Woman's Statement Will Help Roseburg

"I hated cooking because all I ate turned sour and formed gas. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped until I used Adlerika." Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes all gas and poisons. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Helps any case gas on the stomach in 7-10 minutes. Nathan Fullerton, druggist.

BOTH PARTIES ARE DISCREDITED

Speaker at Republican Meeting Says Democrats Aimed at G. O. P. and Hit U. S.

UNITY IS DEMANDED

Senator Pepper Delivers Stinging Key Note Address Before State Convention in Portland, Maine.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

PORTLAND, Me., April 2.—Senator Pepper, in endeavoring to inflame the passions of the republican party, have succeeded in discrediting both the great political parties, Senator Pepper, republican, Pennsylvania, declared in a "key-note" address here today before the republican state convention.

This discrediting process has reached the point, Senator Pepper asserted, "that an irresponsible and highly dangerous third party has actually suggested itself to the extremists as a practical possibility."

The democrats, he added, "have aimed at us and hit America."

"I am here today," the senator stated, "to affirm my belief that the democratic party has recently forfeited whatever claim to public confidence it may have possessed. I am here to register my conviction that upon us who call ourselves the followers of Lincoln, rests the weighty responsibility of strengthening and safeguarding the republic."

"Republicans of Maine, this is the task to which I summon you a task which should stimulate the enthusiasm of every man and woman who holds the republican tradition and is ready to go forward to victory under the leadership of Calvin Coolidge."

"But at this point, an effort is certain to be made by somebody to distract attention from the great problems which await solution and to confuse judgement by giving to the names of three officers in the great republican army an importance not in the least justified by the facts."

"When sensible people are waiting to be told about the president's position on public questions and what the party is attempting to accomplish for good government, somebody is sure to shout 'how about Forbes?' 'How about Fall?' 'How about Daugherty?' Thereupon we find ourselves showered with threats and accusations in which a modicum of truth is obscured by a mass of fiction."

"The appointment of Forbes as head of the veterans' bureau and of Fall as secretary of the interior have proved to be terrible mistakes; while selection of Mr. Daugherty to have been a grave error in judgment."

"When I say this I am speaking of the mistakes, not of the living but of the dead; of the mistakes of a beloved leader whose virtues were many and whose lapses were few—of a leader who left behind him a catalogue of notable achievements and who gave life for you and for me as truly as any soldier who ever died in battle."

"When any man for campaign purposes or to gain a partisan advantage undertakes to disturb the repose of that leader I brand him as a political ghoul and declare him to be unfit for the society of decent people."

"Turning aside from what he dominated as a 'scandal' Senator Pepper charged that the democrats, making the most of their advantage in congress for partisan political reasons, have 'created a situation in which constructive legislation is difficult, if not impossible.'

"During the residue of this session," he said, "we shall do what we can to move forward in the right direction and rely upon great popular public endorsement which we expect to receive next November to give us the momentum necessary to complete our program."

Senator Pepper declared an effort would be made in the senate to diminish the damage done to the Mellon tax plan in the house, but that the result "is in grave doubt." He added that the president and Mr. Mellon have at any rate, forced the democrats into a position from which they must agree to a horizontal 25 per cent reduction in the taxes payable in 1924 or else "face the wrath of an angry country."

Senator Pepper said his territory would link the name of Alexander Hamilton with that of Andrew W. Mellon as the greatest of the financial geniuses of the country and that in view of this, the proposal to "investigate" Mr. Mellon "made in the senate the other day should receive on all sides the condemnation it deserves."

Declaring that the government had done less for farmers in general than for other economic groups, the speaker said the constant effort of wise legislators would be to reduce the spread between the farmer's price and the consumer's price. Two dangers are to be guarded against, he went on, one an "emotional relief" wasted money without doing good and the other, sectional legislation.

With the problems of guarding child life, of enforcing the prohibition and other laws, and of caring for disabled soldiers, Senator Pepper linked the problem of so restricting immigration that American institutions and ideals will not be submerged by an in-rolling tide.

Coming to foreign affairs, Senator Pepper declared that no nation had ever played a more unselfish or helpful part in the life of other nations than has the United States. "During the present session of congress," he said, "we have ratified 20 treaties with other powers. What we have resolutely refused to do is to refuse friendly attitudes with entanglements." The speaker declared the United States would have no relation with the league of nations, but that if through conference or otherwise it could help establish an international court of justice, that would in reality be a world court it would certainly do so.

COSHOW PRAISES UMPQUA VALLEY IN ADDRESS

If the state as a whole is to show the advance in industry and marketing conditions, it behooves each community to cooperate with the other cities of the state, as what one community can do for the other is directly aiding all other parts of the state. Judge O. P. Coshow of the Oregon State supreme court, said this noon, at the weekly luncheon of the chamber of commerce.

"Transportation facilities to the central part of the state are far inadequate, and I am of the opinion that this state would go forward by leaps and bounds were there sufficient railroads to make it possible to ship out produce," the justice said. "I am personally satisfied that the recent steps taken by the state of Washington are due to her transportation facilities."

Considerable of the speaker's time was given to the explaining of the wonders of the Umpqua valley.

Following the luncheon, members of the committees who were assisting in the state chamber of commerce drive, met to reorganize. About $1300 has been raised here and plans are held for at least $700 more, according to T. B. Kay.

Simple Home Treatment For Swollen Veins.

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunions, the best advice that anyone in this world can give is to get a prescription that many physicians are now prescribing.

Ask Nathan Fullerton for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you will notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. Emerald Oil is a powerful, yet harmless germicide and results are guaranteed.
