzschke, who resides near Goldendale. Also two brothers, M. P. Gilmore of Glenwood, Wash., and D. M. Gilmore of Cottage Grove, Oregon. Three sisters also survive: Mrs. Lee McElrath of Cottage Grove, Oregon, Mrs. Wm. Allen of Roseburg, Oregon, and Mrs. Frank Martin of San Francisco, Calif., and four small grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Chapman chapel Friday, followed by interment in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. M. L. Sanders, D. D., officiated at the services.

Don't let friction "warm up" your engine

A poor cold test oil will not lubricate your motor in cold weather. It congeals around the pistons and bearings, so that while your engine is warming up it is running practically without any lubrication. The result: worn bearings, scored cylinder walls, and drain on batteries.

Zerolene for Winter Lubrication

Zerolene No. 1, No. 3 and No. 5 flow freely at zero, so that the engine bearings get oil even when the motor is cold. The correct body of Zerolene will make starting much easier on your battery, eliminate the danger of burnt out bearings and noticeably increase the power and responsiveness of your engine. Consult the recommendations for winter lubrication as shown in the Zerolene Correct Lubrication Chart.
