

NEXT SUNDAY, OCTOBER 7TH. PLAN TO ATTEND THE

CHRISTIAN BIBLE SCHOOLSCHOOL STARTS PROMPTLY AT 9:45
EACH SUNDAY MORNING.

We believe the Bible is the inspired word of God "and profitable for study." Whatever your personal belief on religion may be, you should be systematically and regularly studying the Bible, the largest seller and greatest book in the World.

WE OFFER:

- (1) An efficient course of Bible study, using the Bible, the whole Bible, and nothing but the Bible.
- (2) A completely graded course of study to meet the needs of each age (same as public school system).
- (3) Classes now formed and meeting regularly in all departments, from four-year beginners to adults.
- (4) All work given under competent teachers.
- (5) Classes are organized for Christian work.
- (6) Inspiring orchestra, song and worship opening exercises by department groups.
- (7) Every Sunday full 40 minutes is given to class study work.
- (8) Older classes studying optional courses; also a state accredited high school study class.
- (9) Any person, old or young, is more than welcome to our school; all supplies are furnished free.
- (10) If you are too old to come, our Home Department will reach you. Babies should be enrolled in our Cradle Roll Department.
- (11) You should make a place in your life to get this Christian influence, even if you must rearrange your outfit, your lodge, your golf, or other schedule. Especially should your children come under this Christian influence.

At next Sunday starts the new year's study work, you should come next Sunday, and besides and singular documents of its kind to be filed in the local probate court. It discloses a $2,000 estate. "The sure," read the underlined words of its text, "to have on my gravestone the words: 'I love my ma,' and on the one for mother's grave 'I love my girl.' Plant a white rose on mother's grave and see that it lives. Keep planting until one does live."

Some of the provisions of the odd document follow:
"Gustave Root, $50. Gave us big piece of pork, spare ribs, fried cakes one Christmas. Beans at another time."
"Melinda Butler, $50. Stayed a few weeks with me after mother died."

"Elmer Nippess, $50. Good to us. Remembered us at Christmas."
"Minnie Peterson, $50. Gave us birds whenever they killed ones."
"Earl W. Hopson, $50. Good to me. Gave us auto rides. I promised to buy him a ring. Use $50 to buy it."
"Melvin Root, $25. for taking us to depot when horse kicked the cutter."

"Laverne McNamara, $25. Gave mother rabbit stuffed with candy at Easter time."
"Peter Hendrickson, $25. to pay for gasoline taking me to cemetery."

Gulls Help Farmers.
Through southeastern Oregon and Utah gulls often pick up a living of grasshoppers. They rid the fields of harmful insects and help protect the crops from field mice, says Nature Magazine. As the water is turned into the fields from the irrigation ditches it seeps into the burrows, driving out the mice, which are devoured by the waiting gulls.

More to the Point.
"Mr. Daring," said the movie director, "in this scene a lion will pursue you for 500 feet."
"Five hundred feet?" interrupted the actor.
"Yes, and no more than that—understand?"
The hero nodded. "Yes, I understand, but does the lion?"

RUTH'S PITCHING
OUTDID BATTING IN WORLD'S SERIES

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—George Herman Ruth, known to the fans simply as "Babe," the outstanding star of the major leagues this season, whose bat and all-around ability contributed largely to the winning of the third pennant by the Yankees, played his first championship game with the Baltimore International League club April 22, 1914.

Baltimore played better that day. Ruth pitched, allowing six hits, passing four men and striking out four. Baltimore won, 6 to 0. Baltimore's second baseman was Neal Ball, the first major league player to make an unassisted triple play. Ball had made his triple killing five years before, while playing with Cleveland against the Boston Red Sox.

Ruth made his first appearance in the majors on July 11, 1914, with the Boston Red Sox, as a pitcher. He pitched seven innings against Cleveland, being taken out so that Duffy Lewis could pinch-hit for him. The Red Sox won, 4 to 3. Ruth getting credit for the victory. He struck out one man and passed none.

The 1916 series between the Red Sox and the Brooklyn Superbas was Ruth's first championship experience. He defeated Brooklyn 2 to 1, in 14 innings on October 3, holding the Dodgers' runless for the last 13 innings. In the 1918 series between the Red Sox and the Chicago Cubs, Ruth won two games. On September 5 he turned back the Cubs without a score, 1 to 0 and his runless innings record for world's series was increased to 22. Four days later he again defeated the Cubs, 2 to 2. The brace of Chicago runs came in the eighth so that Ruth increased his runless inning record to 23.

Ruth's all-around ability as pitcher, outfielder, first baseman and waller extraordinary had drawn him to the top of the star list, and in 1920 he became a member of the New York American League club. In his last season with Boston he had hit 29 home runs. In his first season in New York he scored his last into 54 homers, a new all-time mark, and in the following year increased this record to 59.

Last year, due to many days of enforced idleness, his batting averages dropped. He accounted for 35 home runs, however. All this year he has been around the top of the batting list in both leagues. He has been a flash on the bases, a great bulwark of defense in the outfield, and provided a stimulant generally to the play of the Yankees.

Playing the best all-around game of his career this year, Ruth may come into his own in the championship struggle and take his place among the hitting immortals of the title classic.

Ruth has one homer in his series record, made in 1921. The marks at which he will try to shoot this fall include the highest all-time series total, three, held jointly by J. Franklin Baker and Larry Gardner; the highest total for a single series, two, held jointly by eleven players; and the single game record of two, held by Harry Hooper and Benny Kauff.

Elmer Smith, now a member of the Yankees, holds a unique distinction of being the only player ever to hit a homer with the bases full during a series, a feat he accomplished with Cleveland in the 1920 series with Brooklyn. The homer was made off Burleigh Grimes.

The greatest fame as a series cloutier belongs to "Home Run" Baker, of the old Athletics. Curiously enough, all three of Baker's circuit wallops were recorded at the expense of the Giants, two of them winning games for the Mackmen. In the 1911 series, Baker's home run off Marquard in the ninth on October 14, with Collins on base, and the record, gave the victory to the Philadelphia club, 3 to 1. Two years later, a homer by Baker gave the Athletics their winning margin in a game with the Giants, again with Marquard pitching and Collins on base.

Baker's other homer, made in the 1911 series, was off Mathewson, and came in the ninth inning with the Giants leading, 1 to 0. It thus tied the score and the Athletics won out in the eleventh.

Other homers that proved deciding factors in series contests were made by Joe Tucker, of the old Chicago Cubs; Fred Clarke, when he was manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates; Danny Murphy of the Athletics; Harry Hooper of the Red Sox; Larry Gardner of Cleveland; Oscar Felsch, of the Chicago White Sox; and Benny Kauff, of the Giants.

Mrs. Jennie ButterfieldGood Advice for Women

Portland, Ore.—"All my life I have known of Dr. Pierce's medicines. My mother was a physician and she thought so well of Dr. Pierce's medicines that she quite frequently recommended them to her patients, especially the 'Favorite Prescription' for women. For about two years after the birth of my fourth child I suffered with feminine trouble of a very serious nature. I had all the aches and pains a woman could have. I was nervous and weak—just able to be around. I was in distress all the time, when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, but was completely relieved of all my ailments and restored to perfect health."

"When my daughter was growing into womanhood she was backward and had such poor health that she was compelled to quit school. I gave her the 'Favorite Prescription' and it completely restored her to health and she came into womanhood in a very natural way."—Mrs. Jennie Butterfield, 821 Mich. Ave. Write Dr. Pierce, Pres.
