The New Remington Game Loads

Be sure to see them—the biggest advance ever made in loaded shot shells. Produced as the result of important Remington discoveries about powder. There is a Remington Game Load for every kind of game in this locality. Each one is loaded to give safe and uniform velocity, pattern and penetration—the right shooting quality for that particular kind of game.

The load pictured above is the Remington Heavy Duck Load. It comes in 12-gauge with either No. 4, 5 or 6 Shot and in 20-gauge (the hard hitting 2 3/4" shell) in No. 6, 7 or 7 1/2 Shot. The velocity, pattern and penetration are right for big ducks, and for long range shooting when they are flying high. Sure and safe!

Remington Game Loads are loaded in the famous Nitro Club Waterproof Shells. Here is the complete list:

THE AUTHORITY IN FIRE ARMS, AMMUNITION AND CUTLERY

POLITICAL PARTIES WILL USE RADIO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The amazing development of radio broadcasting which has taken place within the last three years has compelled both major political parties to revise time honored methods of staging big nominating conventions and presidential campaigns. Managers of the two national committees are already giving thought to the big changes that are necessary because of the popular spread of the radio. They will make arrangements for broadcasting direct from the convention city and will also hook up long distance telephone wires so that smaller broadcasting stations out in the country can act as relay points. All through the presidential campaign speeches will be sent out by radio. Bedtime stories will be followed by deluges from senators, party statesmen and candidates on the tariff and the full dinner pail. This picture is gleaned from representative of the two national parties here. The Democratic national committee has been consulting with radio experts regarding a political broadcasting station to be created at some central point. This will be done if the expense is not too great. The committee also intends to enlist the cooperation of friendly newspapers which maintain broadcasting stations. Some of the big central broadcasting plants will send out an occasional speech. But there is a disposition among them to have no political propaganda. One argument officials will have to be more careful about deluging speeches over government radio lest they be accused of using an official broadcasting station for political purposes. Liberal use will be made of the movies, though the extent to which this medium can be used for political purposes is somewhat limited. When Will Hays left the cabinet to become head of the motion picture producers it was said he intended to use the

OREGON IS MECCA FOR MISMATED ONES

PORTLAND, Oct. 12.—Oregon is popular as the mecca of mismatched persons of nearly every section of the United States who determine that they must have a divorce, according to Miss Lida O'Bryon, deputy district attorney. Miss O'Bryon's observation is drawn from almost continual service as a representative of the state in default divorce hearings. "If you will watch the records," said Miss O'Bryon today, "you will discover that people come to Portland from all over the United States to get divorces."

She was asked why they pick on Portland or some Oregon city. "I hardly want to charge that it is so much easier to get a divorce in Oregon than in other states, yet there are certain factors which practically make it so, especially in default cases. We do not have as many grounds for divorce as several other states, but this ground of 'cruel and inhuman treatment' is so broad that it can be made to cover about anything." Vancouver Gretna Green Factor. The interviewer was in quest of facts which help explain why Oregon is in the enviable position of ranking next to Nevada in ratio of divorces to population. The well-known situation under which Vancouver as the Gretna Green of Portland, gets hundreds of the city's marriages each month and the county gets stigmatized through granting all its divorces, including a large set cost resulting from the busy Vancouver marriages, bears only indirectly on the showing that Oregon annually averages 311 divorces for each 100,000 population. The average for the United States is only 136, and Washington states, across the Columbia, only 156 a 100,000. Stanley Myers, district attorney, said that the system under which default divorces are obtainable in this state is a big factor in accounting for Oregon's showing. "An explanation of Oregon's record," he said, "is the ease with which a person can obtain a default divorce. This is Mr. Myers' divorce handling deputy—the explanation of why so many seek the divorce courts in this state. Judges pointed out that the common practice in the past in most counties of the state of permitting a referee to hear divorce affidavits and relieving the plaintiff even of the necessity of appearing in court, has made divorces easier to get and more popular. But neither judges nor prosecutor would talk of this divorce cause for publication—it strikes at a certain laxity on the part of lawyers and outside courts. Miss O'Bryon smilingly admitted that the referee system had been a very bad one from the standpoint of persons opposed to the growing popularity of divorces. 4125 subscribers—all buyers—read the News-Review.

PIERCE WANTS PAROLE LAW KILLED

SALEM, Oct. 15.—Repeal of the parole law and the law providing for indeterminate sentences will be sought at the hands of the legislators when they meet here in 1925, according to Governor Pierce. Repeal of these laws, the governor points out, would do away with the source of much criticism which has arisen over the granting of paroles to convicts and would provide a definite term of service for all men sentenced to the state prison. Good time credits would be provided for the reduction of the sentences of such convicts as might earn the credits, but otherwise there would be no escape from the penalty as imposed by the courts as is now provided through the parole system. Much criticism has been heaped upon the parole board during the past because of administration of the parole. Flagrant abuses of the law were charged to Acting Governor Duane during the close of the administration last year. HELD FOR GRAND JURY. R. Duane, who was arrested yesterday charged with larceny, was over to the grand jury under bonds, upon his appearance yesterday of the Peace Court. Duane is charged with a suitcase full of women's apparel, a bathrobe, and other articles from H. Uhlir at Roseburg Hotel. Duane was charged with the bail and will be held in county jail until grand jury convenes. TICKLING THROAT.
