Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

Talking Our Business.

By Wickes Wamboldt
For some reason or other, talking too much about what one is going to do does not work out very well. Some people say it is bad luck to do so; others contend that talking our proposed plans stirs up mysterious antagonistic powers which work against the consummation of our projects.

There may be something to all that and there may not be, but certainly it is a fact that too much discussion of what we intend to do is unprofitable. In all probability we could readily understand why this is so if we could follow the trail of the forces that our talking sets in motion.

For instance, a lawyer in conversation with a chance acquaintance on a train told of an interesting divorce case he was handling. His client was living on an island in the salt marshes at the mouth of a river. A woman was living there with him and they had a six month's old baby.

This man, who was possessed of considerable property, was suing his wife for divorce. He claimed she had deserted him and he did not know where she was. Inasmuch as the wife had put it to appearance in response to the published notices of suit, the man did not feel to get his divorce through easily. The lawyer said he personally believed the man knew perfectly well where his wife was but preferred to litigate because he did not want her to expose the suit or put in a claim for property.

Now, by odd coincidence, this stranger knew more about the case than the lawyer himself. He knew, because of the husband's unseemly conduct with the woman on the island, the wife had taken her children and had come to live with her brother in another State. The stranger knew where the wife was too; and sent her a message telling her of what was going on.

As a result, at the very moment the judge was granting the decree another lawyer rushed in waving a telegram. He announced he was representing the wife and demanded that the proceedings stop. In the final settlement the wife was given justice by way of getting the divorce herself and receiving half of every cent the man possessed.

Now that attorney does not know to this day that talking too much to a stranger on a train a thousand miles from home caused him to lose a case.

El Whitney, the inventor of the cotton gin, threw himself into expensive and endless litigation all because he talked too much about what he was doing before he had fully established his patent rights. Because of this the cotton gin which should have made him immensely wealthy profited him little.

It is a mighty good policy to wait until we have done a thing before we talk too much about it. Someone may beat us to it.

Smith Brothers Make Famous Stomach Remedy

Years ago when the Smith Brothers placed their M. A. C. Stomach Tonic on the market, drug stores throughout the country were literally swarmed with preparations alleged by their makers to have great virtue in the treatment of stomach complaints. Today, most of those medicines are gone and forgotten, while Smith Bros' M. A. C. has a bigger sale than ever.

It is the old story of honest merit achieving success in spite of every obstacle. Stomach sufferers who used M. A. C. found lasting relief and told others about it. That's why the demand for this remedy has continued to grow, year after year.

M. A. C. is remarkably effective in all forms of stomach distress, such as indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, sour stomach, nausea and excessive gas. Absolutely harmless—pleasant to take. You are protected by a positive guarantee of money refunded if the first bottle fails to relieve your stomach trouble. Put up in one size only—price $1.25. Nathan Fullerton store will supply you.

BLUE SHIRTS NOW VOGUE AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 24—Blue Shirts to the right of you Blue Shirts to the left of you Blue Shirts to the front of you Blue Shirts all around you!

A trip about the yard at Harvard College at any time will show the strength of the Blue Shirts.

The Blue Shirts, so-called, is an organization introduced at Harvard College to beat the laundry bills. In fact, the Blue Shirts have taken the college by storm.

The organization is strictly Harvard and is one of the most "revolutionary" bodies that has ever invaded the Cambridge institution. Of course, like other organizations, the Blue Shirts have a constitution.

"The Harvard Blue Shirts," the constitution reads, "is an organization restricted to Harvard undergraduates. It is affiliated with no political or religious organization."

"No officers are elected, no regular meeting place, no initiation ceremony of any kind, no by-laws and, last of all, no dues."

All that is necessary to be a member is to wear a blue shirt. There is no levying of dues, initiation fees or payments of any kind. Just wear an honest-to-goodness blue shirt.

The aims of the Blue Shirts are:

1. To reduce laundry costs generally.

2. To oppose such organizations as the Ku Klux Klan.

According to one of the organization's staunchest members, Jack Purcell, Harvard, "26."

"Excessive laundry costs have emptied the pockets of many a Harvard man. The time has arrived to call a halt to it. Students are paying too much money for white shirts and collars sent to laundries. When they pay the laundry bills they have no money to take out their Radcliffe and Wellesley friends."

"After lengthy confabulations it was decided that a blue shirt would solve the problem. A blue shirt will not show up the dirt as easily as the white. A blue shirt can sometimes be worn a week. A student can reduce his laundry bill at least six-sevenths, for where he sent seven shirts a week to the cleaner he now sends one."

"Considerable discussion arose as to whether a dark blue or a light blue shirt would be used. It was finally agreed to use a light blue shirt, for a dark one is too sombre. Light blue, on the other hand, imparts an atmosphere of style and novelty."

As yet professors have not adopted the blue shirts, but according to the undergraduates, they will be wearing blue shirts before long.

LOT OF MAJOR LEAGUE PLAYER NOT SINECURE

to the majors. This seldom happens. A half dozen seasons on the small time and he is through altogether. Even his inadequate income there is cut off. Unless he has practiced rigid economy and invested his savings with some acumen he must start a catch-as-catch-can battle with life at an age when many men are just coming into the flush of incipient success.

Twelve short years and four hundred living names are reduced to 15. Go back six additional years and only one remains—the great Cobb himself.

For the majority baseball is neither sport nor career. All too often it is economic tragedy.
