THE GRADUATES CHOICE OF PROFESSIONS

Formerly the great majority of the young men who attended colleges became "professionals" men, divided mostly among the four great professions of law, medicine, teaching and the ministry. Today a great number of college graduates, probably the majority, go into occupations of a business nature.

In spite of the great distress from coal shortage existing over a big share of the country last winter, many people in the sections thus affected are not buying in their next winter's supply of coal as they ought to.

It isn't the man who makes the biggest noise that gets there. He can throw the bull but it takes the fellow with real strength and aggressiveness to hold him.

It is claimed mental defectives are on the increase. The political results frequently look so.

Dear Folks: When I longed for cake and cookies in the days when I was young; when I wanted yams and Pirates and to hear how they were hung, no one else but my Aunt Julia could make sweets or tell a tale that would satisfy my longing and that never once would fail.

PRUNE PICKIN'S BY BERT G. BATES

GOOD EVENING FOLKS— There's a little matter that we want to talk over with you this evening that's been on our mind all week long and somehow or other we feel as if we should broach the topic to you at this time.

DUMBLETT DORA THINKS Mt. Nebo is the one mentioned in the Bible. WE'LL NAME OURS The newest fad among the actresses is to give their gowns trick names.

WANT ONE If your looking around for an added source of income, you might take up the suggestion of one of our perfectly natural naturalists and acquire a private ostrich farm for domestic use.

Remember in plucking the bird that the ostrich's kick is one of the most powerful things in the world, now that the supply of hard liquor has dwindled. Ostriches have been known to reach the age of fifty, but their keepers usually die young.

"The term ain't bad" Said a friend to me, Who's been lookin' it over From A to Z. "But you folks don't boast One h-ll enough— Why don't you shout— You've got the stuff!"

After readin' about the folks droppin' dead in the east we've just about decided that the embalmers' Club there can see the sunshiney side of life.

ONE-ARMED RIDER WINS PONY RACE? says a headline. Lots of one-armed riders could win a flivver race.

ONE OF THE magazine culinary experts says raisins contribute to domestic harmony. This is especially true of black raisins.

PEPPER! but won't get you that coziness you're talkin' to Simple S-mars.

Another Nervous Woman Finds Relief Pert Haven, Mich.— "I suffered for two years with pains in my side, and if I worked very much I was nervous and just as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was sleepy all the day and didn't feel like doing anything, and was so nervous I would bite my finger nails. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me so much that I can tell you." — Mrs. CHARLES BRIDGMAN, 1210 Elm Street, Port Huron, Mich.
