ROSEBURG, OREGON, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY, 27, 1923.

THE DEMANDS OF FASHION

A lady who has been visiting in a winter resort hotel in a distant state wrote to a friend the other day, that she felt rather handicapped in her outing by not having a sufficient variety of clothes. She had been to that resort before, and had not expected style to be such a factor as it appeared to be this year.

The folks whose incomes are limited and who can not keep up with this kind of thing, should not feel that they must be governed by it at all. They may not attract as much notice in their simple and less varied clothes, but they need not get it in their heads that any sensible people look down on them.

Public sentiment enthusiastically approved of the new budget system that the government recently adopted. It considers that the government, like any business, should only spend as much as it can afford, that it should decide how much money it ought to spend, and then apportion the same scientifically among the various items of cost.

The League of Kansas Municipalities is stimulating interest in better city government by holding four essay contests for high school pupils. The four subjects now suggested are: "My home town," "Fire prevention," "Duties of the mayor," and "Civic duties of a high school student."

"Liberty, equality, and fraternity" was the watchword of the French revolution, and it is a noble one. These qualities, particularly fraternity, are needed at this time. But perhaps some other conditions are even more urgently required just now.

PRUNE PICKIN'S BY BERT G. BATES

GOOD EVENING FOLKS The outgo tax collectors Are in the village Harassing those who Have been waiting Until March 14th To file their returns.

The Barnstormers barnstormed into Sutherland last eve, leaving a path of grins on the faces of those who were fortunate enough to go home early and put the baby to bed.

Why do they always say, "The hostess served a delicious luncheon late in the afternoon" when half the guests go home wondering what that funny tasting stuff was in the salad.

The spring gardeners are out in full force this week spading and hoeing and cussing. Aggie Pitchford, who sells dime novels on Casa street, has been attending court recently in her official capacity of juvenile officer.

Madrid Spain has the finest collection of paintings of any city in the world says an authority but we'll bet the critic never looked over some of the damage in this village.

The average wife, it is claimed, needs a dozen pairs of shoes annually. What the reason they'll never be able to stop the men folks from shooting craps.

The fellow who can take a woman around a golf course for the first time and brag on every dub shot she makes is some little angel himself.

THE HORRID THING A vet and a Sutherland Jane were dancing last eve and the vet said, "Don't you think my dancing has improved?" and the Sutherland maid muttered, "Marvelously—why it has every thing advanced—including my ankles."

The h. s. parents and teachers will assemble this evening to see what can be done to eliminate the words "rah, rah, rah" from the high school blood curdling yells.

An expert cobbler says it makes sponge cake soggy to cut it with a knife and that it should be torn apart with your hands. We can just imagine what our Maw'd say if we started tearing cake apart with our hands.

The whole day is spoiled to a woman who has something to say and no one to listen to her. Forget the past. The future will always have enough worry in store for everyone.

About all the needlework some Roseburg girls know is running the phonograph. Stingy people miss lots of fun. This is the time of year that a fellow hates to scrutinize his auto tires too closely.

Bill Harding, who runs his flivver on Boswell mineral water, was on the main drag today discussing things pro and con. The spring fever epidemic which was so prevalent in this neck of the woods last year is again showing signs of recurrence and it is hoped that no serious results will be suffered by those who have not been inoculated against the tiny germ.

We never believe what people say about us if it doesn't conform to our own opinions of ourselves. Woody Stephenson delivered a lengthy lecture at the community hall in Sutherland on a subject which neither he nor his audience were conversant with.

The reason why some folks always complain is because they read the patent medicine advertisements. The r. h. s. basketballers will gallop down to Medford and Ashland the latter part of the present week for the purpose of getting even with a couple alleged teams in that section.

On Saturday evening the S. H. S. club at its regular bi-monthly meeting, which was under the auspices of the junior members, entertained the freshmen. The K. of P. Hall was colorful with red, white and blue streamers and flags.

CENT ADDED TO GASOLINE COST

Not since the session of 1917 has there been so little highway legislation as at the session just closed. While there were many measures introduced affecting the road program, the close of the session found the highways unimpaired.

Another cent tax on gasoline is the most important road measure that the legislature enacted. This makes the tax 3 cents a gallon and the addition cent will become effective in 90 days.

Hereafter the highway department will be a beneficiary of the activities of the state motor police. One of the bills which was passed provides that fines for violations of the traffic laws, when made by the state traffic officers, shall go into the state treasury and be credited to the highway fund.

MOVIES "PRECKLES" BARRY IN EXCITING FILM PLAY

"Heroes of the Street," which will have its first showing at the Liberty theater tomorrow, is the sort of picture that makes the hair stand up on the head and keeps it stand up there. It is packed with thrills, and checkered with comedy and pathos, so that you catch yourself roaring at one instant and gulping your throat the next.

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAN. Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

THE VILLAGE RHYMESTER by Carlyle Emery

Dear Folks: Now the frosty days are with us and the snow is on the ground, and the air is full of tingle and we often hear the sound of the sleigh bells on the roadway that are ringing bright and clear. It's a healthy rugged season when we ought to do our best to go out and play with Nature. When we ought to take our rest with the windows opened widely so the air can fill our lungs like it did when we were youngsters and went out a-hopping punga.

Lyle Perkins Says: "Some fellows who're allus braggin' 'bout takin' a bath ever' day hasn't so derned crazy 'bout it as they'd make ya believe they are."
