JUDGE HAMILTON GUEST OF HONOR

Judge J. W. Hamilton was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the Coos County Bar association at Marshfield last Saturday. In speaking of the banquet the Coos Bay Times says:

One of the most pleasant affairs in many days was a dinner given Judge Hamilton at the Chandler hotel Saturday evening by the Coos County Bar association. It was tendered as a tribute to his profession and personal assurance of the high esteem in which he is held as a man and a citizen as well as a judge by the members of the Coos County Bar.

Justice J. J. Stanley presided as chairman and toastmaster and presented John D. Goss who gave the address of welcome. In the course of his talk Goss paid fitting tribute to Judge Hamilton as a man and a jurist, saying that he tried his first case in Coos county before Judge Hamilton and hoped and expected that his last would be before the same tribunal. Several bits of play by Goss offered fun as well as interest for the guests.

Judge Hamilton responded with a most interesting and entertaining talk in which tribute to the high calling of the legal profession was blended with reminiscences of early days in Coos county where the judge began his career in the law. He said that during the day Dr. J. T. McCormac, one of the pioneers, recalled to him the days when J. W. Bennett, Dr. McCormac and himself were studying law together. Dr. McCormac later farmed the law for medicine. Judge Hamilton said that he could scarcely realize that these days were 47 years back. He then mentioned the pioneer attorneys of Coos Bay, Siglin, Watson, Grundy, Owen, and later Gray and Hazard. The Coos Bay bar has always occupied a high place in the profession in the state and some acknowledgment must be made to the high early day lawyers. The judge then took occasion to compliment Coos Bay which he said had become a synonym of progress and a symbol of advancement in material prosperity and yet preserved its ideals.

Justice Stanley next called on C. F. McKnight, who made a most interesting informal talk that at times rose to the heights of eloquence. He said that in the absence of A. J. Sherwood, who was prevented from attending because of illness, he, McKnight, was probably the oldest, not in years but in Coos county legal practice of any of the attorneys present. He then commended Judge Hamilton's long service on the bench and lauded his worth as a jurist and a citizen. In an entertaining address he praised the high standards of the pioneer attorneys and related many interesting incidents. At the conclusion of Mr. McKnight's address the meeting adjourned.

Those Present.
 Among those present were Judge Hamilton, J. J. Stanley, C. F. McKnight, John D. Goss, Hugh Barclay, T. T. Bennett, M. W. Skipworth, A. E. Seaman, Wesley Seaman, Ben Fisher, E. H. Joehnk, Jas. Watson, W. B. De ment, Claude H. Giles, E. Lothard McClure, J. T. Brand, F. S. Bynon, A. S. Hammond, M. C. Maloney.

dorsement by, or action, on the part of the allied governments. His Majesty's government, will for their part, be prepared to take whatever steps may be necessary to give the effect to them."

The reply is signed by Sir William Tyrrell, assistant under-secretary, in the absence of the secretary.

The Italian reply, after saying the Italian government considers the experts' report of the highest value, continues:

"The contents of two reports being considered as an indivisible whole, the all Italian government notes with satisfaction that the reparation commission adopts them in their entirety and is sure the commission will be able now rapidly to continue its work."

The reply is signed by Premier Mussolini.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
 PARIS, April 26.—The presence of J. P. Morgan in Paris is causing a flutter in French political quarters. His conversations with the members of the reparation commission, began at a dinner in his honor last evening, were resumed today and will be continued tonight when he is to meet M. Robineau, governor of the Bank of France; M. Francois Marshall, minister of finance and other political and financial personages.

Mr. Morgan was never more reserved as to what is taking place than now, regarding an international loan for Germany has been others. He is understood to have said in effect that the details of such a loan can not be discussed at present and that only the general principles can be considered. The situation has not changed essentially, he believes, since the meetings of the international bankers' committee two years ago. If a settlement of the reparation question is made on the basis of the Dawes report, he thinks American investors probably will be willing to take part in the German loan; it will be necessary, however, to have the conviction to have full security.

PARIS, April 26.—France's reply to the reparation commission regarding the experts' reports was written by Premier Poincare.

After saying he had studied the reports with the greatest interest, the reply continues:

"They fulfill exactly the tasks assigned them by the commission and form an extremely interesting and complete whole and I can only congratulate myself on having taken the initiative in requesting the French delegate on the reparation commission to propose the convocation of the experts. I am glad to take this opportunity of paying tribute to the great competence they have shown to their impartiality and to their appreciation of the actual facts."

PARIS, April 26.—M. Poincare warns the reparation commission that it must be in a position to find out whether Germany has taken the measures necessary to carry out the commission's decision. He stresses the point that no decision can be taken until the commission has approved the drafts of laws and decrees it has required Germany to submit for the execution of the plan and he reiterates that only after that decision with the allies be in a position to arrive at their own decision.

"Under the circumstances, the German and allied governments' cannot, in fact, be placed on the same footing," he continued. "Germany is entitled to a just opportunity to be heard," the premier's reply goes on, "but afterward he says, the reparation commission must then 'give a decision with all the authority the treaty confers upon it.'"

LETTERS GIVEN TO SCHOOL ATHLETES

One of the most interesting assemblies of the year was held at the high school yesterday afternoon at which time various scholastic rewards for the year were presented. At the opening of the assembly Jack Shields, accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Heinlein, played three of his pleasing cornet solos.

Basketball letters were then presented by the coach, Miss Ring, to the following girls: Gladys Veltain, captain, Marie Lane, Helen Ferguson, Louise Douglas, Alice Post, Aloia Draper, Gertrude Craig, Ruth Collins, and Carrie Gilbert, manager. Coach Larson made a short talk, briefly reviewing the work of the year and then awarded letters to the basketball boys and manager. Those receiving letters were: Bill Burr, captain, Phil Singleton, Wally Rapp, Guy Perrin, Harold Irwin, Ray Jost, and Hall Seely, manager. Orange Old English "Rs," were given to the yell leaders, Kenneth Chilson and Merle Clark, and a letter was given to Kenneth Clark field manager for the football season.

Coach Larson in behalf of the athletic men then presented to Dr. A. C. Seely, a large picture of the first and second teams of football in action and a panel action picture of the basketball team. These pictures were given to Dr. Seely by the coach and athletic men to show their appreciation for his untiring efforts and services to the men during the athletic seasons. For the past two years Dr. Seely has been at the service of the boys at all times and has been of unestimated value to them. To show the appreciation of the student body for the efforts of Dr. Seely, Phil Singleton, presented him with a beautiful black sweater with two orange stripes on the sleeve to represent two years of service to the high school.

Kenneth Clark, president of the Junior class presented to the student body a check for $175 as the first pay body for the athletic field which the high school recently decided to purchase.

FIRES RAGING IN OREGON COUNTRY

are organizing to meet a fire emergency.

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 26.—The North Fork Lumber company plant valued at $150,000, the school house and three residences at Yale, on the North Fork of the Lewis river in Clarke county, a Washington, were burned to cinders when the forest fire which had been fought today broke from control. At Veneburg the cooperative cannery, valued at about $5,000, several large barns and one dwelling were wiped out by the flames.

The ranch and outbuildings of F. Powell, residing at 71th Plains was destroyed by flames, spreading from adjoining forests.

Crows were dispatched to Yaocell early this morning to protect the light plant, one and a half miles from the town. It was encircled by burning timber. The Clarke county timber company's horse shoe bridge near Yaocell was also threatened but at noon was said to be safe.

Numerous fires are burning over an area about 20 miles square in the northern part of the county.

SEATTLE, April 26.—Numerous blazes in brush or on logged-off land were reported today from the country immediately south of Seattle.

Between Black river Junction and Steel Station, flames had swept 800 acres and approached the mouth of the Heacon hill coal mine. There was a fire between Orillia and Ronton Junction, and several along the Des Moines highway.

In the lake Hurien-Three Tree point region residents fought hard in the night to save their homes.

LONGVIEW, Wash., April 26.—The forest fire near the Bar Logging company's camp in the Upper Coweman river district, is threatening the adjoining camp of Berton Lampher and three Cowitz county bridges, according to word received at the sheriff's office at Kelso today. Men have been rushed to the scene. Wires are down and communication is cut off. V. O. Wallace of Chehalis, district fire warden, is expected to arrive to direct the fighters.

CROWD COMING FOR DEDICATION

were chosen and the movement launched.

It was at first supposed that the event would attract only a limited number of people in this immediate community, but the plan struck a popular chord, and tomorrow there will be thousands of people present to show their gratitude. Although the event has grown far past the expectations of the various committees, the arrangements have kept pace with the progress, and it is believed that every necessary detail has been given attention.

Roseburg tomorrow will be host to more people than have perhaps ever visited the city at any one time before. These guests will be met by a committee composed of Mayor Rice and the members of the various clubs, fraternities and organizations of the city, and other citizens. Cars will be placed at the disposal of the visitors during the morning hours in order to enable them to visit various points of interest in the community.

It has been proposed that the streets be decorated with the flags which were recently procured. These make beautiful and appropriate decorations with but little effort and would add much to the occasion.

A slight alteration has been made in the plans. In order not to interfere with the morning church services the band concert will not take place until 12:30 o'clock instead of noon as originally announced. The Eugene band will play in front of the Umpqua hotel for a short time prior to leaving for Winchester. The Roseburg band will play only at the bridge.

The program will start promptly at 1:30 p. m. Because of the huge crowd which will be present it will be necessary for everyone to follow the instructions which will be given them at the grounds. A plan has been arranged for parking the cars and Boy Scouts and traffic officers will notify motorists where their cars should be placed. Everyone is asked to cooperate by obeying the instructions without question or delay.

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 25.—A woman reserves the right to change her mind, and this is just what Miss Beatrice Cooley of Portland did on coming to Marshfield on a telephone message from an admirer.

The woman was to be married here according to friends, but along came M. W. Brehm, of Portland, Miss Cooley having known Mr. Brehm well and favorably, had told him of her object in coming to Coos Bay. M. W. Brehm is well known in Roseburg and visits this territory frequently. His many friends here will be pleased to hear of his marriage and several have already wired their congratulations.

Under the prodding of Chairman Smoot and Senator Jones, New Mexico, the senate went ahead yesterday with what was described as "almost record speed in considering a revenue bill."

IMMIGRATION BILL DISSECTED BY SOLONS

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Senate and house conferees took up differences between their respective immigration bills today while President Coolidge proceeded with efforts to work out an arrangement that would avoid any affront to Japan and at the same time satisfy advocates of the Japanese exclusion provision overwhelmingly incorporated in both measures.

Although it was made known at the White House yesterday that an attempt was being made to bring about a compromise on the immigration question no indication was given of its trend by officials or callers who discussed the subject with President Coolidge.

Chairman Colt of the senate committee, who conferred with the president on the exclusion provision yesterday also attended the opening session of the conferees but he did not disclose whether he carried any proposal from the White House to the conference room.

The question of a presidential veto if the projected arrangement fails remains a matter of speculation in the absence of any indication of the executive's intentions in such an event.
