GETTING AND EARNING.

The country is full of people who are ambitious to get more money. They are thinking up all kinds of schemes and projects to achieve that aim. But not so many folks are thinking out means by which they can earn more. That is quite a different thing. Earning a thing, is to merit it by service or exertion. Many persons get money who do not earn it. But people who get money by luck or smart practice rather than merit, are not always able to keep it. Those who earn good fortune by hard work are apt to keep it, as it comes as a result of solid merit. Such persons make themselves indispensable, and the world pays a high price for their services. If people are ambitious to have the use of more money, the way to get it is to plan out ways for earning it. If they deserve and merit it by their good service and exertion, it is pretty sure to come. A person's value in the market is dependent largely on the amount of supervision that he needs. If he can go ahead independently, and accomplish a great deal of well done work on his own initiative, his value is high. But if it takes a lot of costly supervision to get good work out of him, if some one must constantly tell him what to do, and do his thinking for him, his value is not very much. Also his value is reduced by errors. These may be positive breaks that he makes which some one else has to take time to repair. More frequently they are just errors of forgetfulness and failure to do things. The man who strives for greater prosperity must not require much oversight. His work not merely must be correctly done, but he must have imagination so he can see all the possibilities of his work.

Many people have argued that the United States can not possibly be prosperous until Europe gets over its troubles. It is no doubt true that recovery in Europe would greatly stimulate business in this country. Yet 1923 must be called on the whole a pretty prosperous year, in spite of European conditions that show little improvement. In spite of the bad conditions abroad, they manage somehow to buy a lot of goods. Our exports before the war were running about $2,300,000,000 a year, while for the 10 months ending last October the exports were $3,342,000,000, or at the rate of about $4,000,000,000 annually. Figures like these should give the business community confidence that this country can be prosperous regardless of outside influences, yet of course it needs to do everything it can to stabilize world conditions. While many of the farmers have suffered the past year, yet diversification of crops and cooperation promise to put them on a better basis.

Former secretary of the interior, Albert R. Fall, is on the verge of a breakdown. This is no time for the former secretary to show the white flag. No doubt he has been "under a great strain for the past few weeks," which would have a tendency to "bend" an ordinary individual, but the average statesman has a pretty stiff backbone—the end of which is not always used for the purposes intended.

A local justice of the peace has declared that entrapment is held no defense when enforcing the prohibition law as applied to bootleggers. The "poor bootlegger" is having an awful time attempting to keep within the bounds of decency, and at the same time create a market for his product.

It is pleasing to note Roseburg's annual strawberry festival is going to be revived—and the Umpqua Chiefs and the Indians can do it. June 12, 13 and 14, should be three banner days in Roseburg this year.

We are back to regular winter weather today—which is quite refreshing.

Dear Folks: The Lord in wisdom gave you life. He gave you understanding. He made a place for you on earth, exalted and commanding. He found a spot for you to fill and gave you brains to fill it. He gave you competition too and strength with which to kill it.

He gave you air to fill your lungs to keep your body living. He found a joy of priceless worth in all His splendid giving. He gave you eyes to see the world and all the wonders in it. He gave you hands to seize a task and courage to begin it. He gave you voice to speak your thoughts. He gave you ears for hearing. He gave you love to give, and not to hear your cheering. The gift of life and all you have to fill it up with pleasure, was given by Almighty God for you to hold and treasure.

These things and more He gave to you with hopes that you would use them. He hoped that you would use them well and never would abuse them. He asks for little in return, just Faith and real Devotion, with willingness to speak His word and give it due promotion.

So give a thought to what you owe and how much you are paying. Your debt is great and you're at fault if payment you're delaying. It's not a sermon that I preach, just simple words to show you, that by the way you pay this debt, your God is going to know you.

SOCIALISM GAINING

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) LONDON, Jan. 26.—John Hodge, the laborite, who was minister of labor and pensions in the coalition government told a gathering of iron and metal magnates last evening that they were the men who were preparing the ground for socialism, of which most of them were afraid.

"The great combines which are being formed in this and other countries," he said, "are simply an evolutionary process and as soon as the steel, iron and tin plate works are all in one big combine it will be easy to socialize it."

Mr. Hodge added that one remarkable feature of labor's accession to power was that the people had become reconciled to the movement.

TAKES HOLD AND HELPS

Colds that "hang on" should be gotten rid of, for no one can stand the strain of racking cough, disturbed sleep and irritation of throat and lungs. Marie Heisler, Freeport, Ill., writes: "I had more or less of a cough for years and I have taken quite a number of medicines. None of them takes hold and helps like Foley's Honey and Tar." This old, reliable cough syrup promptly helps coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Contains no opiates. Children like it.

DEMOCRAT WOMEN MEET IN CLEVELAND

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—Democratic women from seven middle-western states here for their "school of democracy" were continuing today their efforts to formulate plans to bring victory to their party in 1924. The intricacies of party organization, methods of getting information to the voters and all the elements that go to make up a national campaign were being explained to the several hundred women by a group of speakers led by Mrs. Halsey Wilson, national education director.

Opening sessions yesterday were marked by onslaughts directed at the Teapot Dome incident and what was characterized as "president Coolidge's advertised virtues."

The oil lease controversy was touched upon by several speakers. Mrs. Emily Newhall Blair, declared the president's qualities of "caution, thrift and reticence," might well be taken as faults rather than virtues, and that the president's caution in handling the Teapot Dome case was not viewed with favor by many republicans.

FINE ZONE MEETING HELD AT GLENDALE

The second in the series of zone meetings of Zone No. 1, including Riddle, Canyonville, Glendale, Days Creek and the outlying districts, was held at Glendale on Saturday, January 26, with practically all the schools in the zone represented. Superintendent and Mrs. O. C. Brown of Roseburg, also Mr. W. H. Tavener of the University of Oregon, were present.

The meeting was presided over by the zone president, Mr. Bethers of Canyonville and was opened with several musical numbers by girls of the Glendale high school. The morning session was given over to roll call of teachers who responded with a report of the progress on local history stories and industrial club work in their schools. The remainder of the forenoon was taken up with sectional work. The high school section taking up a discussion of the report cards and methods in English, while the grade section discussed methods in silent reading, history stories and athletics.

The girls of the domestic science department of the Glendale high school served a splendid dinner to the teachers at noon. The afternoon session was opened with several trombone selections by Mr. Woods, Mr. Tavener of the University, took charge of the afternoon session, in the discussion of the reading circle book, Psychology and the School by Cameron.

The next meeting will be held at Canyonville in April at which time it is planned to combine the zone meeting with the field meet.

A. S. Rosenbaum, district freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific company, of Medford is spending several days in this city attending to business matters. Mr. Rosenbaum is registered at the Hotel Umpqua.

Have Kidneys Examined By Your Doctor

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weak; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach soars, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.
