Conventions of Society

Conventions of the Street
Proper street deportment calls for a certain reserve and dignity. A young man's manner should in no way draw attention to the lady he is accompanying or to himself.

Those Nine Groups—Which is Yours?
A few of us seem to be absolutely correct; truly "ideal average figures"—a precious gift of Eve that will be ours just so long as we are watchful—just so long as we honestly consult the truth-telling mirror—just so long as we keep the years at face's length with the right corsets. Many more so closely approximate the proportions that they may term themselves average, though not quite ideal.

The second group is made up of those whose vertical measurements are, uniformly, just a little longer in proportion than their horizontal—a trifle more than 8 heads tall, though not more than 4 1/2 around the hips. They're the tall, slender group.

Another group are more than 8 heads tall, but a bit more solidly built—the tall heavy. The short slender group are both shorter and more slender than the average. The fifth group the short heavy, are shorter than the average though not so slender. The sixth may be of any height, but, alas, they're not quite in proportion because, from the waist up, their measurements are all in excess of what they should be and this constitutes their main problem to beauty.

Measure yourself by your head and decide your type of figure before you even think of buying a corset. It will only take a few minutes and may save you another buying mistake, and enough money to buy that hat you thought you couldn't afford.

Paris Style Hints
Chinese Gowns
PARIS, Oct. 20.—The Chinese motif which was introduced at the last Bal du Grand Prix is one of the most noticeable features of the Autumn fashions which are now coming from the Paris workrooms.

Yvonne Davidson started the Chinese idea last year with her several layer dresses for which her little house became justly famous. She makes them in two and sometimes in three tones, one dress upon the other with just enough to show the color contrast.

Lenief is another who holds to the Chinese effect in colors and embroideries. Chinese laquer red and gold are artistically combined and black velvet is often embroidered in Chinese flowers. One has a jumper blouse with white cherry blossoms and is finished where the jumper overlaps the skirt at a low waist line by a band of Chinese red crepe.

The Postmaster General appears in a scene with Brandon Tynan, who plays the role of a letter carrier. This scene was made at Washington, and being brought from New York for the film.

"Loyal Lives" is one of the most human pictures ever screened. It is filled with thrills, pathos and laughs that make it one of the best pictures of the year.

Dear Mrs. Elisbury: I met a young man a month or so ago, which I like very well. He has since taken me several places and seems to be very fond of me. Now I am corresponding with another young man which I dearly loved, although I had a cause to forget my love for this man. He has tried to win it back. Now, I can't truly love this last young man until I do something with this one which I am corresponding with. I will appreciate your advice on my case.

D. D.: My dear either you are very young or very foolish. Always remember that the only result of revenge is destruction and ruin. You shall have to forget the first man, or else forgive him. If he has done something that you cannot forgive then forget him, if possible. Do not correspond with him, if you do not care for his friendship, if he insists on you corresponding with him either do not answer his letters or simply tell him.

soup comes under the name of "Portage Conde" in French kitchens. It makes one of the thick soups which are very wholesome and go a long way toward shortening the menu in these days of high prices.

For three or four persons put about a pint of red beans on to cook with enough water to cover them nicely. At the end of two hours they should be sufficiently cooked. Pass through a sieve and then mash. If the puree is a little too thick add a little water or milk. Replace upon the stove and add a large piece of butter with salt and let cook a few minutes.

Cold Salmon Loaf
Fish week in Paris brought forth a number of delicious fish dishes as all the little restaurants.

For a good salmon loaf, brown in fresh butter young carrots cut into dice, shallots, thyme laurel and a few bay leaves. In this brown five large spoonfuls of rice and moisten all with the water in which has been cooked about one pound of fresh salmon. Cook the rice from 40 to 45 minutes. Let cool and then put with the salmon and one-half a pound of other fish, pike if possible. Mash well as it cooks and pass through a large sieve. Pile into a buttered casserole and cover. Bake in the oven over a pan of hot water for one-half an hour. Serve when cool.

The members of the Country club will sponsor a Halloween party Tuesday evening, the 30th. The committee in charge are working hard to make this one of the most enjoyable affairs of the year.

Majestic Theatre
Many beauty spots of California are pictured in "The Clean Up," the latest Western Feature production, starring Bill Fairbanks, Laguna Beach. Filmed for it beautiful rugged shores, was the picturesque location selected by Director McKenzie for the "water scenes" of this production. The production will be shown at the Majestic theatre today and Sunday.

Bill Fairbanks always finds time in the early mornings for his favorite recreation, horseback riding. It is not unusual his making horseback hikes of fifteen miles before appearing at the studio each morning.

Hazel Mays, who plays the part of the daughter in "The Clean Up" is well on her way to stardom. Miss Mays has been playing in Fox comedies for about two years and she is still in her teens.

Liberty Theatre
Remington—a magic name! The foremost painter of American life. His pictures are in every home—beloved for their red-blooded, two-fisted vigor! Frederic Remington's men are real men—brave, strong, powerful characters!

On painted canvas they thrill you—inspire you! That's why they have now been woven into a motion picture—a production of might, of tragedy—of humor. Just the kind of a play Remington himself might have made, could he have brought life into his paintings. See "Out of the Dust" one of the greatest accomplishments of the motion picture screen—pathos, love, action, beauty. At the Liberty theatre tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday.

Antlers Theatre
Postmaster General Harry S. New is an actor in "Loyal Lives," the dramatic photoplay of the United States mail, which will be shown at the Antlers theatre tonight.

Postmaster General New, one of the most conspicuous political figures in Washington, had been noted for his unwillingness to pose for cameramen, particularly the movies during his years at United States senator. This characteristic shyness, he set a film, when he learned the Whitman Biomet production for Vitaphone portrayed the unflinching, unflinching, and frequently dangerous work of the postman in serving the public.

The Postmaster General appears in a scene with Brandon Tynan, who plays the role of a letter carrier. This scene was made at Washington, and being brought from New York for the film.
