On a Subject of Transcendent Importance to You and to all Mankind

THE HOPE FOR DISTRESSED HUMANITY

MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE

What hope have you for the relief of suffering and sorrow in the world, and the distress among the nations? Can you base your hope on any one of our great statesmen; on any League of Nations? NO—they have all failed to bring peace and happiness to the world. Whence, then, shall we look for a savior?

Hear what some of our great statesmen say relative to the present distress in the world; their frank admission that they see no way out. Then hear what the Bible says about the only way, where-by sin and suffering, sorrow and sickness, pain and even death itself is to be destroyed; and peace and happiness, and everlasting life on earth shall be the ultimate blessing to all mankind.

"For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be famines and pestilences and earthquakes in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrow."—Matt. 24:7.

"And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes, and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away."—Rev. 21:4.

AUTO THIEF SHOT AFTER WILD CHASE

PORTLAND, Nov. 22.—A night of crime may end in death for Darrell Perry, just old enough to cast his first vote.

A policeman's bullet dropped him as he was trying to leg it away from a motorcycle posse at 4:30 a. m. today. At Good Samaritan hospital little hope is held for him.

After he had been carried to the hospital by the policeman who shot him down when it looked as if a breakneck chase was about to end in his escape, he made a confession.

Chief of Police Jenkins, who had been routed out of bed by Lieutenant Crane when the latter heard of the shooting, took the confession himself and investigated the affair on the ground.

Perry was shot at Twenty-third and Johnson streets, only a short distance from the hospital and in the same block where, several hours before he had stolen an automobile belonging to C. H. Coleman, 175 North Twenty-third street.

According to the confession obtained by the chief, he drove to Deer Island about 11:30 o'clock last night and robbed a store of some groceries, cigars and tobacco.

As he was coming in the Linnton road he passed Patrolmen Kelly, Blanchard and McDonald of the vice squad, who, with motorcycles at hand, were waiting on the chance of picking up some rum runners.

The policeman says Perry was traveling between 55 and 60 miles an hour.

They spotted the number as that of a stolen car and set out in chase of the speeder.

Through the north end of town they chased the car, which went careening around corners and dodging through streets in an effort to shake them off.

As he arrived back at the point where he had taken the car, Perry leaped out—already on the run. McDonald shot once.

Blanchard poured four shots from his pistol.

One of the bullets—police officers think it was one fired by Blanchard—struck Perry down.

A quick examination showed that it had struck him almost in the center of the back and ranged out above the right breast.

Perry's home is in Sherwood, Ore., but he formerly lived at 1139 Rodney avenue. His step-father, Al Lumsden, was a deputy sheriff during Tom Blanchard's administration.

Perry, according to police who knew both him and his father, bore an excellent reputation. It is known the youth has been out of employment, and yesterday some of his father's friends attempted to get a job for him.

ESSAYS WRITTEN BY SCHOOL CHILDREN HOLD UP IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATION IN BUSINESS AND POLITICAL LIFE

This week is being observed in the schools of the city and county as Education Week, and special emphasis is being given educational consideration and discussion in the schools and in public gatherings. Pupils in the grade schools have been asked to write essays on the subject of education and the best of these have been selected from the different schools. The News-Review in cooperation with the school officials has agreed to publish these essays chosen as the best turned in by the students and will endeavor to publish two of these compositions each day. Following are two short articles written by the children whose names are signed and who have been judged to have written essays which have ranked among the best:

Our Duty to the Foreign Born

Why should we welcome the foreigners in to our country? We should welcome and love them to help make the United States a more progressive, a greater, and a stronger nation.

When the foreigners enter our country, most of them are without a knowledge of our language, money and work, but probably have a large family, for whom they must provide. The great reason New York City has such a large population, is because the foreigners who live there have not enough money to take them to other places.

You have probably heard of "Tammany," which is in New York. It helps the foreigners find work, clothes and feeds them, and pays their doctor bills; but it is corrupting their politics by making them vote for men morally unfit for office.

Tammany, or any other source often become lazy, ragged, drunkards and think only of what their empty stomachs crave.

The United States government can do what good Tammany is doing and end the corruption of politics. By helping these foreigners find suitable employment, and teaching them to understand our language and customs, we are helping the United States.

The United States government has provided for night schools for those who have to work during the day, which is doing much toward Ameri-canizing the many foreigners here but this is very little compared to what we can and will do.

We may also help them by setting them good examples, and by doing things we wish and expect them to do. We can do this by speaking our English language correctly, voting at all elections willingly, obeying all laws, and showing our ability to be a good citizen.

If we do these things, the foreigner will willingly say, "I am glad to become a citizen of the United States." When we do our duty to these people, aren't we doing a duty to our country?

NINA HOEHNE, 8-B Grade, Benson School.

Our American Ideals

The one great problem of United States today is education. The government has made it possible for the poorest of the poor, and the richest of the rich to have a good education.

There are but few schools in the United States that are not free schools, but there are enough public schools to educate every boy and girl in the United States.

Some of the things which our fathers have set out before us are freedom, equality, justice and humanity. There are also many others which if collected would make quite a large book.

They have lived throughout the years because they have been taught to the rising generations of this great nation. Great because our forefathers have worked night and day for months and years, moulding its forms.

And now when an effort is made to down the ideals for which they stood, it only makes them stand out all the more.

The ideals upon which this nation was built do not grow old with the years because they were so well thought out and planned that they are still new today, although they were started over two hundred and fifty years ago.

Since they have stood and have been so prosperous in the past, is there any reason for them falling in the future?

U. OF O. FRESHMEN BUILD BONFIRE

EUGENE, Nov. 22.—The material gathered by the University of Oregon freshmen for the big home-coming bonfire, was touched off this morning at 1 o'clock. The freshmen immediately responded to the fire alarm and pulled the burning material from the pile, and the fire department had nothing to do upon arrival. The persons responsible for touching off the pyre ahead of time were not located.

EUGENE, Nov. 22.—The fresh bonfire, which will be the first big event of homecoming is progressing rapidly. Much material for the big blaze is already on the grounds and work will be started by the whole class on Thursday afternoon.

Friday has been designated a holiday for the entire class of '27, in order to facilitate the work for the fire. All freshmen, men and women, will be excused from Friday's classes. Those who are not actually engaged upon the work at the time will be expected to attend the assembly. This will include probably all the freshmen girls and possibly part of the men.

Thursday at 1 o'clock is the hour when the work begins, but men are not expected to miss class on Thursday afternoon, and will not be asked to report until after their last class Thursday. The building of the pyre will continue through all of Thursday night and all day Friday.

At 1 a. m. Friday, the girls of '27 will serve coffee and hot-dog sandwiches to the workers on the field. Frances Morgan is in charge of the feeding program. Except for meals there will be no intermissions in the construction work.

The fire this year is to be spectacular and swift. Larger than ever, it is to be fired swiftly and burn brilliantly for a short time, that there may be no delay in the start of the noise parade. The problem of building this sort of fire was solved by the physics department of the University. The structure is to be composed almost entirely of boxes and 1,000 gallons of waste oil will be used upon it.

Clifford Kohrens, chairman of the fresh bonfire committee is confident that all freshmen men will do their part in making this year's fire a success. A particular job is to be assigned every freshman before he reports work on Thursday afternoon. The vigilance committee will take the attendance at times during the building of the fire.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Your health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes anyone so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.
