PORTLAND, Feb. 13.—Continued cold and snow flurries is the prediction for tonight with probably fair weather tomorrow. This prediction served to cheer the northwest somewhat today as snow fell in a continued blanket with forecasts for its continuance all day. The snow is confined to the area west of the Cascade range this morning. The temperature varied from 18 degrees above at Portland to 8 degrees below at Spokane this morning. The storm is moving southward. Severe gales continued to lash the coastal sections.

The federal laws, and also prohibited having any worms, or mash or paraffin for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor. This makes mandatory a jail sentence for the first offense, in addition to a fine of not more than $3000. The jail sentence may be for 30 days to one year, or it makes it optional with the court to send a man to the penitentiary from one to three years in addition to a fine of not more than $3000.

A neighborhood row was aired in the local justice court this morning when Gurney McDaniels, a Garden Valley farmer, was given a hearing on a charge of assault and battery. McDaniels was accused of striking Mrs. Emma Niday and her sister, Mrs. Price, and was found guilty and fined $15 and costs.

For the second offense a felony sentence is mandatory, the penalty being from one to three years in the penitentiary with the addition of a fine up to $3000.

The case started, it was shown by the testimony, over a cow. Mrs. Niday allowed her cow to run loose, according to the testimony, leaving it on a vacant piece of property near her home. McDaniels objected and when the cow got into his yard Mrs. McDaniels tied the animal up.

AGREEMENT REACHED
ON ALL AMENDMENTS

(By Associated Press.)
SALEM, Or., Feb. 13.—An agreement was reached at noon today between the governor and the seven senators who introduced the compromise consolidation bill. The senators accepted the amendments proposed by the governor. Three senators were reported added to the group, Strayer, Johnson and Kinney, making 21 supporting the bill.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The Norris amendment to the federal constitution eliminating the present session of an old congress after the election of a new congress and changing the inaugural date from March 4 to the third Monday in January, was approved by the senate today. It now goes to the house.

NORRIS AMENDMENT
APPROVED BY SENATE

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The Norris amendment to the federal constitution eliminating the present session of an old congress after the election of a new congress and changing the inaugural date from March 4 to the third Monday in January, was approved by the senate today. It now goes to the house.

Several new features introduced this year will contribute, it is expected, to a much larger gathering than in any previous year. Among these is the circumstance that both the state association, from its headquarters in Portland, and the local merchants' association here, have been urging the delegates to bring their wives with them this year.

first of these found its way to the home through the Clackamas delegation and proceeded to cover the seizure and forfeitures. Under this provision any boat, vehicle or concealing intoxicating liquor subject to seizure and sale, the penalties being the railroad car or vessel of ocean going with a burden of twenty cubic feet.

These are probably the most drastic prohibition laws yet passed in any state, or at least it is believed here the entire prohibition code as now enacted, comes the nearest from the standpoint of laws at least, to making Oregon a genuine "bone dry" state than any other state in the union.

McDaniels on the stand admitted tying up the cow and holding it from Mrs. Niday. He says he told her he would keep the animal until he could settle with her husband. When Mr. Niday came later in the day, following the encounter, Mr. McDaniels allowed him to take the cow.

DUSSELDORF, Feb. 13.—The French and Belgians today took over all of the railroads in the Ruhr. A proclamation was issued announcing that henceforth the roads will be under the orders of the occupying forces. The German railway workers will be employed if they agree to obey orders.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL
SIDETRACKED TODAY

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The administration ship subsidy bill was sidetracked in the senate today in favor of the British debt settlement bill. This action was taken after the party leaders had conferred with Harding and then revamped the program announced yesterday of considering the two measures concurrently.

Another feature of the convention which is entirely new this year is an educational program put on by the School of Business Administration of the University of Oregon. Previous conventions of the Oregon Retail Merchants' Association have been held in Roseburg, Marshfield, Astoria, Salem, Portland, Medford, La Grande, Hillsboro and elsewhere, but never before in Eugene.

plain temper of the legislature threshed out on this bill,
with its passage all strenuous opposition to stringent prohibition seems to have dropped away. But violent objections were raised to this bill. Individual cases the objectioned that it was earnestly opposed of garnering in the boot-legger who commercialized the sale of liquor, that he would favor any bill which would bring about that result, but in the individual cases individual objections were heard.

To top them off the legislature did not forget the enforcement part of the program, and passed the Eddy senate bill which places in the hands of the governor, vastly more comprehensive agencies, with greater ramifications than that of official ever was armed with before, and the governor declares he will use it to the last dollar. In fact the governor has declared open war on the bootlegger, only asking that he be given the weapons to wield and the ammunition to load them with.

Upon this showing of the law the court fined McDaniels $15 and costs. A request made by Mrs. Niday that McDaniels be placed under peace bonds was denied.

Dr. S. L. DeLapp left this morning for Eugene to attend the meeting of the Willamette Valley Osteopathic Association.

EDITOR MALLORY OF THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE introduced Dr. Stewart, commander of Umpqua Post, who made a plea for the vets to sign up with the legion and lend valuable aid in caring for the wounded soldiers and fighting the fight for adjusted compensation.

"BARNSTORMERS" OF LEGION MAKE A HIT

The city of Oakland was "busted wide open" with jazz and pep last evening when the Umpqua Post entertainers, speechsters, and "personal workers" formed a caravan and journeyed to that place for the purpose of "selling" the American Legion to the residents of that section. The entire city turned out for the entertainment and the Bungalow theater was crammed to capacity.

Taking advantage of the holding of the 1923 convention in the city where the University of Oregon is located, the merchants in co-operation with the authorities of the University have arranged for a regular course of lectures and discussions on the most modern methods in retail business.

The Eddy bill provides that 25 per cent of the fines collected from convictions of violators of the prohibition laws shall be turned into the state treasury to be used by the governor in hiring special agents with which to enforce the prohibition laws. This fund cannot become greater, the law provides, than $25,000 in any one calendar year. The balance of the fines goes to the county and can be used for the employment of special agents by the district attorneys of the county court sees fit.

HARDING NAMES NEW POSTMASTER GENERAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—President Harding has decided to name Postmaster General Work as secretary of interior, succeeding Albert Fall, resigned. It was learned today following the cabinet meeting, Senator Harry New, of Indiana, will be named postmaster general succeeding Work. A formal announcement is expected shortly.

The senate passed six bills and received three new bills. They deferred action on several others. The capitol situation is tense as the time approaches for action on the big bills.

Editor Mallory of the Oakland Tribune introduced Dr. Stewart, commander of Umpqua Post, who made a plea for the vets to sign up with the legion and lend valuable aid in caring for the wounded soldiers and fighting the fight for adjusted compensation.

Guy Gordon, active member of the local post, gave the principal address, stressing Americanism and support of the legion organization. Mr. Gordon is a wonderful speaker and his talk last night was to the point.

Still another new feature this year—and this one is regarded as of prime importance—is the segregation of the merchants at the convention into trade groups. Each group will be attention to topics of the greatest practical importance to the members of that group, these topics being at the same time of relatively small interest to the other groups.

CONSOLIDATION BILL IS BACK IN SENATE

(By United Press.)
SALEM, Feb. 13.—With amendments giving the governor power over the fish and game and banking commission, abolishing the state board of education and the board of forestry and continuing the veterans and insurance departments as at present, the consolidation bill was slated to come back into the senate this afternoon.

The senate passed six bills and received three new bills. They deferred action on several others. The capitol situation is tense as the time approaches for action on the big bills.

The affair was most successful from every standpoint and many Oakland vets signed membership cards with the Umpqua Post. On next Monday night the legion "barnstormers" will take Glendale "by storm" and they are arranging an unusually fine program for the occasion.

Following the meeting the audience was invited to go to the Odd Fellows hall where the Umpqua Five again pounded out some jazz numbers for the dancers. The dancing continued until 11:30 o'clock at which time the Oakland committee served doughnuts and coffee.

REDSPOUT CASE SET.

The trial of Jack Connolly, of Redspout, charged with the sale of intoxicating liquor, will be tried in the justice court in Roseburg on Monday, Feb. 19. Connolly was formerly deputy sheriff at Redspout and figured very prominently in the recent factional trouble at that city.

COPINGS BEING REPAIRED.

Copings on the Parrot building on Jackson street, occupied by the Marksbury store, Roseburg Book Store and adjoining places of business, are being repaired. It was found upon investigation that the mortar holding the brick had loosened and that a large portion of the coping was about ready to fall into the street. Workmen are removing the loose brick and will make the building entirely safe.
