H. W. DAVIS DIES AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

H. W. Davis, aged 76 years, a well known resident of this county, died last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert McCulloch, at Greens. Mr. Davis has been ill for the past three months and death resulted from Bright's disease, complicated with other troubles. He came to this county from Missouri, 25 years ago and lived at Drain for a short time, and then moved to Dillard where he resided for 22 years. He is survived by four sons and two daughters. They are: R. T. Davis, San Morango, Calif.; Mrs. R. A. Hercher, Dillard; W. F. Davis, Reedport; H. B. Davis, Springfield; Mrs. Robert McCulloch, Greens; and Harry Davis, Dillard. The funeral will be held at the Roseburg Undertaking chapel Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. Rev. H. L. Caldwell will officiate. Interment will take place in the Brockway cemetery.

TO START WORK ON FISH LADDER SOON

T. H. Ness, superintendent of the Umpqua division of the California Oregon Power company, has returned from a trip to Portland and Klamath Falls. While in Portland he met with the state game commission and took up the amended plans for the proposed fish ladder at the Winchester dam. The plans proved satisfactory to the commission and as soon as weather conditions will permit active work will be started. The fish ladder will be built of reinforced concrete at the west end of the dam. The contract has been let to L. W. Metzger, who expects to be able to complete the work in about six days. The materials are now being procured and as soon as weather will allow the ladder will be started. Mr. Ness also joined the Roseburg delegation at the Klamath Falls celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernie West, formerly of this city, but for the past year located at Coquille, will return to Roseburg about the first of November to again make their home in this city. Mr. West has sold his barber-shop at Coquille and will resume his old position with the Barnes' barber-shop on Cass street.

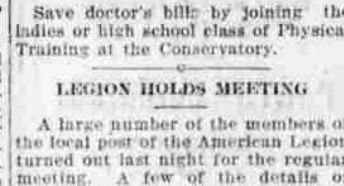

ALL PLANES DWARF IN COMPARISON WITH BIG BARLING BOMBER

(By Associated Press.)
DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 11.—The Barling bomber is the largest airplane. The Martin bomber, the largest airplane in use by the air service before the advent of the Barling, is a pigmy compared to it. The Barling soon is to make a tour of the country. The exact itinerary has not yet been announced, but the machine will be at New York about October 20. The Barling has a wing spread of 120 feet, a height of 28 feet and an overall length of 65 feet. The gasoline capacity is six tons, or 2,000 gallons. The oil capacity 1,356 pounds or 181 gallons. Six Liberty engines are required to power the Barling. The minimum crew required to operate the Barling consists of four men, but provision is made for a crew of eight. The weight of the airplane loaded will exceed 40,000 pounds. Specifications require that not more than 5,000 pounds of bombs shall be carried at one time, but were anything so large as a 10,000-pound bomb developed, the Barling could lift it and fly for two hours. Specifications required a flying speed of 90 miles per hour. On her initial flight the Barling accomplished 93 miles per hour without difficulty. With 2,000 gallons of gasoline, 12 hours flight at full speed can be made. With engines throttled, or some of them cut off completely, the time of flight can be correspondingly lengthened. A total of seven guns, operated from five positions or cockpits, cover the whole field in which enemy aircraft may approach. The gun defense may be augmented for day flying, in case the airplane is used for day as well as night bombing, for which it is planned. The tail is a biplane structure, forming two planes 25 per cent larger than the main wings of the DH-4 airplanes. There are four equal size rudders. The Barling has eight wheels, with tires 60x12 inches, the largest ever made. Two wheels with smaller tires are on a truck further forward under the fuselage to prevent the airplane from nosing over. A radio set has been installed in the bomber. W. H. Barling, designer of the Barling bomber, speaking of the purposes of such an airplane, says: "Two elements have influenced the U. S. air service in investing the expenditures absorbed in the production of an airplane such as the Barling bomber. These may be classified as the known uses of such an airplane and the uses not yet known, owing to lack of experience with large airplanes. "When a large airplane is spoken of, one of some 200,000 pounds, or four times the size of the Barling bomber, one which might drop two 20,000-pound bombs, is intimated. It is not impossible that such an airplane may be the logical development of the next ten years, the Barling bomber being a step in that direction. Hence the Barling bomber is to be looked upon as a small big airplane, rather than a big small one."

LEGION HOLDS MEETING

A large number of the members of the local post of the American Legion turned out last night for the regular meeting. A few of the details of the Armistice Day celebration were considered and committee reports received. A number of the minor business matters were taken up for consideration and a good meeting held. Dr. E. B. Stewart, commander of Umpqua Post, who is in San Francisco attending the National Convention, sent greetings to the post by telegraph.

How About the Kidneys?
Portland, Ore.—"I am glad to recommend Dr. Pierce's Anuric (Kidney and Backache) Tablets as a safe and reliable remedy to be given to little children who are afflicted with weak kidneys. My little daughter (between five and six years of age) was troubled greatly, especially at night. The doctor said he could do nothing for her, but that she might outgrow it. I then decided to give her Dr. Pierce's Anuric, just one-half a tablet each night, until one bottle had been taken. It strengthened the organs so that we have had no further trouble with her. I feel sure that Dr. Pierce's Anuric is a safe remedy to be given to children, if given intelligently."—Mrs. L. I. Ellis, 717 E. 35th St.

DRY AGENTS IN TROUBLE

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 15.—W. M. McMills and D. E. Randall, accredited state prohibition agents, were arrested here tonight, charged with accepting a bribe. District Attorney J. C. Erickson, who caused the arrests, said the two men had been trapped. He said that Sam Skojo, a hotel man, who had come to him today, saying the two agents had seized a bottle of liquor in his place and put him under arrest and had then told him that if he would pay them $150 they would destroy the evidence and "forget it." The district attorney said he advised Skojo to go through with the bribe; that he then obtained $150 in bills at a bank and recorded the numbers of the bills. Skojo took the money and went to meet the agents again, and when he returned said he had paid over the money. The two agents were arrested. When they were searched at the jail, Erickson said, the marked bills were found on the person of McMills. The arrested men made no statement.

MOVIES

Majestic Theatre
One of the many and varied characters John Gilbert has portrayed while acting in moving pictures he has declared that the one of "Jaca Javalle," the mysterious silent youth in the Fox production, "The Madness of Youth," whose keen, criminal brain throughout a year carefully planned the robbery of a notable collection of jewels and then refused to take them, interested him more than any other. "No ordinary thief," said Mr. Gilbert, "would have conceived the master stroke of the disguise of the queer nomadic young religious fanatic; the one role that would interest the old man and gain entrance into the home."

story lending itself readily to the screen adaptation and a skillful presentation, "Slave of Desire" is said by critics to be one of the year's most worth while films. The picture was produced by Gilbert E. Gable and was directed by George D. Iglor. Incidentally, it was the one hundredth picture upon which that veteran director had wielded the megaphone. The story was adapted for the screen by Charles Whittaker, one of the most noted scenarists in the business. George Walsh, one of the handsomest leading men on the screen, heads the cast.
