LaFollette Says Dollar Gas is in Prospect—States Probe Reveals Standard Oil Has Virtual Monopoly

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The suggestion that alcohol eventually might be utilized as a substitute for gasoline was characterized in a statement today by Senator LaFollette, chairman of the senate oil investigation committee, as bringing no comfort to motorists unless there also is assurance that the "Standard Oil" will not monopolize the patents and processes for the manufacture of alcohol for motor purposes.

In reply to statements of President Teague of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, President Kingsbury of the California company and others, Mr. LaFollette said the report of the investigating committee, covering months of arduous labor and returned by a unanimous vote, required neither "explanations nor defense."

"Standard Oil Monopoly. "It is all-important," said Mr. LaFollette, "that neither interviews nor the possibilities of 'dollar gasoline,' nor any other future contingency should be permitted to divert the public attention from the present dominant fact developed by the sworn testimony in this investigation; that the Standard Oil company completely controls the oil industry of the United States."

"They have partitioned the territory of the United States among the member companies of the Standard group as spoils, and acting in perfect accord they (1) fix the price which the producer of crude oil receives at the well; (2) the price which the refiner receives for gasoline and kerosene, and (3) the retail price which is paid by the consumer.

"Though the control of pipe lines connecting the great producing fields of the west with the consuming territory of the middle west and the east, the Standard control of oil, nullify the law declaring pipe lines common carriers, render the possibility of effective competition by independent producer and refiners utterly futile, and constantly menace their very existence, cripple and destroy any of the more troublesome of them at will.

"The Standard does deny either the will to make the price of gasoline a dollar a gallon or the power to do it, under the conditions described in the report, but its answer simply is that before gasoline reaches a dollar a gallon a substitute will be found for it."

FEDERAL BANK GUARD TELLS ABOUT TROUBLE

Attack of Flu Left Him so Weak and Shaky He Could Hardly Stand Up, Declares Hightower. Gains 15 Pounds Taking Tanlac and Feels Fine Now.

ELMER HIGHTOWER

It is doubtful if a more widely popular and highly esteemed officer can be found in all Missouri than Elmer Hightower, who resides at 2701 Troost Ave., Kansas City, and whose position at the Federal Reserve Bank makes unnecessary any comment as to his character, integrity or trustworthiness.

"I just had to handshake my way through a crowd of friends the other day and bow my acknowledgments to their congratulations.

"Well, I got a heap of satisfaction in telling them I had taken Tanlac, the world's best health tonic. That was my secret.

"About six weeks before starting on Tanlac, a bad attack of the flu put me flat on my back and left me so weak, nervous and shaky I could hardly dress myself. Why, I couldn't stand steady, I just ached all over and was so dizzy my head was in a whirl. I could scarcely eat anything, suffered torture from indigestion, and the only sleep I got was to doze off occasionally.

"Then, my mother in Lawton, Mo., who is eighty-six years old, wrote me how Tanlac was helping her, so I started taking it. Well, after the flu had manhandled and nearly wrecked me, Tanlac got right to the root of my troubles and when I finished the treatment, all my ailments had been ousted and I had gained fifteen pounds. My dollars go pretty fast now satisfying this big appetite I have, and sleep—why, I could sleep ten or eleven hours every night! Nowadays, I go about my duties at the bank happy and cheerful for I'm in the finest sort of trim."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good drug stores. Over 35-million bottles sold.

BROCCOLI SHIPMENTS WILL BE INSPECTED

F. S. Kingsley, supervising inspector of the U. S. Bureau of Markets, arrived here today to aid in the movement of the broccoli crop. Mr. Kingsley will inspect the larger part of the broccoli shipped from Roseburg and will issue certificates regarding the quality, grade and condition at the shipping point and these certificates will be accepted as prima facie evidence in any federal court of the condition of the crop when it left the point of shipment. This work has been carried on with apples and other fruits in the past and is now being applied to broccoli as a protection to the grower and to the purchaser.

Sheriff Starmer states that the cost of collecting these fines has amounted to approximately $1,000. The county took several hundred dollars from the fund to purchase a new car for the use of the sheriff. All of the money collected in these cases is placed in the secret service fund to be used for apprehending violators of the prohibition laws.

WILL REPRESENT POWDER COMPANY

J. A. Denn, of the J. A. Denn Powder company, announces that his company has been made the distributor for Southern Oregon for the products of the Giant Powder Company. In addition to Douglas County where this company's products have been handled by the local company for several months, the counties of Coos, Curry, Josephine, and Jackson will now be served.

To properly handle this territory, the Roseburg magazine will be supplemented by the construction of a new building at Marshfield, Roseburg, Grants Pass, Gold Butte, and Medford. A powder magazine now located at Jacksonville has been secured by the local company and will be used temporarily as a storage center for Jackson and Josephine counties.

According to Mr. Denn, business is unusually active in that section of the state at this time and the demand for high explosives is very heavy. Road construction, irrigation canals, and mines are all requiring large quantities of blasting explosives and the local company will endeavor to have sufficient supplies on hand at all times to meet this demand.
