Clipped at Last, Officers Hope

Mrs. Marion Shaw

(International News Service.) NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—What's a policeman going to do when an extremely attractive young matron, with a penchant for stepping on the gas, persists in piloting her high-powered racing car through the streets at many miles per hour? Even cops are human—and don't like to "get tough" with a pretty woman—but there's a limit to human endurance. So it behooved the stalwart pillars of civic virtue in Suffolk county, Long Island, to cast chivalry to the winds in the case of beautiful Mrs. Marian B. Shaw, twenty-three year old society matron. Already she has been assessed an aggregate of $65 in fines, held in jail once, given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail and threatened on one or two other occasions. Now it seems at least as though the shimmering wings of "Mrs. Mercury" are about to be clipped. By her own confession, she is all tuckered out.

Meekly Capitulates She meekly paid her fine of $25 the last time she was before a court and admitted she was just about through. The cop's patience, it seems, is exhausted. "I was spoken to then," she said, referring to a recent encounter, "in a manner in which no man ever spoke to me before." Mrs. Shaw was reclining on a couch in her New York apartment, with a silken gown draped about her. She reviewed the series of "brushes" with the Suffolk county authorities. On September 8 last Mrs. Shaw was halted on the streets of Patchogue by Patrolman Creston, who charged that she was going at a rate of 30 miles an hour in her huge "red-top" car. In addition, he subsequently charged that she called him

SECURED FOR CREEK OIL WELL

Oil and Gas completed an engine and will be ready in a few days for drilling on the North field, according to an estimate made today. A 90-horsepower and 45-horsepower have been obtained and reported to the location. The derrick is already in place and work is now starting on the foundations for the engine. As soon as the shaft of sufficient length of pipe and engine will be installed. The stems, bits, and tools and other equipment are being procured in Portland and there will be no delay. The equipment will allow a hole to be drilled to a depth of 2,000 feet.

It is expected that the hole will only have to go to a depth of 2,000 feet and it is expected that the shaft can be put to that depth in 90 days. Results are expected from this field about the first of April if the present plans are carried out.

BROCCOLI GROWERS HOLD MEETING

An enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Umpqua Valley Broccoli Growers, Inc., was held yesterday at the new warehouse in Edgewater. There was a large number of the members of the organization present and about 250 acres were signed up for the coming season. All are well pleased with the new warehouse, which was built under the direction of Manager R. H. C. Wood. The new building is 33 by 40 feet in size and has all modern facilities for handling broccoli of other vegetables and all kinds of fruit. Four cars can be loaded at one time on the spur track which leads to the warehouse. All growers reported that broccoli at this season of the year is looking better than at any similar time within the past ten years, and unless severe winter weather is experienced next year's crop will be far above the average in quality.

DEMURRER OVERRULED Judge Hamilton today overruled the demurrer in the case of the State against Floyd Brown, charged with obstructing justice under false pretenses. Brown, who is a traffic officer at Corvallis, was instructed to appear in Roseburg as soon as possible for arraignment on the charge.

The Umpqua Chiefs will meet at the office of A. T. Lawrence tomorrow, (Friday) night, according to an announcement made today by the Big Chief. The Chiefs will discuss some important matters at the meeting and it is requested that all tribesmen be present.

ENDORSES METHODS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Chairman Reed, of the senate investigation committee probing the affairs of the Veterans Bureau endorsed the methods of investigation of General John P. O'Ryan today. Reed said that the committee found O'Ryan not guilty of the charges of unfairness and suppression of evidence made by Forbes. O'Ryan continued a vicious cross examination of Forbes' private and public conduct. He read into the records the report of the American Legion officials charging graft in the purchase of the Livermore hospital site.

MUSCOVITES WILL STORM CITY FOR BIG CEREMONIAL ON NEXT SATURDAY

"Hard-Task" the Muscovite Goat, which is being fed on wild meat preparatory to the big ceremonial to be held next Saturday.

Everything is in readiness for the big Muscovite ceremonial to be staged in Roseburg on next Saturday. It is expected that over 400 delegates will come from the other cities and towns of the state and a big event is anticipated. The delegates will start arriving early Saturday morning and the reception committee will be on hand all day at the L. O. O. F. temple which will be the headquarters for the ceremonial. Delegates will be registered and welcomed there and will receive the program for the events of the day. Cars will be furnished all those who desire to make trips to points around Roseburg and community, and those who arrive early will be encouraged to visit some of the scenic spots of the Umpqua Valley. During the afternoon various street stunts of an impromptu nature will be staged. The town will be turned over to the Muscovites and according to rumors from the towns from which visitors are coming, some of the delegates will have some unusual and unique stunts to spring. The main program starts at 1 o'clock with a banquet at the armory. Prior to that time the local Muscovite band will play on the street and will round up the visitors for the big feed. Immediately following the banquet a huge torchlight parade will be staged on the main streets. Drill teams from Portland, Grants Pass, and other points are expected and a very colorful parade is planned. Immediately following the parade the big initiation and ceremonial will be put on at the Armory. Because of the great crowd coming it was found impossible to stage the ceremonial in the L. O. O. F. Hall and the armory was the only other hall big enough for the event. The lady Muscovites meet in the L. O. O. F. temple at the same time as the big program in the armory.

FOUND HAPPINESS IN WORK

Great Writers and Inventors Acted With Much Wisdom in Refusing to "Rust Out."

Examples of long life accompanied by happiness in productive labor are numerous, both in biography and in contemporary life, observes the Yorkshire Post. E. W. Leader died the other day in his ninety-third year, after joyously producing his type of beauty in landscape art almost to the last. Edison, our greatest contemporary inventor, passed recently his seventy-sixth birthday. He was too busy to pause for congratulations, entirely happy in his research and experiment, finding the days too short for his exacting mind. The old classical aphorism which tells us that they die young whom the gods love, must be taken with the proverbial grain of salt. Wordsworth in all his verses breathed the atmosphere of contentment and joy, and survived until he was a happy octogenarian, glad in himself and gladdened by his countless admirers. Tennyson reached eighty-three, borne along as on the crest of a flowing wave of joy, the beating of which can be felt in all his work, even to his rhythmic swan's song of "The Pilot." Carlyle died at eighty-six, and although lone and sad in his closing years, he owed his longevity very largely to the joy he had cultivated in his work for fifty productive years. Sir James Barrie, in his luminous rectorial address, recently spoke the truth when he said that Carlyle's misery was an illusion to Carlyle himself and a myth in biography. He was happy in his work with a glow of joy that counteracted the pains of his nervous dyspepsia, and nursed his inherited vitality into continuous strength.

ALASKA MAN HERE

J. W. McCord whose home is in Alaska has been spending several days in Roseburg attending to business. Mr. McCord has been in California and Oregon for some time in the interest of an oil field in Alaska, which is sponsored by the Standard Oil company and the Southern Pacific company. Mr. McCord is the owner of a gold mine in Alaska and also has charge of a governmental experiment station. He is also the hero of Rex Beach's famous book, "The Iron Trail." Mr. McCord left this afternoon for Alaska.

ROTARIANS FROM COOS BAY HERE

The local Rotary club had the pleasure of five visiting Rotarians from Coos Bay today, among whom were A. T. Haines, A. L. Martin, Joseph Larson, P. S. Wold and C. W. Kaufman. These gentlemen motored over to have luncheon with the Roseburg boys today. Unfortunately they had missed the last regular meeting of Coos Bay Rotarians, which is held each Monday, and to show their loyalty and keep up the attendance of their club they came here to attend today's meeting, due credit being given their home club for their presence here. They returned home this afternoon.

The chairman of the committee that has in charge the entertainment of local school teachers next Tuesday evening, November 22, stated that all arrangements are now complete. The banquet will be held at the Umpqua hotel at 7:30 sharp. Officers of the club, including their wives, will be the reception committee to receive the teachers and are requested to be present promptly at 7 o'clock. Several committee reports were given and matters pertaining to the club's activities given attention. On the 26th of this month the Rotarians and their wives will visit Eugene for an inter-city meeting, at which time they will be entertained at a banquet at the Osborne Hotel. Plans are being made for a great meeting on this date and it is hoped to have every member from Roseburg present.

A letter in answer to one from the president of Rotary to the Kiwanis club welcoming this new civic organization into this field was read and enthusiastically received by the members, the president pledging the hearty support of the Kiwanis in all civic matters. There will be no meeting of the Rotary club next Thursday noon, the evening gathering taking the place of the necessary luncheon.
