

MORGAREIDGE GAINED 20 POUNDS ON TANLAC

Declares Indigestion, Rheumatism and Steady Loss of Weight Were Completely Overcome by Tanlac—Recommended It To Friends.

The wonderful powers of Tanlac are very forcefully demonstrated. This instance the grateful beneficiary Raymond Morgareidge, 1477 St. Portland, Ore., who relates experience in the following words: "I have found Tanlac to be such a good medicine that I have been recommending it to all my friends. It has relieved me of troubles of several years standing and put me in a state where I have actually gained 20 pounds and never felt better in my life."

to eat always gave me indigestion, for hours after meals I would bloat with gas and have dull, aching pains in the pit of my stomach. I lost eighteen pounds in weight, and was so rundown I didn't feel fit for anything. Then, I had awful attacks of rheumatism which seemed to go all over my body—first in my arms and shoulders and then down into my legs. My muscles would get so stiff and sore and I would have such sharp-shooting pains all through my body that it was almost unbearable.

"Well, sir, I feel like a man made over since this Tanlac treatment has fixed me up so fine. My appetite has come back, the indigestion is entirely gone, and I have gained back all my lost weight and two pounds to spare. I never feel a sign of rheumatism now, and in fact, am in the pink of condition in every way. Tanlac is a medicine of real merit, and I am certain I shall stick to it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.

HOLY LAND LACKS FERTILE SOIL, SAYS U. S. OBSERVER

(By Associated Press.) JERUSALEM, March 21.—Addison E. Southard, American consul here, has just completed an exhaustive survey of the commercial and agricultural resources of Palestine. He has also investigated the subjects of port development, hydro-electric resources, irrigation and banking. In view of the optimistic reports issued by those seeking to make the Jewish national home in Palestine a success, it is interesting to note that the American consul entertains serious doubts regarding the agricultural and industrial resources of the country.

"Approximately one-third of the area of Palestine proper," says he, "or roughly 3,000 square miles, is barren land, capable of little, if any, agricultural development. Fully an additional fifth of the total area, or more than 3,000,000 acres, has definite agricultural possibilities, but irrigation and other more or less expensive requirements will considerably prejudice the profits to be obtained from farming. The country is sparsely settled, and much of the land has been left fallow for centuries. At the present time the estimated area under cultivation in all Palestine amounts to fewer than 1,000,000 acres."

American business men who recently visited Palestine have found confirmation of Mr. Southard's observations in the great stretches of rocky and barren land. Only in the broader valleys and plains is it at all fertile, and the Arabs, who form 85 per cent of the population, have a difficult time eking out an existence. It can hardly be expected, therefore, that the Jews of the world will be attracted to the so-called "National Home" set up in the Holy Land by Great Britain.

The number of Hebrews who have come to settle here from the United States and other countries is relatively small. Of the 700,000 population of Palestine, only 11 per cent is Jewish. Those particular callings for which Hebrews throughout all times have shown an especial predilection—clothing manufacture, merchandising, banking and money-changing—are singularly lacking in the Holy Land. Industrial activity is almost negligible. Fruit-growing and souvenir-making are the principal pursuits.

Most of the Jews who have left America for what they believed to be "The Promised Land" have found life in Palestine difficult and expensive. Many of them have engaged in small farming and fruit culture. Others have set up small retail stores in Jaffa, Haifa and other large towns. The main streets of Jerusalem and Jaffa now resemble busy retail centers in the East Side of New York. The Hebrew and English languages vie with the Arabic as the prevailing tongues in the commercial marts.

"In his report," says Consul Southard in his report, "is a small country without demonstrated natural resources of any particular importance. Its population is small and will not for some years possess any considerable purchasing power. Within its own limits it will produce or consume little as compared with the average world political or commercial unit."

The consul's statement that the local population neither produce nor consume much explains why the world Jew has such reluctance in colonizing the Holy Land. The Arab population is proverbially poor and produces little beyond a few staples of the farm and the vineyard. The Jew, who is essentially a merchant and trader, finds it impossible to live off the Arab, and he finds it equally impossible to exploit his own people.

American visitors usually leave Palestine with the conviction that if it were not for its historical and biblical associations and traditions, the Holy Land would figure little in the world's life. There is a firm belief among disinterested Americans that Great Britain would willingly withdraw from its costly occupation of the country if it were not for the security of the Suez canal, which is only 200 miles away.

Saffley, Miss Naomi Bodine, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saffley and family of Cottage Grove; Mr. John Saffley and family of Orad; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Saffley, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Palm all of Roseburg and the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Homer Palm.

RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGE IS PLACED

Suit has been filed in the local justice court against Mrs. S. R. Kirby, who is charged with reckless driving. Mrs. Kirby is a resident of Sulberlin, and is charged with having crowded the car driven by J. Diersson and wife of Vancouver, B. C., off the highway near Wilbur and causing them to be badly injured.

According to the story told the court, Mr. and Mrs. Diersson were proceeding north on the highway and were passing a truck coming south. When Mrs. Kirby came around the truck from behind and cut in ahead of the car from Vancouver. It is alleged that her car skidded and forced Diersson's machine off the road causing it to turn turtle and injuring both occupants. After an investigation by State Traffic Officer Thurber, a complaint was filed. Mrs. Kirby through her attorney, Dexter Rice has entered a plea of not guilty and has been released on her own recognizance. The case will probably be set for trial in the near future.

OLDEST THEATER HAS BIRTHDAY

SALT LAKE CITY, March 21.—The Salt Lake theater, believed to be the oldest playhouse in point of continuous service in the United States, celebrated its sixty-first birthday here recently. Designed by William Folsom, who built the famous Mormon tabernacle in this city, and formally opened on March 6, 1861, by Brigham Young and his counselors, the old theater was the first amusement house of any magnitude west of the Mississippi.

Here, a dozen years later, Maude Adams, then but a child, was given first instruction in acting by her mother, who was also an actress by profession.

Persons attending the theater in the early days were requested to leave their firearms and other weapons at the box office. This precaution, it is believed, was taken to prevent any untoward acts on the part of the audience in the event that the show did not come up to expectations. Cash was not a requisite in payment for tickets, "rain and home manufactures" serving as well.

FREEDOM OF SCREEN IS AS NECESSARY AS OF PRESS, SAYS COUNSEL PETTJOHN

(International News Service.) COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 21.—"Freedom of the screen would have been included in the Federal constitution, along with freedom of speech and of the press, if the framers had been able to foresee the advent of the motion picture," declared C. C. Pettjohn, legal counsel for the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, in an address here.

Propagating that freedom of the screen is only a matter of time, Pettjohn said: "It took six centuries to achieve an open press. If any other industry had had the verbal brickbats thrown at it in the last few years that have been directed at motion pictures it would have been annihilated."

"PAPERHANGING" IS INCREASING

OAKLAND, Cal., March 21.—Fraudulent check passers increased 40 per cent in California in 1932, compared with the previous year, according to Hart Schrader, Jr., handwriting expert of the state bureau of criminal investigation, who recently prepared statistics for August Vollmer, chief of Police of Berkeley, who lectured to the University of California students on criminology.

One California city, chosen because it typifies other municipalities in the state, is supporting forgers, had check passers and other members of the "paperhanging" profession at the rate of $8,025 a day, the statement showed. From January 1 to April 1, 1932, the city used as an illustration rewarded the criminals to the extent of $75,000, Schrader said.

Mr. Schrader's report stated: "Even children are becoming proficient, for only recently nine juveniles, ranging from 12 to 16 years of age, were arrested in one locality for flooding the town with fictitious checks written by themselves and signed 'Mr. Brown' or 'Mr. Smith' (even the initials being omitted), and the merchants readily took these checks in payment for candy, flashlights, etc."

Without checks are cashed in the larger cities more readily than in the rural communities, Mr. Schrader's statement showed.

IS AMERICA SEAT OF ANCIENT RACE?

(International News Service.) BOSTON, March 21.—You may have a treasure-laden tomb of a king of an era ages older than that of Tutankhamen right in your backyard. Under your potato patch on your front porch may rest a sarcophagus of a potentate who ruled centuries before old King Tut was even thought of. For according to ancient Hindu tradition, declared Swami Sivananda, of the University of Calcutta, who, on behalf of the Maharajah of Kasimbazar, has established the first Satsang in this country in this continent, there is a civilization in this continent while Egypt, which later became the seat of civilization, was a wilderness inhabited by primitive aborigines. "According to the traditions handed down from centuries and centuries ago by the ancient Yogis," said Sivananda, "far back in the distant ages there was a civilization far in the West—probably on the American continent—long before Egypt became civilized. Ethnologists have remarked a resemblance between the characteristics of the ancient Egyptians and the American Indian. It is by no means improbable that the American Indian represents the degenerated race of the ancient culture which existed on this continent. Certain South American Indians—The Incas, for example, who even at the time of the discovery of this continent maintained a high type of civilization—bore striking resemblance to the Egyptians, not only in form and feature but in customs. "So that it is highly probable that if the American excavators who discovered Tutankhamen's tomb, with its vast treasures, were to dig deep enough right here in the United States they would find similar ones."

COLLEGE BOXERS CLASH ON MARCH 24 AT LOS ANGELES

(By United Press.) STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., March 21.—Members of the Stanford boxing and wrestling teams are working out every night in preparation for matches with the University of Southern California to be held on March 24. Nine boxers and six wrestlers will participate with the Trojans in the coming tourney. It is planned also to stage a tournament with the Los Angeles Athletic Club while the Stanford men are still in Los Angeles. The boxers who were picked to meet California prior to the calling off of the matches by Dr. W. H. Barrow of the Stanford physical education department in a protest against mixed bouts, will probably make the trip, although Coach Harry Maloney has made no definite statement. Those who seem assured of places are Lane, Ross, Armstrong, Robinson, Irwin and Van Hook.
