"Dr. Callanan was not murdered as Gajadgous is supposed to have said, although his story rings true otherwise," Captain Joff said. "According to the story Gajagous and two companions murdered the doctor by hitting him over the head with a catsup bottle and then robbed him. The autopsy showed that Dr. Callanan came to his death through an overdose of a drug taken as medicine. No external injuries could be found."

The heavy frost experienced in Roseburg last night, did practically no damage throughout the county. The temperature, according to the weather bureau reports, went to 31 degrees, not low enough to seriously injure the fruit buds. Many sections of the county were covered with fog which prevented the frost from doing any injury. All over the valley the fog hung thick this morning so that the sun did not reach the crops until after the frost was gone.

Convention of All Such Organizations in State Planned for Near Future.

DATE NOT YET FIXED

Cherrians Propose Meeting in April, But Umquas Desire to Hold Conference at Time of Carnival.

A convention of all booster clubs of the state of Oregon, for the purpose of considering mutual problems and outlining a program for the state's betterment, is planned by the Salem Cherrians and Umpqua Chiefs' The King's council of the Cherrians conceived the plan, and as Roseburg is the most centrally located R. O. Snelling, Chancellor of the Rose, was instructed to come to Roseburg to place the plan be-fore the Umpqua Chiefs.

Chief Umpqua Neuner and Chief Broccoli Lawrence met with Chancellor Snelling yesterday afternoon and outlined a plan which will be submitted to all of the booster organizations of the state in the hope of arriving at a decision which will be satisfactory to all clubs.

"The purpose waich the Cherrians have in mind is to promote hospitality," Mr. Snelling stated.

"We have well organized Chambers of Commerce to meet the tourists and show them our commercial and industrial resources. They are then turned over to the real estate men who show them homes and ranches and try to induce them to locate, but we are neglecting the most important part, and that is, showing them a good time, so that they will want to come back. We should be organized to meet the tourists, provide entertainment for them, direct vide entertainment for them, direct them to places where they may en-joy the greatest scenery that the entire world has to offer.

"We must forget our compunity rivairy, that is our knocking one another, and all work for the state at large. There is no use of one community pulling for itself and running down the others, we should all work together, have a uniform system of directing the visitors to this state to the best we have to offer in every community. We should become better acquainted and know what all the state has to offer. When a tourist leaves Portoffer. When a tourist leaves Portland he should be directed what to see in the Willamette Valley and as he travels south should be met and entertained by organized boosfer clubs who will see that he is hospitably taken care of. As he leaves the Willamette Valley he should be told of what is ahead and told about side trips and scenic points which should be taken. By close coopera-tion among the booster clubs of the state, we believe that a very good system can be worked out and the state will be benefitted."

ZILWAUKEE HIRAM HITS THE TRAIL

John Baird, state conservation commissioner had invited correspondents to accompany him tomorrow into the wilderness of Zilwaukee township and promised to lead them to "Hiram's" home. An intrpled correspondent decided not to wait and tramped through the swamp lands yesterday to the Johnston shack.

The shack, according to the respont, brought from the banks of the Saginaw river, was boarded up and deserted. The correspondent returned here and told Baird of his discovery. Haird showed no sure prise. Hiram, he said, had yearned to bask in publicity, even to aspiring to the highest office in the power of the electorate. However, when some one resurrected a section of the election law that mentioned a $1,000 fine and a jail term for tampering with the statute, Johnston, in Baird's words "felt it high time to shake the mud of the Saginaw Valley from his high top boots."
