FRANCIS... TO WIDEN SCOPE

(By United Press.)
PARIS, Dec. 12.—France agreed to widen the scope of the investigation of the finances of Germany to obtain participation by the Americans in the committee's findings. These concessions were admitted after receipt of word that Coolidge favored participation. The American observer, Logan, emphasized to Louis Barthou that the American government is not in a position to be represented but favors the acceptance of the invitation to the private American financiers.

BASKETBALL GAME SATURDAY NIGHT

The first basketball game of the season will be played at the high school gymnasium on Saturday night. The game will be a practice contest with the Myrtle Creek team. The Roseburg high school has a fine team this year and is determined to go to the state conference to try for the championship. The team is composed largely of experienced men, who are showing up well under the efficient instruction of Coach Larson. The regular season's schedule is now being formed and the conference program will probably start next week.

U. S. IS ALMOST READY TO GIVE AID

(Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Only a few formalities remain before the American unofficial aid becomes available to the European allies in an effort toward the reparations settlement. Charles G. Dawes, former director of the budget, is mentioned as a possible choice for one of the committees. Coolidge believes the decision reached yesterday for American aid is one of the most important steps in foreign policy taken by the government in months.

CONNELLY CASE COST OVER $2,000

The two trials of Jack Connelly cost the county in the neighborhood of $2,000 it is estimated. County Clerk I. B. Riddie today prepared a cost bill, setting forth the amounts expended for the defendant's witnesses, and the state will attempt to recover from the defendant that amount. The witnesses alone cost the county $976.90, while the witnesses in the Schulte case cost $125. The state has the right to recover from the defendant the amount paid out for his witnesses, in the event a conviction is obtained, and this attempt will be made. Connelly is reported to have considerable money, but it is expected that the most of his property is tied up in such a manner that it cannot be levied upon. His hotel, it is understood, is in his wife's name. The county was forced to call several special jury venues and spend a great deal of money in the two trials.

(International News Service.)
MARTINS FERRY, Ohio, Dec. 12.—Patrolman Elwood Rothermund went rabbit hunting. A bunny hove in sight. Rothermund dropped his shotgun, reached for his revolver and yelled "Halt" at the bunny.
The flying fur ball failed to stop until the patrolman fired a few times with his revolver. When asked by a companion why he didn't use his shot gun Rothermund said he thought he had his nose.

FEW TURKEYS ARE SOLD TODAY

Growers Apparently Not Satisfied With Price of Twenty-Three Cents.
SATURDAY IS BIG DAY
Bulk of Birds for Christmas Market to Be Received by Local Buyers on Friday and Saturday.

The appeal to growers to ship turkeys to the east at a price of 23 cents per pound resulted in failure, as not enough birds were received today to make up even one carload. Growers apparently are taking a chance on Friday and Saturday's market rather than sell for eastern shipment. Four or five loads of birds came in today and were taken by the Farm Bureau and by George Kohlhaagen, local buyer, but the number was very limited and not enough to make any material difference in the market.

The price paid today was 23 cents as advertised by the buyers. The price will remain the same for Saturday, according to Mr. Banning of the Farm Bureau Exchange.
A few sales at 25 cents have been reported. One or two buyers of the county received orders for a limited number of birds and purchased enough prime fowls to fill the orders at a price slightly in advance of the regular market. These sales, however, have not been of sufficient size to materially affect conditions.
Birds for the Christmas trade will come in on Friday and Saturday, and it is expected that receipts will be quite heavy on those days. It was reported today that the market in the large centers is not as strong as it has been, and that wholesale buyers are extremely wary about quoting a price. The market may become stronger, and if so the price may advance to 25 cents, but it appears to be the general opinion that 23 cents will be the top price paid.
The birds being brought in at the present time are very fine and the quality is excellent. It is expected that there will be more turkeys for the Christmas market than were brought in at Thanksgiving time.

When the connection is made at Burns with the Malheur line, the national forest lands will have contact with the trunk line railroads.

COSHOW IS GIVEN HIGH POSITION

Local Attorney Appointed to State Supreme Bench by Governor Pierce
IS WELL QUALIFIED
Through Extensive Law Practice and Careful Study Is Admirably Fitted for Associate Justice.

Attorney O. P. Coshow last night received notice that he has been appointed by Governor Walter M. Pierce to the position of associate justice of the state supreme court, to succeed Justice Lawrence T. Harris, who has resigned to enter the law practice at Eugene. It has been rumored that Judge Harris is resigning to enter the race for U. S. senator, but he denies that he is a candidate. Mr. Coshow will accept the appointment, and as soon as his business affairs can be arranged here will leave for Salem to reside. The resignation of Justice Harris becomes effective January 15. In the appointment of Attorney Coshow the state is assured of a supreme justice who is well qualified in every way for this most important office.

Mr. Coshow was born in Brownsville, Oregon, on Aug. 14, 1863. His parents were early pioneers, his mother, Sarah Cochran, coming to Oregon from Missouri in 1847 and his father, O. P. Coshow, Sr., crossing the plains from Iowa in 1851.

He obtained his education in the elementary schools at Brownsville, the high school in Portland and the University of Oregon. After graduating from the university he became secretary of the Brownsville Wollen Mills and while engaged in this position studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1890, while studying law in the office of J. K. Weatherford at Albany. He served as justice of the peace in Albany, and then moved to McMinnville where he engaged in private practice for five years. While in McMinnville he was appointed deputy district attorney for Yamhill county, and held this office at the time he moved to Roseburg in 1907.

Since coming to Roseburg Mr. Coshow has built up an enviable practice. He has proven himself a lawyer of more than ordinary ability, and much confidence has been imposed in him by the people of the community. He served for two years as school director, was elected state senator in 1904 and served in the sessions of 1905 and 1907. During Chamberlain's administration he was appointed to the state board of higher curricula and served for 10 years, his appointment being continued by Governor Benson and West. He has served in many lesser capacities, and at the present time is a member of the tax supervising commission for Douglas county.

He was one of the founders of the Thomas Kay Wollen Mills at Salem, and has held the office of director in that company since 1899.
Fraternally he is affiliated with the Masonic, Elks, Odd Fellows, Woodmen and Artisan orders. He holds the rank of 32nd degree Mason and at the present time is deputy grand master of the Masonic lodge, and is in line for the office of grand master. He is also the president of the Roseburg Kiwanis club.

Mr. Coshow is an active church worker in the Baptist church of which he has been a member for many years. He is one of the most active members of the Roseburg church and has served for 25 years as Bible school superintendent.
Politically Mr. Coshow is a democrat and has been a faithful worker for that party. He has served for four years as chairman of the democratic central committee, and in 1908 was a candidate on the electoral ticket.
His appointment to this high position brings much pleasure to his many friends in this county, and he has been showered with messages of congratulation today, not alone from friends in this immediate vicinity, but from all over the state. Roseburg will henceforth be represented on the bench by two of its foremost citizens, Hon. George M. Brown, and Mr. Coshow.
Lawrence T. Harris, whose resignation has been tendered, has been on the supreme bench since 1915. He was born September 12, 1873, at Albany, Ore. He graduated from the University of Oregon when 29 years old, and in 1896 he received his degree in law from the University of Michigan.
He was representative from Lane county in the house of representatives in 1903.
From 1896 to 1905 he had law offices in Eugene and was engaged in the active practice of his profession. He was then appointed circuit judge, to fill the position created by formation of the second judicial district. Coos, Curry, Douglas, Benton, Lincoln and Lane counties were in his territory.
He remained on the bench in the years that followed. In 1912 he was on both the democratic and republican tickets for the circuit bench, and remained there until his election to the supreme court.

SENATE STILL IN A DEADLOCK

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Although there was a break in the ranks of the LaFollette supporters the senate remained in a deadlock today on the election of a chairman for the interstate commerce committee. Cummins, republican, and Smith, a democrat of South Carolina, tied on the first ballot at 40 each. LaFollette received 3. The third ballot stood Smith 41, Cummins 40, and LaFollette 2. After the third ballot the senate adjourned at noon until Saturday, but the balloting will not be resumed until next Monday.

BRADFUTE HEADS THE FARM BUREAU

(By United Press.)
CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—O. E. Bradfute was reelected president of the American Farm Bureau Federation at the annual convention here today. J. E. Reed of Minnesota, is vice president, succeeding W. H. Kalkreuth of California.
Among the local speakers who made short talks were Attorney Dexter Rice, who presented next year's budget of the club to the members; Dr. A. C. Seely, J. H. Booth, James Love, Lloyd Crocker and T. H. Hess.
Chairman of the Nominating Committee M. F. Rice, was called upon by the president to announce the report of his committee in reference to the selection of a board of directors for the ensuing year. His report showed the following well known citizens chosen to head the chamber's activities for the next twelve months beginning January the first:
T. H. Hess, Lloyd Crocker, Guy Gordon, Dexter Rice, O. C. Baker, A. J. Hochradel and W. J. Weaver. Immediately following the names of these gentlemen their election was made unanimous by the club. The nominating committee was composed of A. C. Marsters, J. H. Booth, A. C. Seely, Lloyd Crocker, O. P. Coshow and M. F. Rice.
Each member of the board elected is identified with the city and county's welfare and growth, and as stated by President Hamilton last evening, with these men at the head of the chamber its success is assured. At the first meeting of the directors in January they will elect a president to succeed Judge Hamilton, whose efforts in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce has resulted in a well-balanced and effective program. Though compelled to carry on the work with only a meagre allowance during his incumbency a mighty constructive program in many ways has been the result. He has been ably assisted by Miss Vera Mackay, who has acted as secretary during President Hamilton's incumbency.
It was shown by the budget offered last evening that the club could not function properly on less than $8,000 the coming year, and it was the opinion generally expressed that this sum could be readily assembled by a complete canvass of the business and professional men of the city. When the new board begins to operate plans will immediately be made to get the club on a sound financial basis for 1924 and a constructive and progressive program outlined.
It was shown that in order to get results, better support would necessarily have to be forthcoming in the way of financial assistance. Other communities in the state smaller than Roseburg are shown to have given their chambers better financial support and are making great strides in a civic way for the betterment of the community and their people generally.
If last night's gathering is any indication of the interest to be displayed in Chamber of Commerce activities during the coming year Roseburg should have one of the best organizations in the state, and it is believed such is going to be the case.
A fine musical program was furnished during the banquet by the Umpqua Five orchestra, while the menu prepared by the management of the Umpqua was most delicious and the guests were served in a courteous and prompt manner.

M'ADOO TAKES A HIT AT COOLIDGE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—Coolidge's message to congress was labeled "a counsel of dormancy" and his opposition to the bonus was characterized as a summary dismissal of "just claims for consideration" in an address by William Gibbs McAdoo, before the democratic luncheon club and the women's democratic league today.
Lawrence T. Harris, whose resignation has been tendered, has been on the supreme bench since 1915. He was born September 12, 1873, at Albany, Ore. He graduated from the University of Oregon when 29 years old, and in 1896 he received his degree in law from the University of Michigan.

One of the best and most enthusiastic meetings called in this city by the local Chamber of Commerce was held last night at a banquet given at the Umpqua hotel, when over one hundred local citizens gathered to discuss problems of vital interest to Roseburg and the country generally.
President J. W. Hamilton presided at the meeting, and after speaking a few words of appreciation for the excellent representation present introduced Rev. C. H. Hilton who gave the invocation after which Mr. Vining of Ashland, president of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, was introduced.
Mr. Vining's address was an inspiration to his listeners and held their attention for over an hour. He gave the members of the local Chamber of Commerce some wholesome advice and his remarks were warmly applauded.
