TRAFFIC GUIDES ARE PUT IN PLACE

New traffic monuments which were ordered some time ago by the council and prepared under the direction of Mayor Rice, were put out and are a decided improvement over the dangerous monuments which formerly served as traffic guides. The monuments are dome-shaped and low enough that the ordinary driver can see them if forced by traffic to make a cut. They will clear them if forced by traffic to make a cut. HISTORIC HOME FOR AMERICA?

Possibility That Dwelling in Which Miles Standish Was Born May Be Brought Here. The hero of Longfellow's poem, "The Courtship of Miles Standish," was a real historical character, who was born in Lancashire, England, somewhere about 1584. It is now suggested that the house where he was born should be transported to New England. It is even said that within six months the four rooms of the Standish home now located in the parish of Standish, near Wigan, Lancashire, England, will be fitted into the house for some United States citizen whose family history goes back to Mayflower days. The Standish house has been occupied by the Standish family since the Norman conquest. One of the ancestral stately homes of England is just now being taken down and carried across the Atlantic to be set up stone by stone somewhere in the States. Now if history belonging to these ancient buildings could also be transferred to the United States, what a heap of renown that enterprising nation could collect and own! Montreal Family Herald.

WILL SEAL TOMB

(By Associated Press) LUXOR, Egypt, Feb. 19.—Tutankhamen's tomb will not be disturbed this season. By the end of the week it is most probable that the aperture in the sealed door of the tomb will be screened with wadding on a wooden framework and that the debris of centuries will be piled into the tomb shaft as the most effective protection against theft. A police guard will remain throughout the summer. The crowds seeking admittance to the fourth chamber Sunday were of such proportions that the Egyptian authorities this morning forbade any further incursion.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

RELATING TO PRICE HEALINGS AT ALBANY

The following article published in the Pacific Christian Advocate, later copied by the Albany Democrat, where Dr. Price recently conducted a series of meetings, has been given to the News-Review with the request that it be published. The article follows in full:

Rev. C. S. Price is a Disciple of Mrs. Sempie McPherson. (By E. S. Hammond, of Kimball School of Theology, Willamette University, Salem, Oregon.)

During the Price meetings at Albany, a company of about 40 went down from Kimball one night to attend the service. There was an immense crowd. Many could not get in to the armory where the meetings were held. As I had previously arranged for reserved seats for our party, we got in without difficulty. Otherwise we should have been obliged to reach the hall at about 4 o'clock. Hundreds failed to gain admission.

Several things impressed me first, the music was large in quantity rather than in quality and there was little thought in the words. Second, there was but one prayer, addressed largely to Kimball delegation. Third, there was no Scripture lesson, not even a text. Fourth, the sermon was interesting, quite largely by the personal experiences of Dr. Price. It was not a thoughtful or orderly discourse. Fifth, while Price claimed to be an educational man, a Doctor of Philosophy and a former Higher Critic, he said that Paul was a Pharisee and therefore "did not believe in the resurrection" and that he "belonged to the Liberal party among his people." Sixth, in order to impress our students, he told the story of "His Mother's Sermon" from "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush." He got the story sadly jumbled. He represented the boy as casting aside his manuscript and preaching extemporaneously; and he represented further, that the boy discarded the conclusions of critical scholarship and preached the old traditional views; a strange way to tell the story written by Dr. Watson, a critical and devout scholar. Seventh there was a ring of earnestness and sincerity about the evangelist and his helpers which made it hard to resist the influence of the meeting. I should dislike to believe that Price is not sincere. Eighth, the invitation to seek Christ was given about as usual and a few responded. Ninth, but little attention was paid to these seekers, unless helpers at the altar looked after them. The altar was soon cleared. Tenth, the center of interest of the service lay in the "healings." A long procession came onto the stage. Price met them, anointed them one at a time with oil in a cross on the forehead, placed his hands on the head of the candidate and prayed. A large majority of those prayed for went over on their backs and lay, apparently unconscious for from ten to 25 minutes. As they showed signs of reviving, they were helped to chairs or off the platform. A few stood erect all the time and a few showed signs of going over, but rallied. A lady and a gentleman assisted the candidates so that they came down easily, a pillow was placed under the head and they were covered with lap robes. More than once, the platform was nearly covered with prostrate forms.

While this was going on, the choir was singing softly, some suggestive pieces with chorus. A time or two I observed an older religious piece made over into a hymn of healing. A helper stood behind Price to hold him up, and a time or two, he nearly went over. It was as plainly an exhibition of hypnotism as was ever put on an American platform.

Occasionally the singing was stopped to give someone a chance to testify to "healing." In nearly every case, there was nothing but the feeling or the impression of the candidate, by which we could judge whether or not a cure was wrought. The candidate evidently "felt" better, and was convinced of the cure." Time only could verify the claim. We were shown a goitre on the neck of a lady who had been prayed for some time previously. The goitre was not gone but was said to be much smaller—by inference disappearing.

Lastly, it seems to me (a) that the forces involved in these "healings" are purely natural and long-known forces, (b) that a few may be helped physically by this treatment, (c) that some may be helped spiritually by these efforts, (d) that some who seek healing and a large majority who claim healing are not helped, (e) that therefore the general result will be terribly disappointing, disillusioning and deleterious to true religion.

It should be added that these forces Dr. Price is dealing with are dangerous for an inexperienced man to be handling. An expert psychologist who is also a competent physician might accomplish great good to a limited class of patients by such treatment; but one who is neither a psychologist nor a physician should let such things alone.

E. S. Hammond D. D. is professor of theology at the Kimball school of Theology, Willamette university, Salem. He has been on the faculty at the school since it was organized in 1906.

WANTS GOVERNMENT REGULATION OF WHEAT PRICES

Oakland, Ore. Feb. 16, 1923. Editor News-Review: Senator Frank R. Gooding, of Idaho, has introduced a bill in congress to establish the price of wheat at $1.75 per bushel. Senator Gooding, in explaining his bill, states that its purpose is to give relief to wheat farmers, but in reality it will give relief to the entire industrial nation. It will act as a double standard of value, the same as did free coinage of silver in its time. Wheat would be money with the price fixed per bushel, the same as the price of gold is now fixed per ounce by the government. Abraham Lincoln was a strong advocate of the free coinage of silver, and in his campaign speeches inspired the people to search for silver mines, as silver was a hard money for Wall Street to corner, so wheat will be a hard money to corner. However, by way of thinking, this is necessary legislation. Our government invents, manufactures and stabilizes our money, and then turns it loose to be seized and served to the people by Wall Street by their methods, to suit their speculative interests. If the government would go a step further and have laws that would protect our money from being cornered and keep it in consistently in even and uniform circulation, our financial troubles would end. Barring such wholesale robbery, as high tariff, and the proposed ship subsidy bill, the farmer and all other industries would thrive unaided by special laws. I will add, however, that all banks and railroads, and other great utilities that hold such power over the destinies of our nation, should be owned by the government.

NEW LOCOMOTIVES ARE PURCHASED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20, 1923.—The Southern Pacific Company is anticipating increased prosperity on the Pacific Coast by expenditures of millions of dollars for new rolling stock, motive power and improvement of track. J. Kruttschnitt, chairman of the company board of directors, indicated in an interview here today.

Mr. Kruttschnitt announced the addition of a new item to the company "1923 equipment program an order for 59 powerful locomotives to be delivered this year."

The locomotives just ordered include thirty mammoth "2-10-2" mountain freight type locomotives, ten "4-8-2" type mountain-passenger locomotives which will be the most powerful passenger locomotives in the west, and six "4-6-2" type heavy Pacific locomotives for passenger service. All of the locomotives ordered embody the latest refinements in locomotive construction and will be equipped with the most approved devices for saving fuel and increasing power.

The present purchase of 59 locomotives follows closely upon the 1922 expenditure of $4,000,000 for fifty "2-10-2" mountain-freight type engines, the last of which have just been placed in Southern Pacific freight service over the Stikivou and Tehacipi mountains. Other important items in the Southern Pacific's 1923 program for new equipment for its Pacific system include $12,000,000 for 141 new passenger train cars and 4,525 new freight train cars, exclusive of refrigerators, and one half interest in $18,000,000 for 5,330 new refrigerator cars ordered by the Pacific Fruit Express company owned jointly by the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific.

Mr. Kruttschnitt, on tour of inspection, has just returned from Mexico where he went in connection with the Southern Pacific's plan to extend its line from west coast from Tepic into Mexico City thus giving the Pacific Coast a new direct trade channel through Tucson into the chief markets of the Southern Republic.

Construction of the Natron cut-off between Oakridge and Kirk, Ore, that will give an alternative route via Weed, Calif., Klamath Falls and Eugene, Ore., to Portland await action of the district court upon the decision of the interstate commerce commission permitting the Southern Pacific to retain the Central Pacific properties Mr. Kruttschnitt said.

This construction and other improvements and betterments of lines in corporate name of Central Pacific will follow immediately when the court approves the commission's action.

A FAIR OFFER. ACCEPT IT.

We extend a cordial invitation to anyone suffering with catarrh to call and see Hyomel. We will refund the money if Hyomel does not relieve. W. F. Chapman.

ATTEMPTING TO CUT LONG BEACH IN TWO

LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 20.—(United Press)—While the Los Angeles county supervisors are expressing their high-minded indignation against delay in state legislative reapportionment which is depriving Los Angeles of its constitutional number of lawmakers, they are at the same time planning a gerrymander to cut Long Beach into two, thus leaving the city without representation, according to the indignant protests of Long Beach civic officials.

Recall petitions are being prepared against Supervisor R. F. McClellan, of El Monte, who now represents the district including Long Beach, on the ground that he didn't protect this city's interests by fighting against the gerrymander when it came up before the board.

"Are we to be the county's stepchild forever?" asks Long Beach. The gerrymander of the supervisors puts one half of Long Beach in the first district and one half in the fourth, which means that it will be practically impossible for a Long Beach man to be elected in either district.
