TEN YEARS OF TROUBLE END FOR MRS. WINKLER

Still Another Esteemed Portland Resident Gives Tanlac Full Credit for Remarkable Restoration to Health.

"Tanlac is certainly the ideal treatment for stomach trouble and a run-down condition," is the enthusiastic statement made recently by Mrs. Nellie Winkler, a highly esteemed resident of 2949 Clarendon St., Portland Ore. Mrs. Winkler has a host of friends in Portland who will read her statement regarding Tanlac with deep interest and share with her the joy she feels at her recovery.

"For ten years," said Mrs. Winkler, "I suffered so badly from stomach trouble that I was from one hundred and twenty to a hundred and three pounds and was in such a weak, run-down condition it was all I could do to keep on my feet. It seemed to make no difference how careful I was or how sparingly I ate, my food always disagreed with me and never seemed to digest at all. My stomach was in an acid condition all the time and I suffered dreadfully from gas, bloating and heartburn. Why, the gas was so bad at times it would almost choke me and many a night I was in such distress from indigestion and nervousness that I couldn't sleep a wink.

"Well, Tanlac was recommended very highly to my husband, so he brought a bottle home and asked me to try it, and I must say the treatment has been just wonderful for me. I sit down to the table now and eat heartily of anything I want and my digestion is so fine that I never feel the least touch of sourness, gas or any of the old troubles. My nerves are much better, too, and I am sleeping peacefully every night. In fact, I'm feeling stronger and better in every way, and now when I go about my housework and see how much easier it is for me, I can't help but feel very grateful to the grand medicine. I can sincerely recommend Tanlac to anyone."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 25-million bottles sold.

of Indians to appear in the picture. Fortunately a tribe changed to be encamped not far from the settlement where the photographers had made camp.

Not only are the scenic splendor and quiet natural settings a feature of this intense drama of the Canadian north, but there are many other equally interesting scenes. Among these are several teams of real Eskimo dogs drawing heavy-laden sleighs across the snow and ice, an actual chase of a silver fox that eventually meets its doom in a trap, and the awe-inspiring spectacle of a terrific forest fire.

Strengthen your stomach and banish indigestion; M-I-O-N-A is guaranteed by W. F. Chapman to do it or money back.

MOVIES

AGNES AYRES WINS AGAIN.

There are plenty of things for the heroine to get morbid over in "A Daughter of Luxury." Agnes Ayres' new Paramount picture which had a highly successful showing at the Antlers theatre last night, but Miss Ayres treats the unromantic situations in which she finds herself with a keen sense of humor, and thereby make possible some winning comedy. Among her distressing experiences, she is forced to face the world destitute after having been reared in luxury, is found in a hotel apartment with a married man in innocent but suspicious circumstances, is unmasked when posing as an heiress and is charged with complicity in a jewel burglary. But she sends her appreciative audiences home in a happy frame of mind. The picture will be shown for the last time tonight at Tom Gallery heads a strong supporting cast.

COVE FILM CONVINCING AS A PERSONAL LECTURE

Carrying the conviction of a personal lecture on the subject "The Message of Emile Coue," the two-reel motion picture made by Emile Coue, which was shown at the Antlers theatre last night, marks a distinct step forward in cinema presentation.

This picture which will show for the last time tonight, was produced for Educational Film Exchanges, Inc., by Motion Picture Arts, presents the fundamentals of M. Coue's theory of self-mastery through conscious auto-suggestion. The name is not as formidable as it sounds, and M. Coue's message is amazingly simple.

M. Coue himself makes this statement: "I am never a miracle man. I have never cured anyone. I can only show others how to cure themselves," and this he has done, by way of the screen.

FILM COMPANY GOES INTO NORTH FOR BIG SCENES

Rarely does a production company travel as many thousands of miles from its base of operations to film outdoor scenes as was done in photographing "The Heart of the North," which is to be shown at the Liberty theatre on Saturdays only. At great expense, beautiful scenes were photographed in Canada, the locale of the story, with Roy Stewart and Louise Lovely.

As part of the romance develops around an Indian village, special guides were sent out to find a land

BOOZE SHIPS ON SUCCESSFUL TRIP

(By United Press.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 16.—The steamer Pessawa, reputed to be one of the foremost vessels of the rum fleet, recently arrived safely in this port after a successful trip down the coast with a valuable cargo of the stuff that cheers, inebriates, and the possession of which constitutes violation of the well-known Volstead act.

The Pessawa was recently reported purchased by a marine bootlegger for the sum of $18,000. The fifteen day trip down the coast to various non-to-be-mentioned points within the limits of the "United States of America," as Al Johnson or some other conundrum has termed it, is reported to have more than paid for itself.

It is rumored that two more vessels will be put on the bootleg run between Vancouver and California, Washington, and Oregon points.
