LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

TAKES ISSUE TO STATEMENT CONCERNING FIRE TRUCK

Roseburg, Oregon, March 26, 1924.

Editor News-Review: I was glad to at last see the statement of the Mayor and City Attorney in your issue of March 21st regarding the fire truck measure passed by the legal voters of the city of Roseburg, November 6th, 1923.

Without lapsing into a detailed explanation of the matter it will suffice to say that the measure that is here referred to as passed by the city last November was advertised the required number of times throughout the city, examined by the proper authority or authorities of the city before being submitted to the people.

It might be interesting to know why it took the council from November 1923 to March 1924 to find a so-called "joker" in the measure. The fact that at least 4 companies can furnish the equipment called for by the measure eliminated any "joker" and there was no grounds for holding it up on that pretext.

By the original amendment it did tie the hands of the council to buy a certain kind of standard equipment—not some inferior equipment to back it up. Why should the council assume that the people of Roseburg did not know what they wanted? Is it to say the voters of Roseburg are ignorant and are simply voting their money away with the eyes closed? No! They said exactly what they wanted and gave the city the required amount of money to purchase it, through taxation.

The people of Roseburg will have confidence in the council when they carry out the wishes of the majority but that confidence can hardly be expected when they fail to act at once after the voters speak through the ballot. The council has not yet done sufficient to consider recalling as was suggested in the statement of the 21st but by a continuation of inactivity in any important matter such as the protection of the city by proper fire equipment when once authorized, would naturally lead to such action.

I appeared before the council for two reasons, first to vindicate any person or persons outside of the city authorities of any connection with any so-called "joker" or "framing," and second to ask why the inaction on the measure of November 6th, I made the statement that I did not represent any company or persons but was representing myself as a citizen of Roseburg living under its protection. I was "misquoted" when it was said I was representing some of the taxpayers of Roseburg. No, I am not a taxpayer of this county but contribute my portion of taxes to the state from three or four other counties of the state. Any resident citizen of the city for 30 days was eligible to vote on the measure.

It should not have been necessary for any one to appear before the council to ask why this measure was not acted upon, the voters had spoken in plain words and it was the duty of the council to act accordingly, or let the people know at once why. The council was asked if any one had appeared before them in opposition to the measure to which there was no reply, indicating there was no dissatisfaction from the city, all of which narrows the inaction down to the council or others in charge of the city's affairs.

The election of November 6th, 1923 was a special for the purpose of submitting the fire truck measure and two others to the voters. Now it is proposed to hold another special election in connection with the May primaries at another added expense to the city, to resubmit the fire truck measure. How many times do the voters have to speak before they are respected?

It is not my intention to call forth an argument from the council except that the people at Roseburg may know why they have been without the additional fire protection, as authorized, now for 1 month and unless action is taken on the original measure at once it will be 4 months more or possibly into the winter, when the fire hazard is past, due to dry weather. Economy and competition are to be considered at all times but beware of false economy and inferior equipment, equipment that the city might not grow in a short time.

Very Respectfully,
RUSSELL A. WILSON.

THE EIGHT HOUR DAY (By State Board of Health)

Work Efficiently and Diligently Eight Hours—Gone is the old work day of two parts, six a. m. to six p. m., and from six p. m. to six a. m., twelve hours of labor. The eight hour day, brought about by governmental legislation, labor saving devices, and union agitation is here to stay. Work is a wonderful tonic. Exertion should be always a purposeful pleasure. Interest in your work is, however, essential. The completion of an efficient day's work has for its reward a peaceful contentment of real success. On the other hand idleness is the breeder of trouble and discontent. The remedy for finding some useful work which will inspire real interest and enthusiasm.

Play Constructively and Intelligently Eight Hours—As an offset to occupations that do not give full play to the muscular and mental possibilities it is important that definite periods be given to exercising the muscles and faculties. Play should be active, and not entirely passive. The sedentary worker should exercise. The most beneficial exercises are those that stimulate the heart and lungs such as running, rapid walking, hill climbing, swimming. Proper kinds of amusement are essential. The proper kind and amount of recreation makes life more vital, more bearable, more wholesome. It quickens the individual's thoughts in such a way as to make him economically more efficient. The presence of the play spirit means adaptability, capacity for quickly appreciating the influences about them, keen enjoyment of the same, whatever it is that is being played, and vasciousness that there are other players beside themselves.

Sleep Outdoors or in Well Ventilated Room Eight Hours—The subject of sleep has always excited wonder. The necessity of this particular kind of inaction or suspension of consciousness which occurs periodically in man and all of the lower animals, with general suppression of functional activity, is one of the most interesting of natural phenomena. Just why an individual must sleep away one-third of his existence has not as yet been satisfactorily explained. Sleep is nature's great rejuvenator. Your sleep should be sufficient and regular. Sleeping outdoors is more healthful and restful than sleeping indoors. Go to sleep with pleasant thoughts, and your sleep will be peaceful and restful. If one is worried it is a good plan to read something diverting, but not exciting before retiring.

Regular work, regular play, and regular sleep are habits that prolong life, health and happiness. Contagious diseases reported for week ending March 22, 1924: Tuberculosis 18; Typhoid 2; Diphtheria 3; Scarlet Fever 21; Smallpox 21; Whooping cough 8; Cerebrospinal meningitis 1; Measles 27; Chickenpox 11; Mumps 15; Erysipelas 5; Pneumonia 4; Influenza 10; Leprosy 1.

Hints to Broccoli Growers.

Editor News-Review: As the time is near for the planting of broccoli I am submitting a few timely hints on broccoli growing.

Selection of Seed Bed.
Select the sandest piece of ground and plow now good and deep. Eight inches deep plowing is good but 12 inches is better. Work your seed ground until it is absolutely free from clots.

Time to Plant Seed.
From the middle of April until the first of May. Plant the rows 12 inches apart and sow very thin. Sow your seeds very shallow and where your mark stakes on the seed drum for turnips, adjust it still a little finer than turnips. After your plants are up, cultivate often about once a week.

Seed to Select.
There are several good strains advertised but you must make your own selection. If you have confidence in the man you are buying from, well and good. If you haven't any confidence in him, don't buy his seed. That is the situation in the seed field, and it will remain so at least for another year or two.
FRED SCHMIDT.

FARM NEWS

(From O. A. C. Experiment Station)
Artificial pollination of green house tomatoes has been found to be very profitable. Greatly increased yields result as compared to tomatoes which have been left to take care of themselves. A bulletin just off the press shows the possibilities of the new method. Ask for Oregon experiment station circular 55.

Good grass mixtures for spring sowing to establish permanent pastures are as follows: Six pounds of English rye grass, 2 pounds each of Kentucky blue grass, orchard grass, tall oat grass, red clover, 2 pounds timothy, and one pound white clover. On wet heavy soils use 3 pounds of English rye grass, 2 pounds of red-top and orchard grass, 2 pounds of white clover and 1 pound of white clover per acre. Sowing should take place early if the grass is to be well established.

Barnyard manure applied now to the home orchard or garden soil will be of greater benefit than if applied later. Manuring may be done at this time if the ground is not so wet as to cause it to later bake or harden due to the hauling over it. Well rotted manure is preferred to the fresh.

One of the quickest ways to kill young chickens is by feeding them moldy grain. Do not try to save a few cents by feeding some of the grain that was left over from last year and allowed to become moldy. Examine it carefully and if there is any doubt don't use it.

Get the chicks out on the ground as soon as possible. Do not make hot house chickens of them.

Look out for larkspur and water parsnips. Both these plants may be found in the pastures now and are poisonous to stock. Where stock has died from poisoning before pasture land should be carefully watched for these plants. Preventive methods rather than treatment of the trouble are the best means of controlling the poison.

Watch the chicks more than the thermometer. They will show you if the temperature is right—no matter what the thermometer reads. Watch them constantly during the first week as this is the critical period.

With the present price of butter it is not advisable to churn at home with the idea of selling butter. Butter for home use may be secured by trading one pound of butter-fat for one pound of butter at your local creamery, and this saves the work of churning. Dairy butter usually sells for from 5 to 10 cents cheaper than creamery butter. A steady and regular trade for the butter made is an exceptional case.

If you did not select hills of potatoes in the field last fall now is a good time to pick out especially good tubers for the special seed plot this spring. Medium sized potatoes well filled out at the ends, free from any tendency toward being spindly are best. Potatoes with rather deep eyes for the variety are often more stem end diseased. Those with the stem end diseased are not suitable.

With pasture season coming on there is often a desire to discontinue feeding grain to the cows to a great extent if not entirely. Cows well fed during the winter, says N. C. Jamison, college extension dairyman will milk well for a short time with little change in the amount of milk produced although the grain ration has been decreased. When the stored surplus of food material has been "milked off" the cows reduce in flesh, especially when they feed on "washy" early pastures. A gradual change from grain to pasture tends to prevent the loss of flesh. After the pastures have become strong less grain is required.

Feeding season is here and both the mare and foal require care, says

Have You a Cough?

Here's How to Get Rid of the Cough and Rebuild the Body

Portland, Ore.—A few years ago I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs and in the bronchial tubes. I had a severe cough, and became so bad that for six weeks I could not lie down, would have to sit up in a morris chair. I doctored but did not get any better. I was all in physically, and began myself to think there was no help for me, when I was advised by one of my doctors to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine so completely relieved me of my trouble that I have never had any return of it. My lungs and bronchials are strong and never give me any trouble.—Mrs. Audrey Savin, 693 Tacoma Ave.
Obtain this "Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's in tablets or liquid at your nearest drug store and you'll quickly find that it builds you up, besides correcting your distress. Write Dr. Pierce's Invaluable Hotel Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. Send 10c for trial pkg. tablets.

Dr. B. T. Simms, veterinarian of the experiment station. If possible, and the weather conditions permit the mare should be allowed to foal outside. In case the mare must foal inside, the stall should be well bedded and kept absolutely clean. The stump of the naval cord should not be tied off. As soon as the animal is born the cord should be treated with tincture of iodine and then antiseptic powder applied.

Lettuce acreage in Oregon will probably be smaller this year than last. At least there will be no outstanding increase as has been the case the past few years. Many sections are reporting smaller plantings than last year because prices last year did not come up to expectations.

COUNTY TAXES ARE COMING IN RAPIDLY

Taxes are coming in about as usual, according to Charles Roberts, chief of the tax collecting department of the county. Already the county has taken in approximately $150,000 and a total of 3,800 receipts have been issued. Approximately 20,000 statements have been sent out. The heavy taxpayers have not yet turned in their money, as the railroad company and other corporations, saying large sums each year wait until the last moment in order to have the use of the money as long as possible. Up to the present time, Mr. Roberts reports, the taxes are coming in very nicely as compared with other years. Many persons are mailing in their payments, which is a great saving to the department, as it makes it possible to get along with less additional help than would otherwise be required, and at the same time permits the records to be kept with fewer errors.
