COPCO BANQUET IS BIG SUCCESS

Light and Water company for a few words, after which Attorney Dexter Rice recounted the history of the water and power utilities in Roseburg up to the present time. His talk took up the history of the water and light companies in Roseburg, from the very beginning down to the present date, and his short address was very enjoyable.

O. G. Steele, division manager of the Siskiyou division; H. L. Walther, division manager of the Rogue River division; G. B. Mangum, division superintendent of the Klamath division; Frank Shelly, division superintendent of the Umpqua division, each took up the work now being done in their respective localities. Their talks were somewhat technical in nature, dealing largely with the extensions and improvements in their transmission and distribution lines. Throughout the entire evening all of the speakers stressed the fact that the organization desires to give its patrons the best of service, and that its every effort will be to increase its service in the localities where it operates.

D. D. Gamon, engineer of the dredge on Klamath Lake, spoke of his work there, and short talks were also made by J. F. Partridge, of the engineering department; General Agent W. M. Shepard, and W. H. Crawford, manager of the New Industries Department.

Paul R. McKee, the first vice president, gave a very fine talk on the plans for the coming year. The company plans on expending over $1,000,000 during the summer on extensions and improvements, Mr. McKee stated, and the larger part of the sum will be spent in Klamath and Umpqua divisions.

Following the banquet the employees met in another session where matters relating strictly to the operations of the company's business were discussed. New rates and policies were talked over and explained, and various matters of interest chiefly to the employees were presented. A meeting in the afternoon also related to discussions of a similar nature.

It is planned to hold weekly meetings of the Copco employees in the Umpqua Division, and following the policy of the company, a meeting similar to the one last night will be held each month, moving from one division to the other. Under this plan Roseburg will be visited once every four months.

FALL REFUSES TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

1924, agreed to that resolution and completed its consideration thereof, the resolution being so amended as to deal, in the senate, in a plenary way with the leases upon naval oil reserves, which were before this committee under senate resolution 282 and 294 and that this committee has no further authority to deal with senate joint resolution that since it has been discharged by the senate and the senate itself has finally acted upon the resolution.

"I decline to answer on the further ground that senate joint resolution 54, as passed unanimously by the senate, cites that it appears from evidence taken by this committee that certain lease of naval reserve number three in the state of Wyoming, bearing date April 7, 1922 made in form by the government of the United States through myself, Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior, and Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy, as lessor, and certain lease of oil naval reserve number 1 in the state of California, bearing date December 11, 1922, made in form by the government of the United States through myself, Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior and Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy, as lessor, were executed under circumstances indicating fraud and corruption that said leases were entered into without authority on the part of officers purporting to act in the execution in the same for the United States and in the violation of the laws of congress; and that in the same resolution, it is resolved that the president of the United States be authorized and directed immediately to cause suit to be instituted and prosecuted for the annulment and cancellation of the leases and to prosecute such other actions and proceedings, civil and criminal, as may be warranted by the facts in relation to the making of said leases and the president is further authorized and directed to appoint special counsel to have charge and control of the prosecution of such litigation and I decline to answer on the ground that my answer may tend to incriminate me."

Section 102 of the revised statutes provides that "Whenever a witness summoned as mentioned in section 102 fails to either house, the president of the senate or the speaker of the house, as the case may be, shall certify for the fact under seal of the senate or the house to the district attorney for the district of Columbia whose duty it shall be to bring the matter before the Grand Jury for action.

Section 559 provides that "no testimony given by a witness before either house or before any committee of either house shall be used as evidence in any criminal proceeding against him in any case except in the prosecution for perjury committed in giving such testimony. But an official paper or record produced by him is not within the said privilege. The law covers cases where witnesses refuse to testify before congressional committees.

PORTLAND, Feb. 2.—Suit for $10,000 damages was filed here today against State Prohibition Agent George L. Cleaver by Mrs. George Peterson, who alleged her home had been raided by Cleaver's men Christmas eve on a search warrant which had been issued without probable cause. Mrs. Peterson alleged that no liquor was in her home at the time of the raid nor at any other time.

cratic presidential candidate is to be in no way influenced by the reported connection of Mr. McAdoo with the L. Doheny oil interests. David Ladd Rockwell, national manager of the campaign makes it plain.

In a telegram to Mr. McAdoo he said that the candidate's critics have not a leg to stand on after his telegraphic reply to the senate committee.

"The American people," the message to Mr. Rockwell said, "will not be diverted from their determination to nominate and elect you their president by silly rumors and sinister influences operated by influences inimicable to our country who are seeking to encompass your defeat.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—A telegram expressing the conviction "that he was very properly employed" in certain oil locations which has been mentioned in the Teapot Dome inquiry in Washington, was sent to Wm. G. McAdoo today by former United States Senator James D. Phelan. The telegram said: "Your statement makes it perfectly clear to your friends that you had no associations in the oil business outside of Mexico; that you were very properly employed professionally as an international lawyer of prestige and capacity."

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 2.—The testimony of Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, that William G. McAdoo, candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, is employed by him "in a fatal to McAdoo's candidacy," asserted Edward A. Glenn, campaign manager for the United States Senator James A. Reed, also a candidate for the nomination. "Loheny's testimony at Washington is fatal to McAdoo's candidacy," said Glenn.

"The democrats of Missouri, or of no other state, can afford to support a man for the presidency who is connected with Doheny and the oil interests now under inquiry by the United States senate committee.

WORK DODGE BROS. CARS PHENOMENAL

The startling discoveries of the Third Asiatic Expedition, with their priceless contributions of science and commerce, would have been impossible without motor cars.

That is the blunt, unequivocal statement of Roy Chapman Andrews, leader of the expedition which returned recently from a two-year search of innermost Mongolia, with the largest and most valuable collection of fossils ever brought into the United States.

When the party started from China Mr. Andrews was told that camels and horses were the only means of transportation known in the interior of the country he was about to penetrate. To cross the Gobi desert alone was a feat to test the endurance of the most rugged car, and had been accomplished but seldom. To ford the streams and cross the hilly, roadless wastes of the unknown land beyond the desert, however, was considered an utter impossibility.

Nevertheless, Mr. Andrews had made up his mind. "Dodge Brothers rules prevented them from contributing their cars to our expedition," he said, "but I felt that I had to have them, anyhow, even though numerous other manufacturers had offered to supply me. I had pene-

The REAL OPPORTUNITY for SERVICE

President McKee of The California Oregon Power Company, in dedicating the Klamath River Copco Power Plant, said:

"We are met here to dedicate . . . anew the organization, ourselves, all of the Copco brotherhood to public service. And to give that service without interruption is a passion with every man and woman of the organization; neither day or night—nor storm nor any hardship or dangers count—service, service, service, that is all we know . . ."

By this is meant everything that community membership should imply, the real opportunity for service.

So, we are supplying hydro-electric current, at the lowest possible cost to those already here; and with all confidence in the soundness of the region's future, we are adopting the following means of creating conditions favorable to its progress:

- 1—New Industries Department: Working for legitimate expansion of every industrial possibility. Disclosing to investing capital the great raw material wealth of Agriculture, Timber and Minerals. Supplying a consolidated, supplementary Chamber of Commerce type of service for the five Oregon counties and the one California county within our territory.
- 2—Development of natural resources through capital expenditures in hydro-electric constructions, equipment, and lines to care for growing industrial needs.
- 3—Promotion of the use of electricity to replace drudgery in the Home.
- 4—Participation in community enterprise; home banking, home trade, home employment and an annual payroll disbursement which in 1922 amounted to $905,886.81.

trated Mongolia before and I knew just about what would be required of a car.

"So I bought three Dodge Brothers cars at full list price in Peking—one touring car and two 3-4 ton commercials. I tried every insurance company in China, I believe in an effort to insure the cars before starting the trip. They only laughed at me, even when I explained that I cared for nothing except insurance against total destruction. We had our mechanics and service parts and knew that we could survive any accident except annihilation. But the insurance companies said no car could get in, much less get out—and so we traveled at our own risk. Terribly overloaded, they did the impossible day after day. Sometimes we chased wild animals across the roadless plains at high speed. I remember once the speedometer was registering 40 miles an hour when we were in hot pursuit of a drove of wild asses. One would think no car could survive such abuse, as the plains were naturally full of ruts and mounds.

"The Chinese were eager to get these cars. They had done something that no other car had ever done. The company that bought ours now has 25 in operation, carrying from seven to fifteen passengers 800 miles across the desert from Kalgan to Arga. This trip formerly required 30 tedious days. With their Dodge Brothers cars they do it in 48 hours—and there are no roads."

The expedition which he led into Mongolia occupied two years. Without motor cars, it would have taken 20 or 30 years, it is estimated. Among the discoveries which science hails as one of the most important in centuries were several nests of dinosaur eggs—the first ever found. In all 256 crates of fossils were brought back, including skeletons of reptiles fully ten million years old. Some of these reptiles, according to Andrews, give obvious traces of having been ancestors of a strange species being uncovered from time to time in North and South America, showing that the two hemispheres were at the time connected.

NEWHOUSE WILL SUCCEED PAULUS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Feb. 2.—M. J. Newhouse, assistant general manager of the Oregon Growers Co-operative association for the past two years and prior to that manager of the Washington Growers association, has been elected to succeed Robert C. Paulus, resigned, as general manager of the Oregon Association.

Mr. Newhouse will take over his new duties April 1.

Meeting yesterday, the board of directors of the association took under consideration the form of contract which will be offered growers when the association is reorganized on an exclusive dried fruit basis. The proposed contract is permanent in form with a withdrawal clause permitting any grower to withdraw at a specified time during any year.

The directors voted to allow outside growers to come under the association during the present year upon payment of one tenth of a cent a pound for the fruit handled and their share of packing and selling charges.
