KNEELS AND PRAYS IN FRONT OF FIRE TRUCK

PELLAIRE, Ohio, June 21.—Running out in the street, "Conroy" Conroy knelt in the direct path of a moving fire truck and began praying. Jesse Dunaway, driver, stopped the machine. It required the strength of five other men and Dunaway to remove Conroy to the city lockup, pending a lunacy inquest. Exact cause religious zeal is believed to have caused Conroy's mind to become deranged.

STATE AID NEEDED TO FIGHT DISEASE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 21. (A. P.)—"It is a primary duty of the state to protect the public from incursions of communicable disease, and to institute measures for the prevention of noncommunicable diseases," said Dr. Linn R. Williams, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, addressing that body here today.

"That the state appreciates this duty is evidenced by the creation of state and local boards of health and the support given to health activities by budgets voted for the maintenance of these boards. But boards of health are able to go only as far in controlling disease as public opinion will support them. An effective campaign against disease cannot be carried on by money alone. It must have the support of public opinion. This opinion is best secured through the membership and support of voluntary health and tuberculosis associations which furnish the necessary leadership through which the people can express their opinion. To spread health education is one of the chief functions of voluntary health organizations. Therefore, they should gain the support of public opinion and other official health agencies so that the latter may be adequately financed and operated for the good of the community."

MOVIES

McAdoo Pays Tribute Railroad Men.

William Giba McAdoo paid the railroad men a great tribute when he said, "The railroad men are one of the biggest factors of the present day, and during the World War their aid was invaluable during the war, the railroad men put in long hours and put forth his best efforts to make the world safe for democracy, by seeing that men, animals and war equipment were transported over the rails without delay."

"Weatherbound Limited," Emory Johnson's drama of the railroads, which is now showing at the Liberty Theatre, is told a sincere and human drama glorifying a railroad man as one of the great unbreakable fibers of the country's industries. "Weatherbound Limited" is a great story with the railroads as a background. It graphically depicts fundamental reasons for McAdoo's great tribute to the railroad man.

Thrilling Scenes in Coming Play.

A film version of one of the most exciting sea stories of recent years is Metro's production, "All the Brothers Were Valiant," based on the story of the same name by Ben Ames Williams. In its screen form it comes to the Antlers Theatre for a run of two days.

Those who have read Mr. Williams' powerful whaling story cannot but remember it as an unusually vivid and thrilling tale. It has all the elements which go to make a thoroughly entertaining photoplay; and with the careful production which Metro has given it, it should be one of the season's biggest pictures.

In the cast are several players whose abilities should make the leading characterizations especially vivid. Lon Chaney is seen in the role of Mark Shore, a scheming, crafty seaman, whose sudden disappearance from his ship is for a long time an unsolved mystery. Joel Shore is his brother, captain of the schooner which Mark himself once commanded. As played by Malcolm McGregor, this part is acted with genuine skill and power. The delightful actress, Billie Dove, is the only feminine player of any importance in the cast.

Viola Dana in Crinolines: New Role

The latest Metro photoplay to star the charming Viola Dana is "Crinolines and Romance," and it is to be shown to the large family of Miss Dana's enthusiasts tonight at the Antlers Theatre. Many novelties, both in characterization and in story, are provided for this film, and photoplay fans should be entertained hugely, if accounts of the picture can be depended upon.

Miss Dana's versatility takes an entirely new turn in "Crinolines and Romance." In the photoplay she is seen as a naive Southern belle, completely reacquainted from the rest of the world on her grandfather's estate in North Carolina. The star is everything that her role calls for—demure, vivacious, spirited, fascinating. Her acting in this picture is said to provide a real surprise for theatre-goers.

SKELETONS FOUND NEAR MEDFORD

MEDFORD, June 21.—The skeletons of an adult and an infant discovered on the old A. C. Taylor place two and one-half miles north of town yesterday by Sam Bateman were demolished by the scraper which the young man was using to level the ground. Whether the larger one was that of a woman or man is now hard to determine.

They were buried about two and one-half feet under the surface not more than a hundred yards or so from the Pacific highway and gave evidence of having been buried for a long period of years. The teeth of the larger skeleton gave evidence of having undergone dental work. A portion of the infant's jawbone remains intact with four or five tiny teeth about three thirty-seconds of an inch across. A part of the adult skull is also recognizable as having belonged to a human.

So far no incident has come to light which explains the presence of the skeletons and their unusual burial place.

ACCIDENT FATAL TO LITTLE GIRL

MARSHFIELD, June 21.—Della Beale Wickham, aged 4 years, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Wickham, who conduct the cook house at the Millington mill, died this morning at 2 o'clock as the result of an accident which happened about 6:30 last evening.

The little child was playing and climbed up on a pile of lumber about seven feet high, which caused the lumber to fall over on the child. The noise of the falling lumber was heard and the parents went to the child's rescue and got her from under the lumber. She was evidently badly hurt and was rushed in an auto to the Keiser hospital at North Bend.

No bones were broken but the little girl was hurt internally and nothing could be done to save her life. She died early this morning.

The arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

RAILROADS WILL SPEND MILLIONS

CHICAGO, June 21.—(A. P.)—The Pennsylvania Railroad system has begun a series of improvements to cost more than $125,000,000, according to an announcement made by the road here recently. Work has already begun on improvements costing more than two million dollars in the northwestern region, which includes most of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

The largest single improvement will be at 55th Street, Chicago, where the tracks will be elevated at a cost of $618,221. Another expenditure, of $121,379, will be made just four blocks south, at 59th street, where the Pennsylvania shops are located. Facilities for making heavy repairs to freight cars will be installed in these shops so that disabled cars can be put on the tracks promptly, in accordance with the present campaign to keep all equipment in constant service.

Pennsylvania railroad coal docks at Sandusky, O., will have their slip deepened to permit the entrance of large ships and allow continuous passage to other crafts.

A second track will be extended from Webb's to Walbridge, Ohio, with a 125-car capacity siding at Webb's, at a cost of $400,000. This improvement will expedite the handling of freight from Toledo and relieve the Toledo yard from considerable congestion.

At Ft. Wayne, Ind., a 110-foot turntable will be installed to replace a 75-foot turntable, which has become inadequate for the large, modern engines. This will cost $68,068.

The announcement says that these improvements are in accordance with the nation-wide campaign being conducted by the American Railway Association to have all railway equipment in constant service for the expected traffic this summer, when the present business boom will reach its height.
