PREPARING FOR THE AUTO SHOW

Every Dealer in the City Will Have Space at the Armory.

SUCCESS IS ASSURED

Entertainment and Industrial Features Will Be on Big Scale—Prosperity Boost.

place in the ranks. A feature for the second night is the boy oratorical wonder. There is a lot of speculation already as to this youngster, but those who have heard him allege that he is a whole whirlwind by himself. His speech will be the talk of the town. It is claimed, and the whole country will be discussing this remarkable prodigy. Among other stars for the third night will be George Hotchkiss Street, famed from coast to coast for his brilliant tenor voice. This gentleman comes to Roseburg expressly for this occasion, and to miss hearing him will be a distinct loss.

The Automobile Display.

Various dealers of the city and county are already at work getting their exhibits in hand. Space has been allotted to each firm, and with plans well laid for the success of the show, these people will present a line of motor cars and trucks and tractors that will be a revelation, even in this age of big surprises. In staging this show, the automobile men are endeavoring to show the public the benefits of the motor car and truck, how necessary these are to the business progress of the present day, and to demonstrate that manufacturers of the various makes are keeping pace with the demands of the public in supplying machines that will do the work required with a minimum of expense and in the shortest possible time, and also that gas propelled vehicles stand the most severe tests, "delivering the goods" under conditions that would put the old time buggy or wagon out of the running.

The very latest creations in 1924 cars and trucks and tractors will be exhibited, and expert mechanics and salesmen on duty at all times ready to explain every detail of construction and answer questions of the inquiring public.

Another feature of the show is the

"get-together" spirit that actuates the men behind the show. These men believe in cooperation. They are expressing their abiding faith in Roseburg and Douglas county in staging this worthy educational entertainment, and desire that every man and woman in this section of the state get inoculated with the spirit of cooperation. It is believed that such a condition is coming about in this county and that everyone will be reaching out to help his neighbor to success. The opinion prevails that these business men of Roseburg see in the future a more populous and prosperous county because all have united to put over this doctrine of cooperation, and that business generally will come to the conviction that to find a market at highest cash value for every potato, all the marketable fruit, the broccoli, the hay and grain, the melons, vegetables, cattle, hogs and sheep that are raised by farmers, fruit growers and stockmen, is the duty and privilege of the business interests of the town. It is believed by these boosters that the time is soon coming here when not a pound of outside products will be shipped in until the local grown and produced stuff is first taken care of. It is this feature of the auto show that is going to stand out during the three days. Business men want the cooperation and confidence of the farmers and are going after that very thing, and by city and country standing together in all matters of common interest expect to see the communities of the county grow rapidly in population and wealth.

Every automobile dealer in the city will be represented at the show. In fact, the armory has proven too small to accommodate all the entrants who desired space, and some of the accessory men were unable to get in with a display. Among the exhibits will be those of the Buick car, Patzloff & Baker, dealers; Dodge Brothers cars, J. O. Newland & Son, dealers; Star and Durant cars, Rapp Brothers, dealers; White Trucks, Geo. H. Smith, dealer; Chevrolet cars and trucks, Ed Marsh Motor Co., dealers; Studebaker car W. A. Burr and Sons, dealers; Ford cars and trucks and Fordson tractors, and Lincoln cars, C. A. Lockwood Motor Co., dealers; Hudson and Essex cars, Roy Catching, dealer; Rickenbacker and Oakland cars, George W. Burnett, dealer; Willys-Overland line of cars, Glenn H. Taylor, dealer.

These people, along with accessory men and other business interests, are going into the work of the show with greatest enthusiasm, and there is little doubt but that the auto using and auto enthusiast public will be on hand to see the progress made in motor cars, and during the three days of the exhibition it is expected that the concrete, north and south, besides lateral roads leading to the city, will be thronged with crowds anxious to see these 1924 models grouped under one roof.

FIGHT MEDICAL FAKERS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PORTLAND, Feb. 22.—The state board of health decided late yesterday to cooperate with the state board of medical examiners in drafting suitable laws to protect the public from apparently unscrupulous persons who are not only endangering the health of the community, but are depriving the sick in many cases of timely treatment.

This action, according to the members of the board, is not directed against any cult or school of healers, but is designed to restrain persons from practice that endanger patients and the general welfare.

Resolutions were adopted to safeguard vital statistics and birth records from examination by persons who desire to use them solely for commercial purposes.

The health board adopted further resolutions of warnings to the public against food poisoning in view of the recent tragedy at Albany.

BROCCOLI SEED FOR SALE

BROCCOLI PROVIDED FOR BIG BANQUET

The Oregon State Chamber of Commerce will tender a banquet in Chicago on March 12, at the Hotel LaSalle to between fifty and sixty highway advertising managers and passenger traffic managers, together with Chicago newspaper men. The menu is to be made up entirely of Oregon products, such as planked salmon, lithia water, pears, prunes, catsup, cherries, apples, etc. The Roseburg Chamber of Commerce was asked to contribute something for the spread and Secretary Hoelheim immediately wired that we would furnish creamed broccoli. Inasmuch as the name of the town and the firm contributing the different dishes at this banquet will be printed on the menus it will be seen that Roseburg and the Umpqua valley will come in for its share of this excellent advertising. The Umpqua Broccoli Exchange handed an order on their Chicago representative for up to five cases of broccoli to Secretary Hoelheim. This order has been sent to the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce office at Portland.

Fifty "Umpqua Chiefs" to take acid test at hand of "Pirates" and "Cave-Men." Armory, Saturday evening 7:30.

PLANS PERFECTED FOR TRACTOR SCHOOL

Through the efforts of the C. A. Lockwood Motor Co., local Ford dealers, Roseburg will have for two days the Ford truck and tractor school now touring the state, composed of factory experts. This school wherever held is drawing large crowds of interested owners and prospectors. During the day the time is devoted entirely to the demonstration of the latest equipment for the Ford truck and Fordson tractor. Of special interest is a Fordson fitted with an Ersted Hyster, capable of moving houses, pulling stumps, running a contractor's elevator, driving piling, and many other operations too numerous to mention. A truck fitted with an automatic rocker dump body is of great interest to the builder and contractor.

Mr. C. W. Harrison, of the Mitch-ell, Lewis & Staver company of Portland, will talk on Fordson farming. Mr. Harrison is recognized as one of the best plow men on the coast. He has made a study of soils and the proper method of handling. Mr. Russ Jolliffe, of the Northwest Appliances Inc., Portland, brings a story of how Ford equipment is saving thousands of dollars for industries of the work. Mr. Jolliffe has had years of experience with industrial equipment of all kinds. Mr. C. A. Allison, of the Ford Motor company, will tell how to care for the Ford car and truck. Mr. Allison's experience covers a span of many years. Mr. F. R. Orr, of the same company, will also tell how to operate and care for the Fordson tractor.

Miss everything or anything during 1924 but don't miss the installation of the "Umpqua Chiefs." Armory 7:30 Saturday night.
