

pay less and get more in lubrication

It is a fact, that the "body" of Zerolene follows the changing piston clearances of the automobile engine more closely than other oils, no matter what price they sell at.

Zerolene, made from selected Naphthenic-Base Crude piped separately to the refinery, and manufactured by our exclusive high-vacuum process, resists heat better, forms less carbon, and consequently the car lubricated with it will run from 15% to 10% farther without having valves or cylinders cleaned.

Zerolene reduces friction and wear to a greater extent than any lubricants we have seen and tested, or been able to produce for the automobile.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost half as much.

65TH ARTILLERY REUNION PLANNED

The annual reunion of the 65th Artillery C. A. C. will be held at Seaside this year and the tentative dates which have been set by the committee in charge of the affair are June 9 and 10. Bert G. Bates, of this city is president of the 65th association and he is sending out letters this week in sets in all parts of the coast urging them to attend the reunion. Word has been received that twenty former buddies of the 65th now in Corvallis are planning to attend. The first annual reunion of the overseas fighters was held last year in Portland at the Benson hotel and it was a very successful affair. Adjutant General George White will be the principal speaker at the reunion banquet this year.

GERMAN WAR VET NOW AIDS FRENCH

CORLENN, May 17.—The most interesting figure in Coblenz at present is a French second lieutenant named Schaefer, a native of Alsace-Lorraine, who was a sergeant of the fifty-eighth German Infantry Regiment, with headquarters in Coblenz, before and during the war. Owing to his services with the German Telegraph corps before the war he is thoroughly familiar with Coblenz and with the various circuits of both the telegraph and telephone.

Since the occupation of the telegraph and telephone offices here he has been the "big Mose" in ordering the disposition of the occupying troops, the locating of hidden materials and in foresting out "sub rosa" wires to the outside. He is now as popular as the yellow fever with the Coblenzers. Indeed, his name is on top of their "black list." He joined the French army in 1919.

WON VET'S HEART BY KNITTING SOX

(International News Service.) CHICAGO, May 17.—A pair of woolen socks knitted during the war by Miss Letta Fisher, of this city, for "some American soldier over there," brought the fair donor a husband.

When she was sending them away Miss Fisher placed a slip of paper bearing her name and address in the top of one of the socks.

Over in France, according to Edward Colfer, the groom, a lone-some soldier was sitting in a K. of K. hut, slumped in a chair before a fire.

"The secretary approached. 'You're an American,' he said to the Yank—I think this means you."

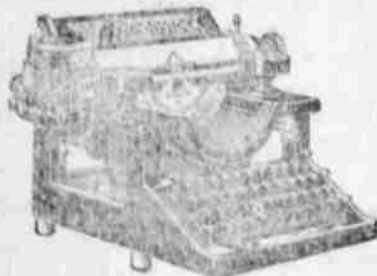

With that he handed Colfer a package addressed "to some American soldier."

Colfer found the name and address, and a correspondence began which culminated in a wedding at St. Anatha's Church here.

ORGANIZE TO SELL STATE WHEAT POOLS

(By Associated Press.) KANSAS CITY, May 17.—The revival of the National Wheat Growers Association as a selling agency was announced here today by George J. Cutting, editor of the Wheat Growers Journal. Plans for the creation of regional selling offices at Kansas City, Minneapolis, and Duluth, Cutting said, were made at a meeting here Tuesday of the state wheat pool officials, representing Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota and Minnesota. The Northwest Wheat Growers Association is to be asked to join the movement at a meeting in Minneapolis Monday. Cutting declared the new plan threw in doubt the status of the American Wheat Growers Association, Inc. in the proposed organization which was to be a national selling agency for all state wheat pools west of the Mississippi river.

WILL CONTEST TAX REFUND TO ASTORIA

PORTLAND, May 17.—Infraction proceedings designed to reverse the legislative enactment providing for the return to Astoria of its taxes for use in rebuilding streets in the burned area are to be filed in Marion county this morning by a group of taxpayers represented by John W. Kaste, Portland attorney, according to a statement made last night by Mr. Kaste.

In detail, those whom Mr. Kaste represents ask that Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, be enjoined from issuing a warrant on the state for $25,000 the first installment representing Astoria's taxes for the six months just passed; that O. P. Hoff state treasurer, be enjoined from issuing such a warrant, and the city of Astoria from receiving or negotiating it.

The sum of $25,000 represents the amount of Astoria's taxes in the last half year as recently forwarded to Salem by the treasurer of Clatsop county. The legislature at its last session undertook to aid in the reconstruction of the burned city by providing that all taxes paid by Astoria to the state for a period of seven years be rebated for the purpose of paying the interest and creating a sinking fund for a bond issue to be used in rebuilding ruined thoroughfares. The total amount was estimated at about $500,000, due in installments every six months.

"We have our petition on the belief that such action is unconstitutional," Mr. Kaste said. "You can't take money raised all over the state and expend it for the benefit of a few property owners in Astoria. By rebuilding those streets you are benefitting only those who own property along them. That is not the public purpose."

He said that although he did not care to divulge the names of his clients and preferred to refer to them as a "group of taxpayers," none of them were residents of Astoria. He said also that this "group of taxpayers" was fighting a battle for the general public throughout the state.

MICHIGAN OPPOSED TO INTERSECTIONAL SPORTS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 17.—(A. P.)—Intersectional athletic contests had small favor with Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics at Michigan. Replying to recent criticism of Michigan's withdrawal from the Eastern Collegiate A. A. and the Eastern Intercollegiate track and field meet in New York, May 25 and 26, Yost gave two reasons why he opposes intersectional competition for the Maize and Blue.

Michigan's natural athletic opponents, he declared, are in the Middle West, particularly in the Western Conference, and he believes the Wolverine's relations should be limited largely to these opponents. He cited proximity and mutual regard as the basis for this opinion. Declaring that athletics are and always should be but a contributory factor to the main purpose of college work, that of educating and fitting youths for their life's work, Yost pointed out that Michigan's regular schedule will take members of the track squad away from classes as much as he considers safe and consistent.

"The whole matter," Yost declared, "resolves itself, as before, in the natural and most desirable selection of opponents. We know each other in the Middle West and we can readily reach each other. There is mutual regard among us. Perhaps in the east we would be strangers."

This is a Studebaker year.

BAPTIST WOMEN GIVE SUM OF $2,000.000 TO MISSIONS

(By Associated Press.) KANSAS CITY, May 17.—As a result of missionary stimulus afforded by constant study of missionary reports throughout the past year, the organized Baptist women of the South contributed approximately $2,000,000 in cash in donations and benevolent works other than the work of their local churches, according to the annual report of Miss Kathleen Hafferty, corresponding secretary of the Women's Baptist Missionary Union, presented at the thirty-fifth annual session of that body here today.

In addition to these gifts the women in their organized capacity sent $3,000 dollars in special equipment to the Baptist hospitals on the mission fields of China and Africa, and $5,000 in cash and clothing to suffering Baptist families in Europe, the report set forth.

The number of local Women's Baptist Missionary Union organizations affiliated with the convention grew during last year to approximately 22,000, and a total of 15,000 study classes of one week each were held in the interest of home and foreign missions and other benevolent programs.

MEDICAL MEET N. D'S MAGNET SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., MAY 17.—San Francisco will be the host to more than 10,000 doctors and members of their families from all parts of the United States, Canada, England, Europe, South America, and the Orient, when the American Medical Association opens its sixteenth annual convention here, June 25-29, according to Dr. W. E. Muirgrove, general chairman of arrangements.

Hundreds of X-ray and radium specialists and members of the Radiological Society of America will attend the fifteenth international convention of that body, which meets here at the same time.

Other affiliated conventions meeting here while the A. M. A. is being held include: Medical Society of the State of California, June 21-23; American Association of Medical Milk Commissioners, June 25-26; American Milk Commission, June 25-26; American Association of Anesthetists, June 25-27; American Medical Editor's Association, June 25-27.

One of the outstanding features of the A. M. A. convention, according to Dr. Muirgrove, will be the diagnostic clinics which will be held in hospitals of San Francisco, Oakland and Livermore, Calif.

"This year's national convention of the American Medical Association differs from all previous conventions of the national organization in that it will extend its activities throughout the state the week after the convention in San Francisco," said Dr. Muirgrove. "Post-convention diagnostic clinics will be held in accredited hospitals in Sacramento, San Jose, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, San Diego, and other sections of the state on July 2 and 3."

A central committee on diagnostic clinics has been organized to harmonize and coordinate the clinics of such hospitals as in combine the results of all these clinics into a valuable review of progress in the diagnosis and treatment of a large variety of pathologic conditions."

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

by MRS. ELLSBURY

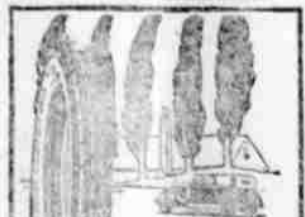

(Address all communications to Mrs. Ellsbury, care of News-Review.)

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: I have heard a lot about returning men's gifts when you quit going with them, but I never really saw anybody do it. It is the proper thing to do, I went with a man about a year, and we quit a month ago. I have been thinking about this since we quit. Could I send back his gifts?

RUBY—Unless there is a diamond ring to return it would be foolish and a little far-fetched for you to return his gifts. They were the gifts of friendship and as such should be kept. If an engagement is broken shortly before marriage, and the man has given the girl expensive jewelry or something of that kind, they should be returned.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: We have a new baby at our house, and it is a girl. I am very pleased but my husband is terribly disappointed as he wanted a boy and had planned to name it after himself. He loves the little girl I know, and tries to hide his disappointment. We have not named the baby yet. My husband's name is George Allen. I would like to name the baby after him but am at loss as what to call her. Then we we might have a son some day and want to name him after his father. What do I name the baby? MOTHER.

MOTHER—Why not call the baby daughter after your husband's first name, either George, Georgiana, or Georgina. They are all very pretty names for a girl I think. A son could then be called Allen, which is a very nice name for a boy.

Blind Man's Buff

EVEN in this age of enlightenment some folks spend their money blindly. They buy with their eyes shut. They grope in the dark as truly as if their eyes were bandaged.

And all the time a powerful light is being thrown on the very things they need and want!

Advertising is a beacon to guide you in buying. It shows you what to buy—where to buy—and when to buy. At the same time, it protects you against fraud and inferiority.

Merchants and manufacturers who advertise deliberately focus thousands of eyes upon their wares. Their values must be honest and their prices right, or they could not advertise successfully.

Don't play blind man's buff with the elusive dollar. Spend a few minutes each day running through the advertisements in this paper. Then buy the products that have proved up in the light of advertising.
