KEELER, AT 80 GOES TO WORK

After fourteen years of enforced idleness because of ill health, J. H. Keeler, widely known Maryland citizen, has gained forty pounds at the age of eighty years and come back to work every day. Mr. Keeler, who resides at 3704 Thirty-Second street, Mt. Rainier, Md., gives entire credit for his extraordinary rehabilitation to Taniae.

"My stomach was in such terrible condition I could hardly digest a thing," says Mr. Keeler. "It would swell to nearly twice its normal size and I would have frightful pains through my stomach and back. I felt so weak, dizzy and miserable work was out of the question. In fact, my friends gave me up on three or four different occasions."

"Five months ago I began taking Taniae and improved from the very first bottle. I now eat anything on the table, have gained forty pounds and am back at work every day. Actually, I feel like a boy again. It would be ungrateful of me not to praise Taniae."

SALEM ANGERED BY PRISON LAXITY

SALEM, July 26.—Salem is up in arms over the failure of the prison administration to function, and the charges of laxity in management was almost the sole topic of conversation on the streets today following the bold escape of four more convicts from the institution yesterday.

Yesterday's getaway brought the total of escapes under the present administration up to 26, with 14 recaptured, counting one of yesterday's men who gave himself up voluntarily last night after comparing the rigors of making his own living on the outside to the soft snap accorded him in Warden Smith's playhouse.

Prisoners escaping from the penitentiary at will have brought about a small reign of terror among the townfolk here, particularly among the women and doors are carefully locked at night and every precaution taken, because it is openly declared the wholesale escape made from the Chester, Ill., prison a few days ago may be duplicated here any day.

Privileges extended to desperate criminals with the lure of summer weather hanging over them, make possible any sort of an escape from the prison followed by any sort of a tragedy.

People are insisting that something be done to protect their lives and property against such possibilities.

TWO WOMEN YOU KNOW

THERE'S the one who puts on her street costume, dabs a bit of powder on her nose and sallies forth to shop. She looks here, there and everywhere. She hunts and hunts and h-u-n-t-s. When she arrives back home she is jazzy and jaded—all mussed up, mentally and physically.

There's the other who really has learned the shopping art. She reads the advertisements before she starts out. She finds out exactly what she wants and where to get it. Then she goes straight down-town and right to the store that has it. In this way she saves time, money and effort. She comes home fresh as a daisy and ready to get the family a good dinner instead of wishing they could go to a cafeteria.

And the moral is—"A Straight Line Is the Shortest Distance Between Two Points."
