WESTERN OIL PRODUCTION

According to New York reports, California is responsible for current decrease in crude oil prices, and influence of oil fields of State will become greater to such an extent that they will probably be controlling factors in petroleum industry for several years. This change has been brought about by the sudden discovery of a tremendous production of light refined crude oil for first time in history of California's crude oil industry. Previously production of California fields has been restricted very largely to a heavy crude oil, containing little gasoline and chiefly valuable as fuel and lubricating stocks. The new production is a light refinable crude oil containing from 25 to 30 per cent gasoline. At present, California crude oil is lowest priced in the world. It can be delivered in Bayonne, New Jersey, for approximately $1.80 a barrel. Mid-continent crude oil of average quality costs approximately $2.75 laid down in Bayonne. This difference in price explains recent reduction of the Mid-continent crude oil prices and is reason for believing that there will be further cuts in price of Mid-continent crude oil. The present production in California exceeds 700,000 barrels a day, and if pipe line and storage facilities were available a million barrels a day could be produced and handled. Along with the heavy rate of output is outstanding fact that California's new crude oil production is being drawn from oil sands of phenomenal thickness, which means that the big flush production will last a long time and that wells may have a probable pumping life of at least twenty years after the flow rate of production has failed. In three great fields of Southern California, oil sands of from 1,500 to 2,000 feet in thickness have been encountered. Those are the thickest of oil-producing sands ever recorded in history of oil industry. The largest well in Signal Hill field of Los Angeles county is producing from a depth of more than 5,000 feet, deepest flowing well in the world. This great well came in with an estimated production of approximately 30,000 barrels a day.

THE PRICE OF NEGLIGENCE

Camden, South Carolina, is grief stricken over the death of seventy-six children, parents and friends in a school house fire. It is useless to elaborate on the details of the fire which resulted from a rickety fastening causing an oil lamp to fall to the floor during an entertainment being given by the children, remarks an exchange. The suffering caused by such fires as this is beyond understanding and yet almost weekly we read of such school house tragedies where one or more children meet death. The only difference between this fire and others is in the number killed, and this will bring it forcibly to the attention of the whole nation. The National Board of Fire Underwriters has been doing everything in its power to show the American people the criminal waste which they permit each year when they allow 15,000 persons and some $500,000,000 in property to be wiped out by fire, when about 90 per cent of such death and loss is preventable. The Underwriters laboratories in Chicago has been testing every kind of building and household equipment as to its fire proof or fire resisting qualities and its advice on these matters is free to the public. Carelessness with fire is equally dangerous in a little town like Camden or in a great city like New York. Let this awful disaster be a warning to every household in the land to be careful with fire and let parents demand that public officials see that school houses and public buildings are properly safeguarded so that another Camden catastrophe cannot occur.

One thing that can always be counted on. When a Douglas County grand jury reports the county jail comes into prominence. In the course of human events we will probably get a new bastille—then what will a grand jury talk about?

at baby gets more attention than its successors, for the same reason that the last automobile a man buys always has more faults than any of the others.

PRUNE PICKIN'S

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—

The rod and gunners
Held a banquet
Last eve at which Time the game warden Eyed some of the Guests rather Suspiciously and Made Guy Gordon and Lloyd Crocker squirm Uncomfortably in Their seats.

DUMBELL DORA THINKS—

A mackerel was one of the things performed in the biblical days.

At a banquet a feller notices quite a few funny things. One thing always discernible is the bird who waits to see who's goin' to start eatin' first.
An' then there's the fellow who waits till they've all started and then tries to scoop up the soup with the small spoon. The umbril who crunches the crackers in the bullion, however, takes the hand-knit table. But he hasn't much on the bench who insists on his carrying on a conversation with his jaws bulging. "Sfurry what funny things'll happen when a group of prominent citizens get together around a table and start showin' off what bringin' up they've had."

The gentle downpour of rain yesterday p. m. was felt quite generally over the main drag, especially by those who were wearing straw hats and Palm Beach outfits.

The kid band rehearsed at the city hall the other night making it impossible for the firemen to hear the siren.

Several store fronts are being painted over these days, so conform with the various other improvements about the village square and we hope that some of the barns of the town will be changed from "Lydia Pinkham's" to "Dean's Kidney Pills."

In this grand and glorious clime,
Which is ours by right and name,
We have some who throw the blame
And who always shift the blame
But the greatest dead beat of 'em all
Is the one who yells so loud
And says he's beenin' last and all
And then sneaks from the crowd.

Jazzmania was the name of a movie last eve and the local jazz orchestra members were forced to stay under cover for fear that some terrible reform would result from the teachings of the cinema.

A few of the Garden Valley farmers were in for a feed with the rod and gunners last eve and missed the corn bread which Maw makes.

The seniors of the r. h. s. and the aluminum of the outfit paid their own way to a movie show last night and had a heluva time in spite of the fact that the affair was a Dutch treat.

Omigodh we almost forgot about it!
Its bath night, just as sure as shootin' and we haven't a bar of soap in the house.

"Can a Woman Love Twice" was the name of a movie show last night.
Why limit us to "twice?"

In the olden days the h. s. graduation was nothing more or less than "gittin' yer diploma" but the exercises nowadays rival the commencement exercises at Oxford.

Employees of the Chicago packing plants have received a boost in wages.
You might reflect upon the probable trend of meat prices, while pounding your next 40-cent cut of round steak.

Some shark on mathematics has figured out that a man of 60 has spent 3 years tying his tie. Even so, it is better than wearing whiskers.

In a long life time we have yet to hear the winners claim that the umpire was unfair.

Prof. Garner of the University of Philadelphia says that the time is near when animals and men will converse.
If this be true the little dog that keeps us awake every night is going to hear something that will hurt his feelings.

New York is reported as highly pleased with the new Chinese dances.
We hadn't supposed that they were as reprehensible as all that.

There is no question as to the value of mud baths; why, it is almost impossible to kill a turtle.

"Man loses mind after drinking two quarts of bootleg whiskey." After?

He was rushing through the station him.

"Would you please help the Working Girls' Home?"

"Certains, but I haven't much time. How far away do you live?"

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

by MRS. ELLSBURY

(Address all communications to Mrs. Ellsbury, care of News-Review.)

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: I am deeply in love with a man who is one year and six months my junior. Do you believe that will make any difference? We neither one ever think about it, and he really seems much older than I am. Would it make any difference in our happiness if we should get BLUE EYES.

Blue Eyes: A difference as slight as that should make no difference at all. Just forget about it.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: I want to go to another town soon to attend a celebration to be given there that lasts three days. The man I go with is to take me in his car, and he is to stay there, too. I have planned on this and don't want to miss it, as I haven't had a vacation for a long time. I have no friends there to stay with and neither has he. Could we go to a hotel and engage rooms and attend the celebration without being talked about? Would that be the right thing to do? We are not engaged, but have gone together several months. I am 22. What clothes will I need?

Minnie: No, I do not think you should go and engage rooms at a hotel. Haven't you some friend, an older friend, or aunt, married cousin, mother, or anyone who would do for a chaperone that could go with you? If that is impossible, can you not find someone going from here, some married lady, that you can ask to take you under her wing and act as a chaperone?

You will need one nice outfit for general street wear, such as a coat, hat and dress, or a suit and hat. You will probably wear that most of the time, if not all the time. You should also take one dress suitable for evening functions or dances.

COULD HARDLY DO HER WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Eat, Sleep and Feel Better Every Way

Chicago, Ill.—"I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time, and dizzy, and could not sleep and had no appetite. I tried different medicines for years, but they did not help me. Then I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for other women and gave it a trial. I began to eat and sleep and feel better. I recommend it to my friends and will never be without it."

—Mrs. M. O'NEIL, 440 S. Marshall Ave., Chicago, Ill.

It is such letters as these that testify to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This woman awakes from the failures of her heart. She describes as correctly as she can her condition, first the symptoms that bothered her the most, and later the disappearance of these symptoms. It is a sincere expression of gratitude.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

LEAVE JUNE 4

Several scouts are in the party that leaves for Diamond Lake Monday June 4th. The party is in full force and is expected to return about the 14th of the month.

SPECIAL MEETING

At a special meeting Thursday evening, Scoutmaster Lintott was chosen to act as the Director of the 1923 Boy Scout Camp. He was instructed to go on with his program as started. Very strict rules will be in force at this year's camp.

ATTENTION, SCOUTS!

All scouts report for duty Sunday morning at 8:30 a. m. those who have uniforms report in uniform others in your Sunday clothes. We will then go to the Christian Church to attend the Memorial Day Services. You will report at headquarters. Remember and report on time also.

Scoutmaster Lintott, Scoutmaster Dillard, Assistant Boymer.

SOME SCOUT

Say did you notice what "Bill" Knight has been doing lately? Yes? No? Well listen. He pulled off the first prize in the declamatory contest last week in the county meet for grade school boys and this week he is playing the role of Valerian at the Benson School. Well make mention of it? Well we are always proud of our scouts and "Bill" is a Boy Scout of Troop 2 of Roseburg. We hope "Bill" keeps up his good work when he turns green as a Freshie and in his other years a member of the R. H. S. We as scouts are sure proud of Little "Bill."

1923 CAMP

Only 3 more weeks until Camp. Getting kinda close ain't it? Won't be long now and then, Oh Boy! Wish we was going tomorrow don't you?

BOOK DISTRIBUTION

The first Saturday in June is the day for all scouts to report for their part in distributing the telephone books. Practically every scout is assigned for duty. You will get your assignment at about meeting next week. No exceptions every one does his share. Monroe Hilton will be in charge.

APPLICATIONS WANTED

All scouts expecting to attend camp this year kindly stop in at once and tell Mr. Lintott. If you can bring your application with you filled out but report as yet informed Mr. Lintott as to your intentions of going to camp. This information is needed at once that we may make out some way of getting transportation and we must know how many scouts expect to go. PLEASE DO THIS AT ONCE.

TROOP NEWS

Troop No. 2.

Troop No. 2 held their regular meeting last Tuesday evening with 21 scouts present and 2 officers.

The roll was called and the business done away with. A list of all the second troop fellows that are going to camp was made. From all indications the second troop will be well represented at the camp this year.

We adjourned about 9 o'clock.

George Weber.

Troop No. 3.

The third troop met Wednesday evening with some what of a poor attendance. Every-body must be cramming for exams and forgot about our scout meeting.

There will be no meeting next Wednesday on account of Decoration Day and the boys will be scattered. But all there for a big meeting on June 16th.

BOOKS RECEIVED

The 25th edition of the Boy Scout Handbook has arrived. Twenty of them. You can get yours now by sending Mr. Lintott the small sum of 40 cents and he will see that you get one.

SUTHERLIN

The date of the trip to Sutherlin has again been changed. We hope for the last time. We last reported at about 7 o'clock Monday evening June 4th. All scouts eligible for the trip had you could see your name in to Mr. Lintott at once if you intend going so he can have enough cars. Let's go!

THE LIST GROWS

Those who have signed up for camp since last Saturday are as follows: Floyd Church, Ray Apple, Roy Pratt.

It is absolutely necessary that you get your application in at once as Mr. Lintott is now making ready to make up the group list. Come on fellows get a move on for a change.

VICS VAGABOND

You can hardly help feeling proud when you see yourself landed in the papers even though you know (if only newspaper man).

"Hey fellows," says Bob Giles busting in on the bunch which was in "Parlor" store.

"Well we can hear you," says they.

"Well did you hear that Bill Knight had a fall which rendered him unconscious for several hours?"

"Is that so? How'd it happen?"

"He fell asleep."

"Can you prepare any foreign dishes Nora?"

"Sure I can make Spanish onion, Swiss chard and Irish potatoes."

Piggie Bell—I've written a poem on the moon, its really beautiful.
