Costume Ball Was Smart Affair of Week

One of the smartest affairs on the social calendar for the winter season was the costume ball on Tuesday evening, when the members of the L. F. T. dancing club departed themselves merrily at the K. of P. hall wearing the gay costumes of other nations, the childish dress of long ago, and the clownish attire of the fun maker.

Each guest on entering received a toy balloon, and the grand march which started at nine was more comical than dignified. Led by Fred Haynes and Mrs. Roy Catching as a clown and a Swedish girl, the various costumes were charming and mirth provoking. Mrs. Fred Haynes was a sweet old fashioned girl, and Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Wells attractive little youngsters in rompers, and riding kiddie cars. Mrs. Jack Wharton was a lovely Spanish lady, and Mrs. H. L. Stapleton a geisha girl, while Mrs. A. A. Wilder, Mrs. W. L. Dwyer, Mrs. B. P. Chilson, and Mrs. Archie Taylor were demure Red Cross nurses. The ubiquitous quack doctor with his list of pills and remedies was portrayed by Archie Taylor, Jack Wharton was another childish youngster in pink bloomers, and Charley McElhinney a freed fisher boy. Mrs. Glenn Wimbler and Miss Edith Miller were a pair of modest Colonial ladies, and Mrs. Victor Peterson, Mrs. George Wharton and Mrs. Fred Winston romantic gypsy maids. Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Garretson as flower characters were as tough as one could wish them, and Mrs. Nathan Fullerton a graceful Fatima.

Clowns of all sizes and shapes excoriated their prerogative in jokes and fun. Mrs. C. A. Lockwood making a most realistic feminine fun maker. Mr. Lockwood was a dashing Spanish courtier, Mrs. Story Hies a laughable country jake, and Mrs. Ray B. Compton, and Mrs. Charley McElhinney sweet little girls in ribbons and waxes.

One of the feature dances had all day suckers as its principal adjunct, and after the dancing, for which the Melody Boys played, refreshments were served.

Interesting Topics Discussed at Club

Two interesting topics, Thrift and the Conservation of Forests were under discussion at the meeting of the Roseburg Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. A. C. Marsters, Tuesday. The first subject was discussed in an interesting manner by J. H. Booth, and the second by Carl B. Neel. Musical numbers followed the talks and discussion, including a vocal solo by Mrs. Wm. Hiney with Mrs. Arthur Knauss at the piano, a reading by Miss Daphne Hughes, and several numbers by Mrs. Young's orchestra.

Mrs. E. C. Hale, Mrs. T. M. Ollivant, Mrs. Jack Ponder, Mrs. A. C. Marsters were in charge of the program. Mrs. William Cobb, Mrs. P. A. Benin, Mrs. Jennelle Small, Mrs. W. W. Bonebrake, and Miss Lucetta Smith of the refreshments.

At the next meeting of the club, April 15, delegates to the State Federation convention which meets in May at Oregon City, will be elected.

Friends of Mrs. B. P. Shields will be glad to know that she is improving after being confined to her home for several weeks with tonsillitis and subsequent infection.

Where Recipes Are Born

Most of us probably think that recipes are just made up. But the aristocratic recipe comes into the world with a great deal of pomp and circumstance and is given careful home training before it reaches the housewife's cook book or her kitchen stove. Here is a small corner of the big, white kitchen in the home economics department of the Procter and Gamble Company where recipes are conceived, perfected, tabulated, tried and tested before they are given to the housewives of the nation. The nut doughnuts on the table are just as

Federated Music Clubs to Meet in Convention

The announcement of the Annual Convention of the Oregon Federation of Music Clubs to be held in Portland on May 2nd, is an interesting one to musical circles, and several prominent music patrons from Roseburg will attend. Mrs. John Lyons, the brilliant national president, and Mrs. Cecil Frankel, the first vice president, will be honor guests on that occasion.

The official bulletin of the Oregon Federated Music Clubs has the following to say concerning the convention:

The Annual Convention of the Oregon Federation of Music Clubs will be held on May 2nd, in Portland, the place of meeting being announced later. Mrs. John F. Lyons, our brilliant national president, and Mrs. Cecil Frankel, the first vice president, will be honor guests on that occasion. It is hoped that every federated organization in the state will be represented by its president and as many delegates as its membership entitles it to send. It is also to be desired that others interested in the work in a general way, or those wishing to acquaint themselves with the aims and objectives of the National Federation of Music Clubs; or those who would like to meet Mrs. Lyons, and hear her talk; or such as are interested to learn more about the great National Convention which will be held in Portland in June 1925; that all such will register for the banquet. Communicate with Miss Elizabeth Johnson, state secretary, 301 Tilden Building, Portland if interested. Begin to plan for attendance now.

Bubar's Hosts to Friends on Friday

To play five hundred, and enjoy a social evening together, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Bubar invited a number of intimate friends to their home on Friday evening. Seated about the card tables were Mr. and Mrs. John Enger, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heidline, Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Washington Hughes, Miss Elsie Robinson and Dean Bubar. Beautiful clusters of white narcissus were attractively placed about the room. Luncheon was served at the card tables after the cards were put away.

Engagement of Edward Aikens Is Announced

The announcement of the engagement of Edward Aikens, a former Roseburg boy, is an interesting one to the younger set here. The engagement of Mr. Aikens to Aletia Ahlson of Portland was recently announced. Mr. Aikens is the son of A. L. Aikens of Roseburg, and since his graduation from Oregon Agricultural College in 1923 in mechanical engineering has been employed at Seattle. Miss Ahlson is a 1921 graduate in Home Economics, and is teaching in the Portland grade schools.

Mrs. G. Keppeler, of La Crosse, Wisconsin, is a guest of her niece Mrs. Fred Schwartz. Mrs. Keppeler has spent the winter in California, and is enroute to her home.

Mrs. V. M. Peterson has been at Albany for several days visiting with her mother Mrs. Henrietta Davis. Mrs. Peterson will return to Roseburg Sunday.

Prominent Reedsport Girl to Be Married

Announcements are out for the wedding of Miss Laura Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Reed, who has been assisting in her father's office for the past few months, and Lloyd Knapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Knapp, pioneers of Curry county. The wedding will take place Saturday.

Miss Reed is a graduate of St. Helen's Hall and one of the most popular and well known young ladies in the Lower Umpqua district.

Mr. Knapp is at present managing his father's large ranch in Curry county. Until last winter he was employed at Marshfield, for about a year but he has spent virtually all his life in Curry county.

This wedding will unite two of the pioneer families of southwestern Oregon.—Reedsport Courier.

Social Circle Has Annual Meeting

The ladies of the Sylvan Valley Social circle spent Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ernest Sharp, occupying the hours with the cutting and sewing of glove blocks for a friendship quilt. This was the annual meeting of the organization so the yearly report of all the meetings was read, and notice called to the fact that a great many changes had been made during the past year in the rules and membership. Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. O. Houser, president; Mrs. E. Sharp, vice-president; Mrs. C. W. Bradford, Secretary and Treasurer.

A pleasant feature of the afternoon was the distribution of pictures of the group which was presented at the home of Mrs. O. Martin recently.

Spending the day with Mrs. Sharp were Mrs. Fern Woods, Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. Penny, Mrs. Houser, Sr., Mrs. O. C. Houser, Mrs. Mary Teeter, Mrs. Florence Bodie, Mrs.

Walter Belcher, Mrs. O. Martin, Mrs. C. W. Bradford, Mrs. Teeter will be the next hostess to the club on April 17.

The regular social evening of the Eastern Star was an event of Thursday of this week. After the business meeting, several vocal selections by Mrs. Wm. Hiney were featured, and dainty refreshments were served.

Interesting Meeting of Aid Society Thursday

An attendance numbering sixty was present at the meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon, greeting the newly installed officers for the ensuing year.

The retiring officers presided during the forepart of the meeting and with the customary remarks, turned over the gavel and books to the incoming officers. Mrs. Chas. Parrott, in behalf of a number of the aid members, presented, Miss Frank Powell and Mrs. W. W. Ashcraft with dainty personal gifts commending them upon their conscientious work during the past year.

Among the many club meetings of the week, was the gathering of the Ladies of the Nimble Thimble at the home of Miss Florence Kohlhaugen on Friday evening. A gay spring like arrangement of cherry blossoms and flowering peach adorned the attractive rooms where the club members sewed and chatted. Luncheon was served at small tables to Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Beulah Jarvis, Miss Myrtle Henderson, Miss Minnie Easton, Miss Maude Bridges, Miss Katherine Merrill, Miss Vernita Kohlhaugen, Miss Mildred Parks, Miss Winnifred Bates, and Miss Kohlhaugen.

Several Parties Will Go to Eugene Monday

Several notice parties will go to Eugene on Monday to attend "Sally," the Ziegfeld musical comedy at the Helix theatre on that evening. "Sally" played for nearly two years in New York, and has only played the larger cities of the east. Theatre goers at Eugene and nearby towns feel very fortunate that they are enabled to see a Folies show, and seat reservations have been made from many places in Southern Oregon. Leon Errol is the star comedian, and is one of the foremost comedians in the United States. This is the last season of "Sally" as Mr. Ziegfeld will open with a new musical comedy for Mr. Errol next year.

Mrs. Dave Busenbark Hostess to M. F. Club

Another enjoyable meeting of last week was that of the M. F. Club of Melrose at the home of Mrs. Dave Busenbark. Social conversation and needle work occupied the ladies before a dainty luncheon was served to Mrs. John Busenbark, Mrs. Chas. Fredericksen, Mrs. Royce Busenbark, Mrs. Henry Conn, Mrs. Floyd Anakin, Mrs. Dan Egler, Mrs. George Kruse,

The Dance of the Six Veils

THESE young society women of New York, called the "Dancing Debutantes," have outdone the theatrical world of the metropolis by the thoroughly professional manner in which they have put over a series of cabaret and vaudeville performances, "The Veils," for the benefit of Greenwich House. Here they are pictured in a fashion number entitled "Because You Love Me Things," illustrating the latest mode of wearing that new thing of feminine accessories, the veil. The girls are the Virginia Wilson, Dorothy Petty, Beatrice, Florence, and Katherine Kelley and U. Cassan.

Mrs. Tense Busenbark, Mrs. Clifford Mabley, Mrs. Frank Oliver, Mrs. E. R. Fenn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor and daughter, and Mrs. James Goodman, Jr., and daughter, motored to Portland on Wednesday to be the guests of friends for the remainder of the week.

Housewarming at New Laurelwood Home

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Berg, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burr arranged a pleasant surprise on Saturday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knauss who have recently moved to their charming new home in Laurelwood Addition. Thirty six friends of Mr. and Mrs. Knauss met at the Bert Bates home in Laurelwood, and went in a body to surprise them. Cards and music entertained the party, and a delicious luncheon brought by the guests was served.

Spending the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Knauss were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Devaney, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bates, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. VANILLA WAFERS

Vanilla wafers are dainty little cookies that may be served at a children's party without danger of giving the little folks anything too rich or heavy. Cream together a third of a cup of mixed lard and a cup of sugar add quarter of a cup of milk with two teaspoons of vanilla in it. Stir thoroughly together two and a quarter cups of white flour, two level teaspoons of baking powder and half a teaspoon of salt. Add to the first mixture and roll out as thin as possible. Cut with a small round cutter (a big silver napkin ring with a sharp edge makes a good cutter) and bake in a moderate oven.

PASTRY HINTS

For pastry and cake making, butter that is very salty should be washed before being used. A good tough butter makes the best cream and the lightest cake.

Where baking powder is used in cakes it should be sifted in the flour. All flour for pastry and cakes should be thoroughly sifted before using, to make the cake light and the pastry tender.

CHILD WELFARE

One of the child welfare movements fostered by the International Council of Women, which has 34 affiliated councils in 25 countries is for the enactment in each of these countries of legislation giving babies born out of wedlock the right to the father's name and providing a procedure to find the paternity of the father and secure the child an adequate maintenance.

NUT CANDY

Boil two cups of sugar with a cup of water and two tablespoons of vinegar without stirring until it is crisp in water. Stir in two cups of chopped nuts—almonds are nice but if you haven't them peanuts will do. Four

Shingle Follows the Bob

NEW YORK April 5.—The Parisian decided early in the winter that hair should be long and sleek and drawn tightly behind the ears if one was to be "chic."

"Eyes," wrote a Parisian connoisseur of feminine beauty "are not the Parisian's only claim to beauty. The sheppink ear is quite as fascinating as the eye."

American girls are often rather slow about accepting the Parisian's verdict on beauty. They will accept their silhouette, their hats and their shoes without a moment's hesitation, but when it comes to accepting their palls, their darkened eyelids, their ears or their hair—Gee! Gracious! That is something to ponder over!

The American girls were quite willing to give their Parisian sister an "eye" for an "eye" but when it came to giving them an "ear for an ear"—well, that was a different matter. "The bob is dead! Live a long hair!" shouted the Parisian.

But the Americans refused to believe that the bob was dead, or if it was dead they refused to let the dead rest. They clipped and cut and curled and permanently waved in spite of the bob's demise.

Now, as spring approaches, the Parisians are reversing their opinions. Not only are they returning to the bob, but to the ransha hair-cut, the shingle. And the Americans are agreeing with them unanimously. The shingle is the thing! The last word! Le Derniere Mot!

All Getting a Shingle

Everyone from Grandmother down to the baby is getting a shingle. Grandmother realized that the Flit Island effects of previous seasons were not for her but the close-cropped shingle is a different matter.

And, strange to say, this is the first time that the bob has ever actually approached its doom since coming into style. People have been saying for years that short hair was going out, but it didn't go out. It came in with a bang! A real bang on the forehead! But the very preponderance with which it has entered in the fashion world might mark its doom. Over-popularity might hasten its demise. At any rate, we won't write the obituaries of the bob until the time for obituaries are due. Everybody is cutting and clipping. Certain families have enough clipped hair about the house to start a hair watch-chain factory. The second hand man is knocking at our doors asking: "Any old clothes, shoes, hair?" And the scissors sharpeners cry: "Scissors to grind?" whenever he sees a woman out into buttered pans and let cool enough to pull. Or you can leave it in the kettle and stir it until it is white, then spread on buttered plates to cool and break into squares.

"The debutante should" result of the lady and part of walking room. A number of young women, by others, it is not only health, but is necessary to be attractive. Both new and old are to be remembered in well-groomed hair. It is alive than the most elaborate

A DINNER MENU
If you are planning to give a dinner party, here is a good menu: not too elaborate for the usual housewife to prepare:

Fried Oysters with Tartar Sauce
Roast Chicken
Rice Croquettes
Salad made of Lettuce, Asparagus
Tips and Red Pepper
Cheese Wafers
A Pineapple Mousse
Small Cups of Coffee

POISE IN WALKING.
Poise and balance of bearing are first in importance of things to be remembered when walking in public.

BABY'S PILLOW
The baby's pillow should be with hair, never with down because it is more likely to cause a cold. It should never be used to support the head. It is better to use a well-groomed hair.

SETTING COUL
To set curls which are wavy, wash the hair in water containing oxgall and wash them
