OREGON BANK RESOURCES GOOD

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) SALEM, Feb. 8.—Oregon has $417.87 of bankable resources per capita as compared with $467.14 for the entire United States, according to a statement compiled by Frank C. Bramwell, state superintendent of banks. "A general survey of banking conditions throughout the United States," says the statement, "would indicate that Oregon maintains a very happy and substantial position. Based upon the last official census, the population of the state of Oregon was 783,389. On December 31, 1923, there were 278 banks doing business in this state, which represents one banking institution for every 2817 inhabitants. The aggregate resources of all banks at the close of the year 1923 were the sum of $327,362,276.68, and based upon the population above indicated, disclosed that we have $417.87 of bankable resources for the entire United States."

REJOICES DAUGHTER CAN RESUME STUDIES

"Everything my little 12-year-old girl ate distressed her; even a glass of water would cause her to belch gas and she was unable to go to school for nearly a year. I bought her a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, and since taking it she is eating us out of house and home and is attending school again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

GREEK WOMAN AND COMPANIONS HELD

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) MEDFORD, Feb. 8.—D. E. Zontos, Mrs. Mary Jafra and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mills, all of Los Angeles, Cal., are held by the sheriff's office pending action by federal authorities for alleged violation of the Mann act. The quartet were trailed to this city by the husband of Mrs. Jafra. The Mills were arrested in a rooming house in this city and Zontos and Mrs. Jafra were taken into custody at Gold Hill while en route to Portland by stage. According to Sheriff C. E. Terrill, the family life of the Jafra's had not been serene and the wife disappeared from Los Angeles three weeks ago. The husband started in pursuit and caught up with them here. According to his story Mrs. Jafra left a five-year-old girl in Los Angeles, to flee with Zontos. Husband and wife met again yesterday in the county jail and, according to the sheriff, words flew for ten minutes in heated debate, and charges and counter-charges. The federal authorities at Portland were apprised of the case Thursday and are expected to take charge.

Launch New Co-Operative Movement For the Building of Blooded Herds

A new movement that will carry America to still greater heights as a dairying nation has been launched in New Jersey. Groups known as the Young Men's Dairy Improvement Clubs are being formed. Members range in age from 17 to 30. The chief aim is to combine community interests and finances to the benefit of young farmers. Through the group effort problems of financing young dairy farmers are rapidly being solved and purebred herds are being built. Progress has been so remarkable that plans are under way to launch the movement in other dairying districts throughout the country. The clubs include in membership those boys who are too old for the Boys and Girls Clubs and young farmers whose peculiar problems are not easily solved by the ordinary co-operative society. Scientific dairying is given closest study. Proper feeding and attention. Cow barns are ventilated. Flanks and udders of cows are clipped at regular thirty-day intervals, a practice that keeps the milk clean, adds to the comfort and health of the animal and materially increases production. Dairy experts believe the new clubs will save the nation within the next two years and become a powerful factor in the dairying industry.

TURK WOMEN FORGING AHEAD

Restrictions on Their Freedom Are Disappearing One After Another, Says a Writer.

The contrast between the status of these Moslem women and the position of women in Turkey proper grows steadily. In fact, the restrictions surrounding Turkish women disappear more and more almost daily. Four years ago the Turkish woman shopper in Pera used to throw her veil back while in the European quarter, but would draw it over her face immediately on crossing the bridge to Stamboul. Today the hanoum of the upper class hardly wears the veil at all. It hangs down from the side of the charshaf in a knot, and figures merely as an ornament.

A number of Moslem girls of the Turkish capital have become pupils of Robert college, the American school picturesquely situated on the hills of Bebek, by the Bosphorus. The number of Turkish women active in professions has greatly increased. During my recent visit to Constantinople I found that a young lady whom I had first met six years before had but two terms left to attain the degree of doctor of philosophy, with the ultimate aim of entering government service. The rare abilities of Halide Edib Hanoum, the well-known Turkish woman author, have been rewarded by her nomination as minister of public instruction in the Turkish cabinet at Angora.

French House Owner Devises Scheme to Enlist Tenants' Interest in the Property.

The constant increase in the price of material and the wages of labor tends to make the upkeep of any building an onerous affair for the owner. The repairs called for by exacting tenants go to increase the already heavy overhead. This is further augmented by the carelessness which many of them show in allowing children and servants to deteriorate the apartments they rent.

A Paris house owner has just invented an ingenious method of making his tenants his allies in the care and upkeep of the apartment house he owns, says the Washington Star. He has offered a prize of two months' rent for the best-kept apartment and has made the tenants themselves a committee of inspection and award. As a consequence his house is now cleaned and polished from basement to garret, children are carefully watched when at play to prevent their doing any damage, while the necessity of care of the premises is impressed on servants and tradespeople.

Each of the tenants, in the hope of gaining the prize, competes with his neighbors in care and cleanliness. Paint and paper are kept spick and span, while floors and staircases shine with varnish. As any application for repairs would be a confession of want and care, the bill for the upkeep of the establishment has fallen to zero. The amount awarded as a prize to the most careful tenant is therefore more than covered by the diminution of the overhead.
