BROCCOLI CASE IS HEARD TODAY

Judge Hamilton Hears Testimony Regarding Names of Corporations.

INJUNCTION IS WANTED

Umpqua Broccoli Exchange Endeavoring to Force Um-Qua Growers to Change Name.

The suit of the Umpqua Broccoli Exchange against the Um-Qua Valley Broccoli Growers, Inc., came up for hearing this morning before Judge J. W. Hamilton. The jury cases have been completed in the Circuit Court and matters of equity are now being considered. The suit in which the two leading broccoli companies of the valley are involved, has caused considerable comment and attracted much interest, and there were a large number of growers present today to testify on each side and to hear the case as it was presented to the court.

The suit was brought by the Umpqua Broccoli Exchange. Foster Butler, the manager, alleges that the concern which he represents spent a great sum of money in organizing and advertising the broccoli industry, and that much money was expended in developing the words "Umpqua" and "Broccoli" in combination. The Umpqua Broccoli Exchange, it is alleged, was organized two years ago and is now handling its third crop of broccoli. The Um-Qua Valley Broccoli Growers, have been incorporated only a year and are handling their first crop, according to Mr. Butler's complaint.

It is alleged that there is such similarity between the names that much confusion is caused, and it is claimed that the defendant corporation is endeavoring, because of this similarity, to take advantage of the advertising and efforts put forth by the plaintiff corporation.

The complaint also sets forth that much confusion has already resulted from the two names being so nearly alike. Cars have been set on the wrong tracks, mail has been confused, telegrams have been delivered to the wrong offices, and other such affairs have occurred, it is claimed. The plaintiff asks for a permanent injunction preventing the defendant corporation from operating under the trade name which it has assumed.

In answer, R. H. C. Wood, of the Um-Qua Valley Broccoli Growers, alleges that he was manager of the old Umpqua Valley Fruit Union and that this union obtained a copyright on the trademark "Um-Qua," the word appearing within a double circle. The fruit union shipped broccoli under this name for several years, it is stated, an considerable money was spent in various advertisements throughout the country. The Umpqua Valley Fruit Union closed up its affairs, but nearly all of the stockholders of that concern reorganized under the name of Umpqua Broccoli Growers and took over the copyright of the former organization, and now claims a priority right to the use of the word "Umpqua" and alleges that because "Umpqua" and "Broccoli" were used in combination by the former concern, that the new organization has full rights.

The issues involved bring up many technical points of law and the case is one which is being hard fought. Attorney Dexter Rice and R. B. Compton represent the plaintiff and Attorney B. L. Eddy the defense.

TREASURER HOFF SUCCUMBS TODAY

not appointed to fill out the entire unexpired term of his predecessor. This means that a spirited race for state treasurer will be added to the Oregon election contests this year. It is presumed that Mr. Myers will be a candidate for the democratic nomination, while there are likely to be several candidates for the republican nomination.

Mr. Myers as state treasurer will have several important appointments at his disposal, though it is not believed any immediate changes will be made by him. He is ex-officio state sealor of weights and measures and appoints a deputy state sealor who administers that department. This office is now filled by W. A. Datzel, an appointee of Mr. Hoff. The state treasurer also appoints his deputy and other subordinates. Frank Sever, present deputy, announced he would hand in his resignation immediately. Sever has been desirous of resigning for several months to go into other work, but has not done so out of loyalty to Mr. Hoff in his illness.

cept the penitentiary. No changes are expected in any of these, notwithstanding the shift from a republican to a democratic majority on the board of control.

Secretary of State Koser said that the flags on the state house and supreme court building will be at half mast until after the funeral of Mr. Hoff.

SALEM, March 18.—Since the election of a state treasurer will be necessary this year, due to the death of State Treasurer Hoff, and for the reason that his successor is appointed only through the present year speculation arises as to who is likely to seek office. On the democratic side there is no doubt that Jefferson Myers, who has been appointed in Mr. Hoff's place will be a candidate to succeed himself, and he is not expected to have opposition for the nomination.

On the republican side guesses are not easy to make. Ed Cusick, Albany banker, was a candidate for the nomination in the last election and might run again. O. M. Plummer of Portland, manager of the Pacific International Livestock exposition, was a candidate in a recent election and might be persuaded again to seek office. It is believed that candidates are likely to appear from western Oregon, Portland and eastern Oregon.

T. B. Kay of Salem, who held the office for eight years, declared today that he could not be persuaded again to seek the office. The state constitution provides that the treasurer, governor and secretary of state shall not hold office more than eight in any period of 12 years. Mr. Kay has been out of office for more than six years and would again be qualified to serve.

SALEM, March 18.—Besides serving on the board of control Mr. Myers will, by virtue of his office, be a member of several other important state boards and commissions. These are:

Budget commission; bond commission; state desert land board; state land board; emergency board; irrigation and drainage securities commission; banking board; printing board; tax commission. The salary of treasurer's office is $4,500 a year.

SALEM, March 18.—Jefferson D. Myers, selected by Governor Pierce for appointment as successor to O. P. Hoff, as state treasurer, arrived in Salem from Portland, just before noon today and immediately went into conference with the governor.

At two o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Myers took the oath of office, administered by Justice George E. Burnett of the supreme court, a life long friend, in the office of the secretary of the official family and newspapermen were present at the simple ceremony.

Mr. Myers immediately stepped across the hall and opened the treasurer's office, which had been closed since receipt of word of Mr. Hoff's death this morning.

DATE IS SET FOR BRIDGE DEDICATION

Sunday, April 27, has been officially designated as the day for the dedication on the Winchester bridge. This date, proposed by the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce, has been found to be generally acceptable and will enable many persons to attend who otherwise could not participate in the program. R. A. Booth, for whom the bridge is to be named, and who is to be one of the principal speakers at the program, has written that he is well pleased with the date selected, and likes the fact that Sunday has been chosen rather than a week day.

The dedication ceremonies will be dignified in character as is appropriate for such an occasion and on such a day. Speeches will be confined to non-political subjects and should be of much interest. The Roseburg band has been engaged and has promised to appear. Many people are coming from Portland and Willamette valley points and there will also be a big crowd from all sections of Douglas county.

HEAVY FROST DOES DAMAGE IN MEDFORD

MEDFORD, March 18.—There was a heavy frost last night with a minimum temperature of 23 degrees. Such a low temperature had not been expected and it will not be known until a survey is completed this afternoon, how much damage was done. It is thought by orchardists that certain neighborhoods of the valley with very early fruit development suffered some loss. Early garden stuff was either killed or badly damaged. Another heavy frost is predicted for tonight.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS ST. PATRICK BALL

A large and merry crowd attended the annual St. Patrick's ball at the armory last night, and the Ladies Auxiliaries to the Big Four railroad organizations, are to be commended for a well managed, enjoyable affair. The hall was decorated in keeping with the St. Patrick's day suggestion green shaded lights, green curtained windows and other decorations making a most attractive whole. Punch was served to the dancers through the evening. Sharrard's Syncopators provided the music.
